Andrews, 2019-09-25 Reproduction of the original Minnesota and Dacotah by C C Andrews Minnesota and Dacotah Christopher Columbus Andrews, 1857 Christopher Columbus Andrews 1829 1922 future Civil War general diplomat and state official wrote these twenty six letters on a trip to the Minnesota and Dakota Dacotah territory during the fall of 1856 He traveled by rail as far as Chicago and Dunleith Jo Daviess County Illinois continuing by steamship to St Paul and making his way by stagecoach to Crow Wing and St Cloud before returning east Each letter describes the trip or discusses the territory s economic and institutional development governance and opportunities for pioneers land speculators and entrepreneurs Andrews devotes considerable attention to the Minnesota bar and also takes an interest in such topics as farming lumbering railroads waterways the potential of Lake Superior and the Red River valley and efforts to induce the Chippewa Ojibwe to adopt a way of life rooted in European cultural traditions The letters anticipate the establishment of Dakota as a separate territory and review current proposals for demarcating its boundaries Andrews also comments on slavery and the era s racial attitudes Minnesota and Dacotah C. C. Andrews, 2015-07-18 Excerpt from Minnesota and Dacotah In Letters Descriptive of a Tour Through the North West in the Autumn of 1856 With Information Relative to Public Lands and a Table of Statistics The object of publishing these letters can be very briefly stated During the last autumn I made a tour into Minnesota upwards of a hundred and thirty miles north west of St Paul to satisfy myself as to the character and prospects of the territory All I could learn from personal observation and otherwise concerning its society and its ample means of greatness impressed me so favorably as to the advantages still open to the settler that I put down in the form of letters such facts as I thought would be of general interest Since their publication in the Boston Post a few requests which I could not comply with were made for copies of them all I was led to believe therefore that if I revised them and added information relative to unoccupied lands the method of preemption and the business interests of the territory they would be worthy of publication in a more permanent form About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
