A Pedagogy of Responsibility Rebecca A. Martusewicz,2018-09-03 Drawing on the theories of author and conservationist Wendell Berry for the field of EcoJustice Education this book articulates a pedagogy of responsibility as a three pronged approach grounded in the recognition that our planet balances an essential and fragile interdependence between all living creatures Examining the deep cultural roots of social and ecological problems perpetuated by schools and institutions Martusewicz identifies practices relationships beliefs and traditions that contribute to healthier communities She calls for imaginative re thinking of education as an ethical process based in a vision of healthy just and sustainable communities Using a critical analytical process Martusewicz reveals how values of exploitation mastery and dispossession of land and people have taken hold in our educational system and communities and employs Berry s philosophy and wisdom to interrogate and develop a pedagogy of responsibility as an antidote to such harmful ideologies structures and patterns Berry s critical work and the author s relatable storytelling challenge taken for granted perspectives and open new ways of thinking about teaching for democratic and sustainable communities

A Mindful Teaching Community Kelly Hanson,2017-09-29 A Mindful Teaching Community Possibilities for Teacher Professional

Learning describes a grassroots professional learning journey wherein a group of practicing classroom teachers researches their teaching practices and the role of mindfulness in their learning. Using a mix of methods, this book illustrates how the stories of an educator can be uncovered, investigated, and transformed through practicing mindfulness within a community. Through the stories told in this collection, the teachers learn to see greater connections between their individual ways of thinking, their actions, and the greater system they live and work in. The storied inquiry of the educators offers unique possibilities for teachers' professional learning.

Emancipatory Practices: Adult/Youth Engagement for Social and Environmental Justice, 2010-01-01 Adults and youth who are engaged in social and ecological justice in community and educational work will find this book a critical overview of the role played by adults in the joint endeavours of adults and youth. Through various case studies, the book offers a glimpse into the work being undertaken by a wide range of international educators and community development workers where common themes emerge across the different sites. The book explores the development of and the internal and external constraints upon adult and youth emancipatory practices as well as the effective adult and youth beliefs and actions that facilitate collaborative leadership in issues of social and ecological justice. The authors offer a critical examination of the degree to which youth are able to participate in decision-making processes or to the extent to which they were given space and power to truly explore democratic and dialogic partnerships. With an emphasis on the power dynamics inherent in adult-youth relationships and the potential of these relationships to engage in democratic transformation, the book examines the patterns, benefits, and limitations of the youth-adult connections.

Expanding Curriculum Theory William M. Reynolds, Julie A. Webber, 2016-04-28 Expanding Curriculum Theory Second Edition carries through the major focus of the original volume to reflect on the influence of Deleuze and Guattari's concept of lines of flight and its application to curriculum theorizing. What is different is that the lines of flight have since shifted and produced expanded understandings of this concept for curriculum theory and for education in general. This edition reflects the impact of events that have contributed to this shift, in particular the illogic of school policy changes and reforms in the past decade and the continued explosion of social media and its effect on the collective understanding of how both knowledge and education work as forms of repression. The introduction updates the text and puts it into current debates in the field and in the larger socio-economic milieu. New positions are presented that explore central questions circulating within and outside curriculum studies. Exciting scholarship on a range of topics includes notions of desire and commodities, youth culture and violence, new directions in curriculum theory, Eco-Ethical consciousness, new Deleuzian views of normality, the diffusion of technology, and lines of flight in transnational curriculum inquiry.
