Transdisciplinary Approaches on Reconciliation Research Francesco Ferrari, Laura Villanueva, Davide Tacchini, Binyamin Gurstein, 2024-04-15 Reconciliation studies are concerned with the processes of rebuilding and improving damaged relationships after major wrongdoings They focus on factors such as law economics and international relations as well as on elements such as

emotions and ethics culture and religion media and education Reconciliation research therefore requires a transdisciplinary approach to analyse both the procedures leading to the recognition of truth as well as those in which justice is administered both the impact of public apologies and cooperation agreements both the implementation of memory policies and civil society initiatives both the outcomes of trauma therapy and intergenerational encounter groups While on the surface the relationships in question are those between states groups organisations and individuals at a deeper level reconciliation always addresses and involves many axes of damaged relationships those with others intergroup those with one's own group intragroup those with oneself those with the environment and those with transcendence Reconciliation studies deal therefore with a much broader spectrum of relationships than that taken into consideration by neighbouring disciplines such as conflict resolution and peace studies In this volume Francesco Ferrari and Davide Tacchini brought together examples of Leiner's approach to reconciliation studies as a cooperative project of different disciplines The articles are divided into two sections 1 A series of case studies about Japan South Korea relations German Czech reconciliation Nagorno Karabakh conflict using the methods of Martin Leiner Sayyid Qutb view of American society and South Africans revisiting TRC 2 A series of theoretical clarifications on reconciliation and moderation from a Palestinian point of view evolutionary game theory looking at reconciliation processes by a team of economists grace and reconciliation from a Catholic theological point of view philosophical reflections on the concept of reconciliation after Auschwitz cognitive and affective aspects in reconciliation from a Catholic theological point of view ecology and spatiality of reconciliation seen by a social geographer and political dimensions of reconciliation

Derryl G Berry s imaginative short stories and intriguing essays make for delightful and entertaining reading in short spurts or extended time Read a few short works while waiting for the bus like The Key to Her Heart and Wood Chucking and Pretty Like Mommy or Late for Lunch Or take more time for a longer work before bedtime like The Thanksgiving I Almost Exploded or You Don t Know Fear or Chasing Shadows Chasing Us or Saved by the Cell You might enjoy to matching opinions with Derryl and some of his essays Try The Blue Tree or How Did We Get to Be Different or Consider the Kingfisher or Educate Against Crapspeak or Freedom to be Fools But beware some might keep you awake thinking Do you believe time travel is possible Read Derryl s opinion in Time Travel Is Not Possible You could find that some of Derryl s poems will pluck your own heartstrings Maybe She Passed by Him or Butterfly Madam or I Will Leave You in the Echoes or You Kept Me Awake Last Night or Today I Drank the Wine A few might just make you chuckle or say Hmm well yeah maybe One or two of Derryl s Flash 55 Fiction might do the same Creative Methods in Schema Therapy Gillian Heath,Helen Startup,2020-06-09

Creative Methods in Schema Therapy captures current trends and developments in Schema Therapy in rich clinical detail with a vividness that inspires and equips the reader to integrate these new ways of working directly into their practice It begins with creative adaptations to assessment and formulation including the integration of body methods to promote engagement and to bring about early emotional change Other chapters introduce innovative methods to lift a formulation off the page and it goes on to bring to life new developments across all aspects of the ST change repertoire including limited reparenting imagery trauma processing chair work the therapy relationship empathic confrontation and endings For the specialist there are chapters on working with forensic modes eating disorders and couples work Finally the book includes chapters on the integration of key principles and techniques from Cognitive Behavioural Therapy Emotion Focused Therapy and Compassionate Mind work into a core schema model The book will appeal not only to full fledged schema therapists but also to junior therapists and therapists from other modalities who are willing to enhance their ways of working

Autobiographical Memory, Narrative Identity, and Mental Health Shamsul Haque,Jorge Javier Ricarte,Laura Jobson,Fabrice Berna,2022-07-04 Knowledge as a Feeling Troy A. Swanson,2023-05-08 Much of information science theory assumes a type of rationality in how individuals process the world around them but the impact of misinformation and disinformation along with the polarization of society into competing information factions calls for new understandings around our relationships to information Advances in neuroscience and psychology shed new light on how the brain processes information using both conscious and unconscious systems Current theory in neuroscience emphasizes that the mind is not a unified whole but a network of networks constructing reality to anticipate needs Knowledge is not a rational process but centers around the feeling of knowing which is the net output of competing brain processes The feeling of knowing assumes a group context and offers a social epistemological stance that judges knowledge within this group context With knowledge built into groups power dynamics allow work to be accomplished but also privilege some group members over others The feeling of knowing has significant implications for information science challenging theoreticians and practitioners to reconsider how individuals process information For information behavior the feeling of knowing offers a fuller picture looking at conscious and unconscious processing in the production of knowledge For information literacy the feeling of knowing sheds light on how individuals evaluate information and synthesize new sources into their existing knowledge Ultimately the feeling of knowing leads us toward new reflective and metacognitive tools that help meet this moment in the evolution of our information ecosystem This book explores the idea that knowing is a feeling that results from the interactions of the brain's unconscious and conscious processes and not through the accumulation of facts It is intended to help librarians educators and information scientists better understand what neuroscience and psychology are teaching about what it means to know and how our brain learns

Life in Kentucky and More

Neda Brewer, 2015-10-09 I started writing poetry in 2012 I was in major depression because my husband lost his life to a tragic accident I was lying in bed wallowing in self pity and the idea came to me to get out a pen and paper and write a poem about the accident I don't consider myself a great poet Most of my poetry comes from the heart A lot of them are from life experiences growing up in Eastern Kentucky I was hesitant to write but through encouragement from my friends I have given it my best shot I am a Kentucky born and bred Hillbilly I have an eighth education but hopefully I have written something everyone can enjoy

Medicine - Religion - Spirituality

Dorothea Lüddeckens, Monika Schrimpf, 2018-11-08 In modern societies the functional differentiation of medicine and religion is the predominant paradigm Contemporary therapeutic practices and concepts in healing systems such as Transpersonal Psychology Ayurveda as well as Buddhist and Anthroposophic medicine however are shaped by medical as well as religious or spiritual elements This book investigates configurations of the entanglement between medicine religion and spirituality in Europe Asia North America and Africa How do political and legal conditions affect these healing systems How do they relate to religious and scientific discourses How do therapeutic practitioners position themselves between medicine and religion and what is their appeal for patients

Overcoming Inequalities in Schools and Learning

Communities: Innovative Education for a New Century Rocio Garcia-Carrion, Roseli Rodrigues De Mello, Arnetha F.

Ball, 2020-03-24 Educational inequalities have strongly impacted disadvantaged and underserved populations such as indigenous Roma migrant children students with disabilities and those affected by poverty A wide array of research has contributed to explaining the mechanisms and effects of inequalities in the achievement patterns dropout rates disengagement in the school experiences of children and youth traditionally excluded Research also suggests the negative consequences for child development including cognitive language and social emotional functioning of poverty and lack of quality education in the early years Consequently the current unequal access to optimal learning environments for every single child to succeed in education and to have a better life perpetuates the exclusion and neglects their right to education for those minorities This Research Topic aims at moving beyond causes and shed light upon effective solutions by providing successful pathways for integration and inclusion of the learners most heavily affected Scholars worldwide are looking for successful actions with children youth and communities of learners historically underserved to overcome educational and social exclusion These transformative approaches go beyond the deficit thinking and are grounded in theories empirical evidence and multidisciplinary interventions oriented towards achieving social impact which refers to the extent to which those actions have contributed to improve a societal challenge The international network of Schools as Learning Communities is advancing knowledge on deepening and expanding the impact of what has been defined as Successful Educational Actions SEAs that is those interventions that improve students achievement and social cohesion and inclusion in many diverse contexts regardless the socioeconomic national and cultural environment of schools Drawing on the evidence generated by this network of researchers to address the global challenge of inequality by studying educational actions oriented towards achieving social impact and potentially transferrable to other contexts this Research Topic aims at deepening on this approach In short our purpose is that the contributions included in this Research Topic contribute to reduce educational and social inequalities and especially benefit those populations most in need

Learning and Memory Darrell Rudmann, 2017-10-20 Learning and Memory provides students with a clear balanced and integrated presentation of major theoretical perspectives foundational to the study of human learning and memory Author Darrell Rudmann uses an engaging personal writing style appropriate for students with little or no previous background in psychology to discuss topics including the major behaviorism theories of learning modern cognitive theories of memory social learning theories the roles of emotion and motivation in learning and the well established neurological underpinnings of these perspectives A concluding chapter on learning and memory concepts in the real world shows students to how these concepts are applied in various industries from advertising to education and the media

Retrospective Assessment of Mental States in Litigation Robert I. Simon, Daniel W. Shuman, 2008-08-13 Why did the defendant do it Mental health professionals are asked to help courts answer this question To serve justice the law calls for evidence of the mental state at the time a crime is committed of suicide intent in civil litigation and of mental capacity in contract litigation The law asks psychiatrists and psychologists to retrospectively determine mental states a daunting task made even more difficult by the passage of time the uncertain credibility of witnesses the paucity of collateral sources of information and often the death of the person in question This is the first book dedicated entirely to the retrospective assessment of mental states This fascinating book explores the role of the psychiatrist and psychologist as an expert witness in litigation in rendering a retrospective judgment of an individual s mental state Distinguished contributors apply their expertise in psychiatry psychology and the law to address the problems of retrospective assessment With the goal of developing guidelines for more accurate retrospective assessment of mental states they present topics such as Guidelines for conducting retrospective assessments in children and adults Guidelines for the retrospective assessment without benefit of direct examination Assessments of suicide cases in both civil and criminal litigation Psychological testing and interviewing techniques that may assist in retrospective assessment Methods and analysis to help clinicians and attorneys critically evaluate the search for truth about the past This remarkable book will prove indispensable for helping clinicians lawyers and judges better understand the complex and difficult process of retrospective reconstruction of mental states

Psychology, Law, and Criminal Justice Graham Davies, 1996 Sixty three proceedings papers from researchers in Europe North America and Australasia assess the psychological implications of legal systems and prisons The presentations review factors involving eyewitness testimony credibility and misinformation techniques in suspect and victim interviewing
