Mainstays Women Who Shaped B C:

Mainstays Cathy Converse,1998 We all know that there have been women in British Columbia since the early days and they were not just ironing shirts and baking bread They organized unions won elections started schools and hospitals and became judges scientists artists and doctors BC has benefited from a long tradition of energetic women who have had an impact on the province as we know it The twenty women profiled in this book didn't all succeed in everything they attempted but they were flexible saw what needed to be done and just did it The Business of Women Melanie Buddle,2011-01-01 In the past Western women inhabited a conceptual space divorced from the world of business Historians have consequently tended to overlook the experiences of women entrepreneurs Who were these women and how were they able to justify their work outside the home The Business of Women explores the world of women entrepreneurs in early twentieth century British Columbia Contrary to expectation the typical businesswoman was not unmarried or particularly rebellious but a woman who reconciled entrepreneurship with her femininity and her identity as a wife mother or widow The entrepreneurial woman was the product of a frontier ethos in British Columbia that translated into higher rates of marriage for women and more married women working outside the home than in any other province in Canada Like men they worked to support their families

Ikebuchi,2015-11-10 From its origins as a project to rescue Chinese prostitutes and slave girls from a life of supposed depravity the Chinese Rescue Home became a feature of the moral and racial landscape of Victoria a place where the Methodist Women's Missionary Society attempted to reform Chinese and Japanese girls and women in part by teaching them domestic skills meant to ease their integration into Western society Between 1886 and 1923 over four hundred Chinese and Japanese women sheltered in the home Yet despite the significance of this iconic institution little has been written on its history From Slave Girls to Salvation draws on a rich collection of archival materials to uncover the organizational hierarchies as well as the religious and racial tropes which permeated the home In doing so it expands our understanding of the complex interplay of gender race and class in BC during this time period

Xwelíqwiya Rena Point Bolton, Richard Daly, 2013-11-01 Xwel qwiya is the life story of Rena Point Bolton a Stl matriarch artist and craftswoman Proceeding by way of conversational vignettes the beginning chapters recount Point Bolton s early years on the banks of the Fraser River during the Depression While at the time the Stl or Xwlmexw as they call themselves today kept secret their ways of life to avoid persecution by the Canadian government Point Bolton s mother and grandmother schooled her in the skills needed for living from what the land provides as well as in the craftwork and songs of her people passing on a duty to keep these practices alive Point Bolton was taken to a residential school for the next several years and would go on to marry and raise ten children but her childhood training ultimately set the stage for her roles as a teacher and activist Recognizing the urgent need to forge a sense of cultural continuity among the younger members of her community Point Bolton visited many communities and worked with federal provincial and First Nations politicians to help break the intercultural silence by reviving knowledge of and interest in Aboriginal art She did so with the deft and heartfelt use of both her voice and her hands Over the course of many years Daly collaborated with Point Bolton to pen her story At once a memoir an oral history and an insider ethnography directed and presented by the subject herself the result attests both to Daly s relationship with the family and to Point Bolton s desire to inspire others to use traditional knowledge and experience to build their own distinctive successful and creative lives
