Love After The Riots:

Love After the Riots Juan Felipe Herrera, 1996 A fin de siècle epic Juan Felipe Herrera's After the Riots chronicles a ten and a half hour love affair through the streets of Los Angeles revealing a world marred by chaos and redeemed by beauty These are wild poems that force us to consider the nature of our modern day lives the world around us and the prospect of love in the shadow of hopelessness

PR and Communication in Local Government and Public Services John Brown, Pat Gaudin, Wendy Moran, 2013-07-03 In the UK's current climate of budget cuts and policy changes local government officials need to be aware of best practice in both broadcasting their services and responding to crises in their communities Meanwhile changes in the media from the rise of social media to web access for older consumers present new challenges for local councils about how to best convey their key messages and protect their brand Full of expert advice tools and case studies from a variety of sources PR and Communication in Local Government and Public Services is a practical reference guide to delivering professional public relations for both communications and the delivery of local services It offers a detailed analysis of the issues that are unique to this challenging and fast moving environment whilst reinforcing the importance of effective and meaningful communication to both local democracy and the planning and delivery of quality services PR and Communication in Local Government and Public Services is also supported by a range of online resources including case studies appendices and a bonus chapter on local authority publicity About the PR in Practice series Published in collaboration with the Chartered Institute of Public Relations CIPR the PR in Practice series comprises accessible practical introductions to day to day issues of public relations practice and management The series action oriented approach keeps knowledge and skills up to date

Spilling the Beans in Chicanolandia Frederick Luis Aldama, 2010-01-01 Since the 1980s a prolific second wave of Chicano writers and artists has tremendously expanded the range of genres and subject matter in Chicano literature and art Building on the pioneering work of their predecessors whose artistic creations were often tied to political activism and the civil rights struggle today's Chicano writers and artists feel free to focus as much on the aesthetic quality of their work as on its social content They use novels short stories poetry drama documentary films and comic books to shape the raw materials of life into art objects that cause us to participate empathetically in an increasingly complex Chicano identity and experience This book presents far ranging interviews with twenty one second wave Chicano poets fiction writers dramatists documentary filmmakers and playwrights Some are mainstream widely recognized creators while others work from the margins because of their sexual orientations or their controversial positions Frederick Luis Aldama draws out the artists and authors on both the aesthetic and the sociopolitical concerns that animate their work Their conversations delve into such areas as how the artists or writers life experiences have molded their work why they choose to work in certain genres and how they have transformed them what it means to be Chicano in today's pluralistic society and how Chicano identity influences and is influenced by contact with ethnic and racial identities from around the world the World in Light Juan Felipe Herrera, 2008-01-01 Includes an audio CD of the author reading For nearly four decades Juan Felipe Herrera has documented his experience as a Chicano in the United States and Latin America through stunning memorable poetry that is both personal and universal in its impact themes and approach Often political never fainthearted his career has been marked by tremendous virtuosity and a unique sensibility for uncovering the unknown and the unexpected Through a variety of stages and transformations Herrera has evolved more than almost any other Chicano poet always re-inventing himself into a more mature and seasoned voice Now in this unprecedented collection we encounter the trajectory of this highly innovative and original writer bringing the full scope of his singular vision into view Beginning with early material from A Certain Man and moving through thirteen of his collections into new previously unpublished work this assemblage also includes an audio CD of the author reading twenty-four selected poems aloud Serious scholars and readers alike will now have available to them a representative set of glimpses into his production as well as his origins and personal development The ultimate value of bringing together such a collection however is that it will allow us to better understand and appreciate the complexity of what this major American poet is all about Cincinnati Magazine, 2001-08 Cincinnati Magazine taps into the DNA of the city exploring shopping dining living and culture and giving readers a ringside seat on the issues shaping the region Start a Riot! Casarae Lavada Abdul-Ghani, 2022-07-27 While the legacy of Black urban rebellions during the turbulent 1960s continues to permeate throughout US histories and discourses scholars seldom explore within scholarship examining Black Cultural Production artist writers of the Black Arts Movement BAM that addressed civil unrest specifically riots in their artistic writings Start a Riot: Civil Unrest in Black Arts Movement Drama Fiction and Poetry analyzes riot iconography and its usefulness as a political strategy of protestation Through a mixed methods approach of literary close reading historical and sociological analysis Casarae Lavada Abdul-Ghani considers how BAM artist writers like Amiri Baraka LeRoi Jones Ben Caldwell Gwendolyn Brooks Sonia Sanchez and Henry Dumas challenge misconceptions regarding Black protest through experimental explorations in their writings Representations of riots became more pronounced in the 1960s as pivotal leaders shaping Black consciousness such as Malcolm X and Martin Luther King Jr were assassinated BAM artist writers sought to override the public's interpretation in their literary exposés that a riot's disjointed and disorderly methods led to more chaos than reparative justice Start a Riot uncovers how BAM artist writers expose anti-Black racism and by extension the United States inability to compromise with Black America on matters related to citizenship rights housing insecurity economic inequality and education tenets emphasized during the Black Power Movement Abdul-Ghani argues that BAM artist writers did not merely write literature that reflected a spirit of protest in many cases they understood their texts themselves as acts of protest Opportunity Charles Spurgeon Johnson, 1969 A Hard Rain Fell David Barber, 2010-02-17 By the spring of 1969 Students for a Democratic Society SDS had reached its zenith as the largest most radical movement of white youth in American history a genuine New Left Yet less than a year later SDS splintered into warring factions and ceased to exist SDS's development and its dissolution grew directly out of the organization's relations with the black freedom movement the movement against the Vietnam War and the newly emerging struggle for women's liberation For a moment young white people could comprehend their world in new and revolutionary ways But New Leftists did not respond as a tabula rasa On the contrary these young people's consciousnesses their culture their identities had arisen out of a history which for hundreds of years had privileged white over black men over women and America over the rest of the world Such a history could not help but distort the vision and practice of these activists good intentions notwithstanding A Hard Rain Fell SDS and Why It Failed traces these activists in their relation to other movements and demonstrates that the New Left's dissolution flowed directly from SDS's failure to break with traditional American notions of race sex and empire

Place Marketing and Temporality Gary Warnaby, 2024-06-26 Much city marketing and branding activity is future oriented aimed at achieving a forward looking vision for places The aim of this activity is to attract visitors residents and or inward investment and focus on communicating attractive place attributes to create a differentiated spatial product that will appeal to particular target audiences In seeking to achieve this place marketing campaigns have been criticized for emphasizing generic attributes such as accessibility infrastructure and a skilled workforce which can serve to homogenize places which in reality are very different However a city's distinctive character is a consequence of its history and development over time and this book analyses the role of these temporal dimensions in place marketing and branding The book analyses how the past both material i e the historic built environment and intangible i e routines practices and the character of the populace is appropriated in order to sell the city into the future It acknowledges the inherent selectivity involved and discusses the factors influencing what is remembered from the past and equally importantly what is forgotten Adopting a range of theoretical approaches to understanding temporality in this context the book will appeal to advanced students academic researchers and reflexive place branding practitioners by introducing a temporal paradox incorporating both fixity the material and immaterial elements of the city s past and fluidity relating to the creation of the place product as a dynamic assemblage of individual elements and attributes aimed at particular target audiences
