Magomero Portrait Of An African Village:

Magomero Landeg White, 1989-09-14 Magomero is a vivid historical portrait of a Malawian village from 1859 to the present day. It focuses on a region which saw historically important political activity in the founding of a colony of freed slaves and the rising of an independent church movement against white estate owners. With the dual concerns of a Southern African specialist and a poet, Landeg White offers an inside view of social, political, and economic change in Malawi seen through the lives of individuals, the ordinary men and women whose situation and poverty have hitherto prevented recognition of their vital contribution to African history. Africa and the West: A Documentary History William H. Worger, Nancy L. Clark, Edward A. Alpers, 2010-02-02 Africa and the West presents a fascinating array of primary sources to engage readers in the history of Africa's long and troubled relationship with the West. Many of the sources have not previously appeared in print or in books readily available to students. Volume 1 covers two major topics: the Atlantic slave trade and the European conquest. It details the beginnings of the slave trade, slavery as a business, the experiences of slaves, and the effect of abolitionism on the trade, using such documents as a letter from a sixteenth-century African king to the king of Portugal calling for a more regulated slave trade and the nineteenth-century testimony of a South African slave accused of treason. The volume also covers the early nineteenth-century considerations of the costs and benefits of colonization, the development of conquest as the century progressed, with special attention to technology, legislation, empire, religion, racism, and violence through such unusual documents as Cecil Rhodes's will and a chart of the costs of African animals exported to Western zoos. Christianity and Public Culture in Africa Harri Englund, 2011-08-15 Christianity and Public Culture in Africa takes readers beyond familiar images of religious politicians and populations steeped in spirituality. It shows how critical reason and Christian convictions have combined in surprising ways as African Christians confront issues such as national constitutions, gender relations, and the continuing struggle with HIV/AIDS. The wide-ranging essays included here explore rural Africa and the continent's major cities, colonial and missionary legacies, and mass media images in the twenty-first century. They also reveal the diversity of Pentecostalism in Africa and highlight the region's remarkable denominational diversity. Scholars and students alike will find these essays timely and impressive. The contributors demonstrate how the public significance of Christianity varies across time and place. They explore rural Africa and the continent's major cities and colonial and missionary situations as well as mass-mediated ideas and images in the twenty-first century. They also reveal the plurality of Pentecostalism in Africa and keep in view the continent's continuing denominational diversity. Students and scholars will find these topical studies to be impressive in scope. Contributors: Barbara M. Cooper, Harri Englund, Marja Hinfelaar, Nicholas Kamau Goro, Birgit Meyer, Michael Perry, Kweku Okyerefo, Damaris Parsitau, Ruth Prince, James A. Pritchett, Ilana van Wyk. No More to Spend Luke Messac, 2020-03-16 Using the political and medical history of Malawi as a fundamental example, Luke Messac explains the relationship between a nation's political history and its approaches to health.

care Religion Versus Empire? Andrew Porter, 2004-10-29 This is the only book that addresses the relations between religion Protestant missions and empire building linking together all three fields of study by taking as its starting point the early eighteenth century Anglican initiatives in colonial North America and the Caribbean It considers how the early societies of the 1790s built on this inheritance and extended their own interests to the Pacific India the Far East and Africa Fluctuations in the vigor and commitment of the missions changing missionary theologies and the emergence of alternative missionary strategies are all examined for their impact on imperial expansion Other themes include the international character of the missionary movement Christianity's encounter with Islam and major figures such as David Livingstone the state and politics and humanitarianism all of which are viewed in a fresh light Worries of the Heart Kenda Mutongi, 2008-09-15 Growing up in the Maragoli community in Kenya Kenda Mutongi encountered a perplexing contradiction While the young teachers at her village school railed against colonialism many of her elders including her widowed mother praised their former British masters In this moving book Mutongi explores how both the challenges and contradictions of colonial rule and the frustrations and failures of independence shaped the lives of Maragoli widows and their complex relations with each other their families and the larger community Throughout the twentieth century and into the twenty first rates of widowhood have been remarkably high in Kenya Yet despite their numbers widows and their families exist at the margins of society and their lives act as a barometer for the harsh realities of rural Kenya Mutongi here argues that widows survive by publicly airing their social economic and political problems their worries of the heart Initially aimed at the men in their community and then their colonial rulers this strategy changed after independence as widows increasingly invoked the language of citizenship to demand their rights from the new leaders of Kenya leaders whose failure to meet the needs of ordinary citizens has led to deep disenchantment and altered Kenyans view of their colonial past An innovative blend of ethnography and historical research Worries of the Heart is a poignant narrative rich with insights into postcolonial Africa

The Idea of Development in Africa Corrie Decker, Elisabeth McMahon, 2020-10-29 The Idea of Development in Africa challenges prevailing international development discourses about the continent by tracing the history of ideas practices and problems of development used in Africa In doing so it offers an innovative approach to examining the history and culture of development through the lens of the development episteme which has been foundational to the idea of Africa in western discourses since the early 1800s The study weaves together an historical narrative of how the idea of development emerged with an account of the policies and practices of development in colonial and postcolonial Africa The book highlights four enduring themes in African development including their present day ramifications domesticity education health and industrialization Offering a balance between historical overview and analysis of past and present case studies Elisabeth McMahon and Corrie Decker demonstrate that Africans have always co opted challenged and reformed the idea of development even as the western centric development episteme presumes a one way flow of ideas and funding from the West to Africa God's Family, God's Earth Kaoma, Kapyia J.,2014-01-16 This book explores how the mounting ecological crisis has religious political and economic roots that enable and promote social and environmental harm It presents the thesis that religious traditions including their ethical expressions can effectively address the crisis ameliorate its effects and advocate social and environmental betterment now and in the future The ecological overtones of African traditional religions and Christianity are examined along with a discussion on African morality Recognition is given to the conflict between ecological values and religious teachings in an examination contrasting the awareness of socio economic problems caused by overpopulation The Dance of Politics Lisa Gilman,2011-10-07 How gender and class intersect in Malawi through women
