Magical Thinking Poems:

Magical Thinking Joseph Duemer, 2001 Psychologists characterize thinking as a form of thought in which wishes and desires shape the reality we perceive. Such thinking is usually dismissed as delusional. But most human beings think magically most of the time and have done so throughout history. It is the kind of thinking that has produced cathedrals and symphonies, depravity and genocide. Joseph Duemer's poems attempt to shape his magical thinking into understandable forms. His poetry is an argument with science and religion which seek to establish themselves as systems that organize experience into stable meanings. Your Therapist Says It's Magical Thinking Sadie McCarney, 2023-04-18 Sadie McCarney's Your Therapist Says It's Magical Thinking is a buoyant second collection that playfully navigates the turbulent waters of life with mental illness and neurodivergence. In much of the book, history and science are treated the way they are often viewed by a brain in mental turmoil: places and events get switched around, facts get rewritten, and the fantastical reigns supreme. Through poems ranging from didactic to the horrible, self-care advice received by the poet when she was struggling most to historical fiction patients in an asylum in 1800s England to the quirky and unexpectedly fantastical, a rainbow carpool unicorn, a young child's timeline reversing each morning, and an everything bagel that includes competing theories of time, McCarney digs deep into the muck of her own lived experience. She resurfaces with, if not gold, at least an old-time capsule and a few treasured hunks of bone. Your Therapist Says It's Magical Thinking highlights the sometimes dubious but always jubilant inner workings of a mentally unwell brain at play, especially within the context of a larger society that frequently seeks to tamp down this weird and rare form of magic. How Poems Think Reginald Gibbons, 2015-09-23 To write or read a poem is often to think in distinctively poetic ways, guided by metaphors, sound, rhythms, associative movement, and more. Poetry's stance toward language creates a particular intelligence of thought and feeling, a compressed articulation that expands inner experience, imagining with words what cannot always be imagined without them. Through translation, poetry has diversified poetic traditions, and some of poetry's ways of thinking begin in the ancient world and remain potent even now. In How Poems Think, Reginald Gibbons presents a rich gallery of poetic inventiveness and continuity drawn from a wide range of poets: Sappho, Pindar, Shakespeare, Keats, William Carlos Williams, Marina Tsvetaeva, Gwendolyn Brooks, and many others. Gibbons explores poetic temperament, rhyme, metonymy, etymology, and other elements of poetry as modes of thinking and feeling. In celebration and homage, Gibbons attunes us to the possibilities of poetic thinking. Magical Thinking Xavier Pastrano, 2023 In Magical Thinking, poet Xavier Pastrano delivers a collection of poetry that explores and celebrates what it means to be multifaceted. He takes a candid look into the various roles and experiences of his life, roles and experiences that are unique to him yet also relatable to readers of various backgrounds and demographics. 100 Poems to Break Your Heart Edward Hirsch, 2021 We are not so much diminished as enlarged by grief by our refusal to vanish or to let others vanish without leaving a verbal record The poet is one who will not be reconciled who is determined to leave a trace in words to transform oceanic depths of feeling into the faithful nuances of art Poetry companions us Poems are written in solitude but they reach out to others which makes poetry a social act It rises out of one solitude to meet another Poems of terrible sadness and loss trouble and challenge us but they also make us feel less alone and more connected Our own desolations become more recognizable to us more articulate something shared We become less isolated in our sorrow and thus are befriended by the words of another There is something ennobling in grief that is compacted expressed and transfigured into poetry Book jacket
