A Minor Apocalypse Tadeusz Konwicki, 1999 A novel of savage satirical humour A failed Polish author expects and looks forward to death and courts his demise ultimately in self immolation A Minor Apocalypse Tadeusz Konwicki, 1984

A Nation of Refugees Assistant Professor of History and Jewish Studies Polly Zavadvker, Polly Zavadvker, 2024-10-23
Though the Holocaust has been documented in depth historians and the public know very little about the experience of Eastern European Jews during the preceding world war A Nation of Refugees tells the story of how ordinary Jewish people in the Russian Empire survived World War I as refugees and civilians It focuses on the resilience and organized campaigns of humanitarian war relief that countered violence and victimization Above all it captures the voices and experiences of refugees at a time of upheaval and war through first hand accounts No End in Sight Anna Krakus, 2018-07-10 No End in Sight offers a critical analysis of Polish cinema and literature during the transformative late Socialist period of the 1970s and 1980s Anna Krakus details how conceptions of time permanence and endings shaped major Polish artistic works She further demonstrates how film and literature played a major role in shaping political consciousness during this highly charged era Despite being controlled by an authoritarian state and the doctrine of socialism artists were able to portray the unsettled nature of the political and psychological climate of the period and an undetermined future In analyzing films by Andrzej Wajda Krzysztof Kieslowski Krzysztof Zanussi Wojciech Has and Tadeusz Konwicki alongside Konwicki's literary production Anna Krakus identifies their shared penchant to defer or completely eschew narrative closure whether in plot theme or style Krakus calls this artistic tendency aesthetic unfinalizability As she reveals aesthetic unfinalizability was far more than an occasional artistic preference or a passing trend it was a radical counterpolitical act The obsession with historical teleology saturated Polish public life during socialism to such a degree that instances of nonclosure or ambivalent endings emerged as polemical responses to official ideology Displays of Belonging Sarah Ellen Zarrow, 2025-06-15 Displays of Belonging illuminates the lives and work of Polish Jewish collectors and museologists who sought to preserve the treasures of the Jewish past while demonstrating Jewish belonging on Polish soil As Jews comfortable in the Polish language and within Polish artistic and academic society they saw themselves as intermediaries between less integrated Jews and the Polish cultural elite At the turn of the century Jewish ethnographers and museum creators staked their claim to belonging to the civic nation though the display of Jewish folk art fine art and Judaica After the First World War the nearly three million Jews in the Second Polish Republic were suddenly challenged with finding a place for themselves in a state that increasingly defined itself as a creation of the ethnic Polish nation to which Jews by many accounts did not belong By tracing emergent documentation and display practices in partitioned Poland and in the interwar Second Polish Republic Sarah Ellen Zarrow offers a better understanding of how integrated Jews identified with Polish culture and history and with non Jewish Poles and how they conceived of negotiated and argued their collective place within Poland This is not a case of assimilation nor of acculturation but rather of displaying a parallel culture that was at once similar and yet distinctive Displays of Belonging offers a nuanced understanding of the multiplicity of ways in which Jews in Poland saw their present and dreamed of their future It places Jewish ethnographic practice and art collection within a Polish context and sheds light on ways in which ideas about belonging and national identity were negotiated in the space of museums

Gnostic Dualism in Asia Minor during the first centuries A.D. I P.F.M. Fontaine,2023-10-09 This series is no longer published by Brill Mapping Warsaw Ewa Wampuszyc,2018-10-15 Inspired by the spatial turn in the humanities and social sciences Mapping Warsaw is an interdisciplinary study that combines urban studies cinema studies cultural studies history literature and photography It examines Warsaw s post World War II reconstruction through images and language Juxtaposing close readings of photo books socialist era newsreels called the Polska Kronika Filmowa the comedies of Leonard Buczkowski and Jan Fethke the writing and films of Tadeusz Konwicki and a case study on the Palace of Culture and Science a gift from none other than Stalin this study investigates the rhetorical and visual rather than physical reconstruction of Warsaw in various medias and genres Ewa Wampuszyc roots her analysis in the historical context of the postwar decade and shows how and why Poland s capital became an essential part of a propaganda program inspired by communist ideology and the needs of a newly established socialist People s Republic Mapping Warsaw demonstrates how physical space manifests itself in culture and how culture history and politics leave an indelible mark on places It points out ways in which we take for granted our perception of space and the meanings we assign to it

Passion and Restraint Denis Clark,2022-07-26 Much of today s international order can be traced to the experimentations with governance that occurred in central Europe immediately after World War I And though Western governments did not bring about the creation of Poland on their own or determine all of its eventual borders their attempts to do so left many lingering grudges and made the years immediately following the war a crucial period in Polish and international history Passion and Restraint examines how British French and American foreign policymakers interacted with Poles and the idea of an independent Poland during this period Western policymakers knew little about Poland in 1914 but by war s end they were drawing the new country s borders sending humanitarian aid and imposing minority protections Attitudes regarding national character and emotional restraint were central intertwined themes in British French and American diplomacy during this period of Polish rebirth and policymakers opinions of national character evolved based on personal experiences political conditions and dominant understandings of the Polish people in the early twentieth century Amid these changing attitudes policymakers emphasized the necessity of Polish emotional restraint Demonstrating how emotions and stereotypes were integral to diplomatic decision making Passion and Restraint brings attention to these often overlooked historical factors advancing a new lens for the study of Polish European and international history

Biblical Blaspheming Yvonne Sherwood,2012-09-06 This book explores the strange persistence of blasphemy in modern secular democracies by examining how accepted and prohibited ways of talking and thinking about the Bible and religion have changed over time In a series of wide ranging studies engaging disciplines such as politics literature and visual theory Yvonne Sherwood brings the Bible into dialogue with a host of interlocutors including John Locke John Donne and the 9 11 hijackers as well as artists such as Sarah Lucas and Ren Magritte Questions addressed include What is the origin of the common belief that the Bible as opposed to the Qur'an underpins liberal democratic values What kind of artworks does the biblical God specialise in If pre modern Jewish Christian and Islamic responses to scripture can be more critical than contemporary speech about religion how does this affect our understanding of secularity modernity and critique

Form and Instability Anita Starosta, 2015-12-31 Form and Instability Eastern Europe Literature and Post Imperial Difference busies itself with the work of accounting for this discrepancy between ostensible historical change and the persistence of anachronistic ways of thinking a discrepancy that remains unaddressed and eludes attention and it goes on to propose that literature not simply as an archive of representations or a source of cultural capital but as a critical perspective in its own right offers a way to apprehend and to redress this problem Historical situations such as the post 1989 transitions to capitalism and liberal democracy as well as the Eastern enlargement of the E U not only entail empirical change they also call for and provoke intense renegotiations of cultural values and analytical concepts Through rhetoric reading and translation terms central to this book literature will be seen to expedite and redirect such re arrangements It will be shown to destabilize discursively fixed categories without imposing in turn its own fixity Located at the intersection of comparative literature area studies and literary theory this interdisciplinary study has a twofold commitment to Eastern Europe on the one hand and to literature on the other It aims to intervene in the way we conceive of Eastern Europe by seeking to develop a more equitable way of thinking one that avoids subordinating it to Eurocentric narratives of progress At the same time it marshals literature as both object and method of this rethinking in order to extend existing conceptions of the usefulness and of the proper organization of literary studies The three terms in the title of this book mark a passage via literature from Eastern Europe as an inadequate and obsolescent category to post imperial difference as a more accurate if provisional account of the region By way of original readings of particular texts and by attending to literature as a critical

New Perspectives in Twentieth-Century Polish Literature Stanislaw Eile, Ursula Phillips, 1992-06-18 Serves as an introduction to contemporary Polish literature developed through critical discussion of key problems and representative writers It includes poetry fiction and drama Some essays are devoted to individual writers including Milosz Herbert Gombrowicz Schulz Konwicki and Mrozek

Totalitarian (In)Experience in Literary Works and Their Translations Bartłomiej Biegajło, 2018-10-19 This book explores the different images of totalitarianism in 20th century literature and the capacity of the theory of Natural Semantic Metalanguage to be adopted in a comparative literary study in the analysis of four totalitarian literary works written in Polish and English together with their translation into English and Polish respectively The key question addressed here is the totalitarian experience which it is assumed conditions the literary reflections of the regime provided by Aldous Huxley George Orwell Czesław Miłosz and Tadeusz Konwicki Brief biographical details are provided with regards to each of the writers and their private experiences are linked with the works they published Additionally key concepts are named for each of the works subject to discussion and it is their cross linguistic analysis carried out within the NSM framework that forms the core of the book Dystopian Fiction East and West Erika Gottlieb,2001-07-04 Gottlieb juxtaposes the Western dystopian genre with Eastern and Central European versions introducing a selection of works from Russia Poland Hungary and Czechoslovakia She demonstrates that authors who write about and under totalitarian dictatorship find the worst of all possible worlds not in a hypothetical future but in the historical reality of the writer's present or recent past Against such a background the writer assumes the role of witness protesting against a nightmare world that is but should not be She introduces the works of Victor Serge Vassily Grossman Alexander Zinoviev Tibor Dery Arthur Koestler Vaclav Havel and Istvan Klima as well as a host of others all well known in their own countries presenting them within a framework established through an original and comprehensive exploration of the patterns underlying the more familiar Western works of dystopian fiction Framing the Polish Home Bożena Shallcross,2002-12-31 As the subject of ideological aesthetic and existential manipulations the Polish home and its representation is an ever changing phenomenon that absorbs new tendencies and at the same time retains its centrality to Polish literature whether written in Poland or abroad Framing the Polish Home is a pioneering work that explores the idea of home as fundamental to the question of cultural and national identity within Poland's recent history and its tradition In this inaugural volume of the Polish and Polish American Studies Series the Polish home emerges in its rich verbal and visual representations and multiple material embodiments as the discussion moves from the loss of the home during wartime to the Sovietized politics of housing and from the exilic strategies of having a home to the idyllic evocation of the abodes of the past Although as Bożena Shallcross notes in her introduction few concepts seem to have such universal appeal as the notion of the home this area of study is still seriously underdeveloped In essays from sixteen scholars Framing the Polish Home takes a significant step to correct that oversight covering a broad range of issues pertinent to the discourse on the home and demonstrating the complexity of the home in Polish literature and culture East Central Europe and Communism Sabrina P. Ramet,2023-03-23 The communists of East Central Europe came to power promising to bring about genuine equality paying special attention to achieving gender equality to build up industry and create prosperous societies and to use music art and literature to promote socialist ideals Instead they never succeeded in filling more than a third of their legislatures with women and were unable to make significant headway against entrenched patriarchal views they considered it necessary with the sole exception of Albania to rely heavily on credits to build up their economies eventually driving them into bankruptcy and the effort to instrumentalize the arts ran aground in most of the region already by 1956 and in Yugoslavia by 1949 Communism was all about planning control and politicization Except for Yugoslavia after 1949 the communists sought to plan and control not only politics and the economy but also the media and information religious organizations culture and the promotion of women which they understood in the first place as involving putting women to work Inspired by the groundbreaking work of Robert K Merton on functionalist theory this book shows how communist policies were repeatedly undermined by unintended consequences and outright dysfunctions

Grotesque Revisited Laurynas Katkus, 2013-07-26 This collection of essays aims to recapitulate the state of grotesque poetics in modern and post modern writing It concentrates on Central and Eastern Europe introducing the Western reader to the variety and ingenuity of this region s literary traditions ranging from German and Russian to Lithuanian and Romanian literatures At the same time it seeks to highlight the importance of the grotesque mode of writing in the region It includes new insights and interpretations of theories on grotesque and Menippean satire including but not limited to the works of Mikhail Bakhtin The historic scope of the volume ranges from the legacies of Nazi dictatorship and exile to the post communist times but it is especially focused on the Soviet era Scholars not only from Central and Eastern Europe but also from Great Britain Ireland and Turkey analyze the literary devices of the grotesque examining the relationship between the socio political background and subversive representations of the grotesque Many studies take on a comparative and transnational approach Alternatively some studies aim to present important and innovative creators of grotesque texts in greater detail This book which features among others contributions by Professor Galin Tihanov George Steiner Chair of Queen Mary College at the University of London Professor Alexander Ivanitsky of the Russian State University of Humanities Professor Algis Kalda of the Lithuanian Institute of Literature and Folklore Professor Peter Arnds of Trinity College Dublin and Dr Carmen Popescu of the University of Craiova Romania will appeal to a broad academic readership including both students and professors wanting to discover more about the literary grotesque and modern Central and Eastern European literature and culture

Kris Van Heuckelom, 2019-04-23 This study explores the representation of international migration on screen and how it has gained prominence and salience in European filmmaking over the past 100 years Using Polish migration as a key example due to its long standing cultural resonance across the continent this book moves beyond a director oriented approach and beyond the dominant focus on postcolonial migrant cinemas It succeeds in being both transnational and longitudinal by including a diverse corpus of more than 150 films from some twenty different countries of which Roman Polański's The Tenant Jean Luc Godard's Passion and Krzysztof Kieślowski's Trois couleurs Blanc are the best known examples Engaging with contemporary debates on modernisation and Europeanisation the author proposes the notion of close Otherness to delineate the liminal position of fictional characters with a Polish background Polish Migrants in European Film 1918-2017 takes the reader through a widerange of genres from interwar musicals to Cold War defection films from communist era exile right up to the contemporary moment It is suitable for scholars interested in European or Slavic studies as well as anyone who is interested in topics such as identity construction ethnic representation East West cultural exchanges and transnationalism Everyday Zionism in East-Central Europe Jan Rybak, 2021-08-05

Everyday Zionism examines Zionist activism in East Central Europe during the years of war occupation revolution the collapse of empires and the formation of nation states in the years 1914 to 1920 Against the backdrop of the Great War its brutal aftermath and consequent violence the day to day encounters between Zionist activists and the Jewish communities in the region gave the movement credibility allowed it to win support and to establish itself as a leading force in Jewish political and social life for decades to come Through activists efforts Zionism came to mean something new Rather than being concerned with debates over Jewish nationhood and pioneering efforts in Palestine it came to be about aiding starving populations organizing soup kitchens establishing orphanages schools kindergartens and hospitals negotiating with the authorities and leading self defence against pogroms Through this engagement Zionism evolved into a mass movement that attracted and inspired tens of thousands of Jews throughout the region Everyday Zionism approaches the major European events of the period from the dual perspectives of Jewish communities and the Zionist activists on the ground demonstrating how war revolution empire and nation held very different meanings for people depending on their local circumstances Based on extensive archival research the study shows how during the war and its aftermath East Central Europe saw a large scale nation building project by Zionist activists who fought for and led their communities to shape for them a national future The Expositor, 1923
