Love's Knowledge Martha C. Nussbaum,1990 This volume brings together Nussbaum s published papers on the relationship between literature and philosophy especially moral philosophy The papers many of them previously inaccessible to non specialist readers deal with such fundamental issues as the relationship between style and content in the exploration of ethical issues the nature of ethical attention and ethical knowledge and their relationship to written forms and styles and the role of the emotions in deliberation and self knowledge Nussbaum investigates and defends a conception of ethical understanding which involves emotional as well as intellectual activity and which gives a certain type of priority to the perception of particular people and situations rather than to abstract rules She argues that this ethical conception cannot be completely and appropriately stated without turning to forms of writing usually considered literary rather than philosophical It is consequently necessary to broaden our conception of moral philosophy in order to include these forms Featuring two new essays and revised versions of several previously published essays this collection attempts to articulate the relationship within such a broader ethical inquiry between literary and more abstractly theoretical elements      Memory and Migration or courtly love lyric and from the self consciously literary tradition of Old French narrative poetry She demonstrates that the evolution of the lyrical romance and dit narrative poems which incorporate thematic and rhetorical elements of the lyric was responsible for a progressive redefinition of lyric poetry as a written medium and the emergence of an explicitly written literary tradition uniting lyric and narrative poetics Huot first investigates the nature of the vernacular book in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries analyzing organization page layout rubrication and illumination in a series of manuscripts She then describes the relationship between poetics and manuscript format in specific texts including works by widely read medieval authors such as Guillaume de Lorris Jean de Meun and Guillaume de Machaut as well as by lesser known writers including Nicole de Margival and Watriquet de Couvin Huot focuses on the writers characteristic modifications of lyric poetics their use of writing and performance as theme their treatment of the poet as singer or writer and of the lady as implied reader or listener and the ways in which these features of the text were elaborated by scribes and illuminators Her readings reveal how medieval poets and book makers conceived their common project and how they distinguished their respective roles
