Minority Peoples In The Age Of Nation States:

Minority Peoples in the Age of Nation-states Gérard Chaliand, 1989 Genocide in the Age of the Nation State Mark Levene, 2005-08-26 How should we understand genocide in the modern world As an aberration from the norms of a dominant liberal international society Or rather as a guide to the very dysfunctional nature of the international system itself The Meaning of Genocide is the first work of its nature to consider the phenomenon within a broad context of world historical development In this book Mark Levene sets out the conceptual issues in the study of genocide addressing the fundamental problems of defining genocide and understanding what we mean by perpetrators and victims before placing the phenomenon in the context of world history In an original and compelling argument Levene seeks to explain how state violence against a range of groups has emerged in tandem with the rise of the West to global dominance and the emergence of increasingly streamlined homogenous states Levene contends that it is in the relationship of these nation states to each other that we will find the well springs of some of the most poisonous tendencies in the modern world Thought provoking and beautifully constructed The Meaning of Genocide is the first of a major four volume survey Genocide in the Age of the Nation State which examines its subject within an extensive global and historical framework and which will become the definitive work on the subject Outsiders Panikos Panayi, 1998-07-01 The oppression of minorities has been a theme in the history of Europe

It has been a cause of dispute over territory often resulting in war With nation states demanding undivided loyalty of its citizens there has been discrimination and racism which has often led to persecution at its most extreme in the Nazi crusade against the Jews This is a history of European minority communities It deals with the dispersed minorities the Jews and the gypsies as well as the muslims of the Balkans and the diaspora of Germans in eastern Europe from the Middle Ages to 1945 Almost all countries have disadvantaged ethnic and linguistic minorities whether minorities without their own states such as the Breton Scots Vlachs and Kurds or those such as the Russians in Estonia or the Greeks in Turkey who form linguistic groups different from the native majorities During wars the existence of alien communities often led to persecution in turn bringing huge refugee migrations The result has been the resettlement of European populations Since World War II the demand for cheap labour has led to an influx of immigrants from outside Europe This followed a wave in which workers from the poor Mediterranean countries travelled north to industrial heartlands Although all EEC countries now operate strict controls on immigrants there is pressure from the east following the fall of Communism and from the Third World where birth rates outstrip that of Europe The existence of this pressure is a determinant of Europe s history in the 21st century

Minority Peoples in the Age of Nation-states Gerard Chaliand, 1990 Religious Minorities, Nation States and Security Mario Apostolov, 2020-10-07 This title was first published in 2001 Why in this contemporary secular age does violent conflict among confessional communities still occur Covering several key conflicts of recent years in one of the most dynamic areas of the world the Eastern Mediterranean and the Balkans Mario Apostolov uses both interpretative and comparative analysis to answer this question His versatile approach makes for an engaging account that makes an important contribution to the current debate surrounding such conflicts The author focuses on five case studies taken from the traditional zone of contact between Christianity and Islam The Copts The Palestinian Christians The Lebanese communities The Pomaks The communities of Bosnia Herzegovina The book examines the relationship between these issues and communal mobilisation the collective use of violence and the problems of international security An informative study for students academics policy makers and personnel in international organizations with an interest in communal conflict and security

At the Edge of the State: Indigenous Peoples and Self Determination Maivân Lãm, 2021-10-25 Focusing on issues raised by the U N Working Group on Indigenous Peoples this study reveals the obstacles to self determination for these peoples in all parts of the world The author argues using both legal and social theory that the right of self determination can be available to indigenous peoples and proposes measures that the UN might institute to oversee the realization of this right Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint

An Ethnic History of Europe since 1945 Panikos Panayi, 2018-10-08 The first history of Europe since 1945 which examines the continent from a mainly ethnic perspective Panikos Panayi has drawn on years of research to produce this comparative and exploratory account of the experience of ethnic minorities in post war Europe The coverage encompasses all categories of minorities including immigrants and refugees localised ethnic groupings and dispersed peoples Geographically the scope of the book ranges from the Atlantic to the Urals and the Mediterranean to the Arctic looking in particular at the Soviet Union Britain France Germany Romania Cyprus and the former Yugoslavia

The Hmong of China Nicholas Tapp, 2021-10-11 This first ethnography of the Hmong in China is based on Nicholas Tapp s extensive fieldwork in a Hmong village in Sichuan Basing his analysis on the concepts of context and agency Tapp discusses the paradoxical ambivalence at the heart of Hmong culture A paradox arises in the historical and ethnographic construction of the identity of the Hmong by conscious contrast with and in opposition to a majority Han Chinese identity at the same time that large parts of Hmong culture are shared with the Chinese and may be the results of historical processes of adoption absorption mimesis or emulation Tapp examines the Hmong rituals of shamanism ancestral respect and death and provides details on livelihood kinship local organization and intellectual culture The book is enhanced with thorough accounts of ceremonies rituals and folktales with translations of Hmong songs and stories This publication has also been published in paperback no longer available

Redefining Security David T.

Graham, Nana Poku, 1998-10-30 International migration has become a major domestic political issue in many countries and a major topic of international debate Thus far most of the attention has centered on the plight of refugees or on ways to curb the flow of illegal immigrants As more and more migrants cross interstate boundaries however governments are realizing that immigration and asylum problems cannot be separated from broader socio economic and political issues nor can they be resolved by countries acting unilaterally Even with this understanding attempts to develop multilateral strategies to ease international tensions arising from uncontrolled migration will be complicated by economic disparities regional political tensions and mounting population and ecological pressures Internal migration particularly in terms of forced resettlement and urbanization also gives rise to a myriad of problems relating to aspects of security The increase in other major population movements such as tourism and business travel also has implications for security Until recently the question what is security was rarely asked in the context of these developments This was because there was a perceived consensus on what the nature of security was The nature of security was held to mean national political and military security Thus security was virtually synonymous with defense The theoretical claim of this volume is that these developments are necessitating a redefinition of security This volume provides major theoretical analyses of these trends as well as in depth case studies that explore specific developments of major concern to scholars and other researchers involved with international relations migration and development issues

Nationalism and Ethnoregional Identities in China Safran William, 2013-05-13 Western political scientists have tended to neglect the ethnic dimension in China and have overemphasized the development from large empire to unified nation This book brings together a number of case studies on the ethnic and regional dimensions of Chinese politics and society

Managing Babel: The International Legal Protection of Minorities in the Twentieth Century Li-Ann Thio, 2005-01-01 Minority protection is integral to a civilised standard of internal good governance The goal of promoting friendly inter group relations within states highlights the linkages between constitutionalism and the extending reach of international law in shaping domestic governance and structuring relations between the state non state communities and individuals While law per se cannot guarantee the security and integrity of minority groups law and legal institutions play a role in promoting a tolerant and pluralistic environment and a multicultural ethos that appreciates rather than resents ethno cultural diversity This book is a comprehensive modern study of the important field of international protection of minority rights focusing on 20th century developments Minority rights regimes which address the issue of group identity and autonomy have essentially been a stabilising force buttressing state survivability in the face of claims to self determination or secession These serve to promote the peaceful co existence of distinct ethno cultural groups captured by the metaphor of Babel within existing states Despite overlaps the content of minority protection is more modest than the claim of indigenous groups for collective rights or peoples rights to self determination As part of the contemporary corpus of human rights norms minority protection may be appreciated as an aspect of the evolving content of the internal dimension of the right to self determination Chapter 1 introduces some key definitional and conceptual problems in the field of minority protection and presents a brief historical review of international approaches up to 1919 Chapter 2 discusses the League of Nations era Chapter 3 examines approaches towards minority protection after World War Two as reflected in the drafting of the United Nations Charter and efforts to protect minorities outside the UN regime In this period discussed in Chapters 4 and 5 minorities issues remained largely submerged within the UN project of promoting universal individual human rights Chapter

6 addresses the post 1989 revival in minorities issues within the UN Chapter 7 offers a succinct overview of what might be considered a parallel history with respect to the development of regional human rights schemes and what these afford to minority protection closing with concluding observations Meticulously researched this volume offers a valuable synthesis of this important but often heart breaking field

Kurdish Diasporas Ö. Wahlbeck, 1999-03-08 In this important theoretical contribution to the area of refugee studies based on ethnographic field work among Kurdish refugees the author has uniquely combined empirical evidence and contemporary sociological theories of diasporas and transnationalism The book provides essential reading for anybody looking for a comprehensive view of refugee resettlement issues and it will be of special interest to anybody concerned with the topical Kurdish question

Social Work and Migration Kathleen Valtonen, 2016-04-01 Social work increasingly finds itself at the frontline of issues pertaining to immigrant and refugee settlement and integration In this timely book Kathleen Valtonen provides the first book length study on the challenges these issues create for the profession Drawing on a wide range of research in migration which is not widely available to social workers or included in social work literature she offers readers an opportunity to explore the capacity of the profession to take a primary role in the course and outcome of settlement The book fills a gap in the social work literature by providing scholars practitioners and students with a critical knowledge base that will strengthen their ability to engage with issues of immigration and integration and to open up options for effective practice with growing numbers of immigrant and refugee clients

Empire, Colony, Genocide A. Dirk Moses, 2008 In 1944 Raphael Lemkin coined the term genocide to describe a foreign occupation that destroyed or permanently crippled a subject population This text is a world history of genocide that highlights what Lemkin called the role of the human group and its tribulations

Dislocating China Dru C. Gladney, 2004-04 Until quite recently Western scholars have tended to accept the Chinese representation of non Han groups as marginalized minorities Dru C Gladney challenges this simplistic view arguing instead that the very oppositions of majority and minority primitive and modern are historically constructed and are belied by examination of such disenfranchised groups as Muslims minorities or gendered others Gladney locates China and Chinese culture not in some unchanging essential Chinese ness but in the context of historical and contemporary multicultural complexity He investigates how this complexity plays out among a variety of places and groups examining representations of minorities and majorities in art movies and theme parks the invention of folklore and creation myths the role of pilgrimages in constructing local identities and the impact of globalization and economic reforms on non Han groups such as the Muslim Hui In the end Gladney argues that just as peoples in the West have defined themselves against ethnic others so too have the Chinese defined themselves against marginalized groups in their own society

Celebrating 40 Years of Ethnic and Racial Studies Martin Bulmer, John Solomos, 2019-12-18 This volume celebrates the 40th Anniversary of Ethnic and Racial Studies It reproduces eleven classic papers published in the journal accompanied by discussions of each paper by invited specialists and responses from the original authors The various discussions in this volume provide an insight into the evolution of contemporary debates and controversies in the field of ethnic and racial studies By bringing together these papers in one volume for the first time this book explores a number of on going debates about race and ethnicity

Kurdistan: The Quest for Representation and Self-Determination Mr Lungthuiyang Riamei, 2017-08-15 Kurdistan the name given to the Kurds historical homeland is a landlocked region that lies at the crossroads of Turkey Syria Iraq and Iran After the fall of Ottoman Empire the Kurdish people were promised independence by the treaty of Sevres in 1920 The Kurds are known as a nation without borders and consider as a stateless people Aftermath of the Arab Spring in 2010 Kurdistan has witnessed an increase in nationalism and a shift in geo politics The book examines the various models which could be acceptable solution to the Kurdish problem in West Asian region It also evaluates the role of the Kurdish diaspora placing Kurdish issue in the international forum The Kurdish Peshmerga and YPG militia maintains one of the strongest forces confronting against the ISIS in West Asian region

The Kurdish Question: Identity, Representation and the Struggle for Self- Determination ,2015-07-15 The book examines several models which have been advocated for a workable and acceptable solution to the Kurdish problem which would be absolutely necessary for stability in the West Asian region The book evaluates how the more than two decade long experience of Kurdish self rule in a democratic framework in Iraqi Kurdistan affects the debate over the other Kurdish regions in West Asia With Turkey s European Union accession process contributing to the opening of the political space to ethno nationalism there is a need for a non military solution to the Kurdish issue The book analyses the role of Kurdish diaspora which plays a significant part in placing the Kurdish question on the European political agenda It also examines the role of the Kurds in the aftermath of the Arab Spring and the changing geopolitics in the region Now the Kurds maintain the strongest platform in battling against the ISIS terrorists

The State, War, and the State of War Kalevi Jaakko Holsti, 1996 War has traditionally been studied as a problem deriving from the relations between states Strategic doctrines arms control agreements and the foundation of international organizations such as the United Nations are designed to prevent wars between states Since 1945 however the incidence of interstate war has actually been declining rapidly while the incidence of internal wars has been increasing The author argues that in order to understand this significant change in historical patterns we should jettison many of the analytical devices derived from international relations studies and shift attention to the problems of weak states those states unable to sustain domestic legitimacy and peace This book surveys some of the foundations of state legitimacy and demonstrates why many weak states will be the locales of war in the future Finally the author asks what the United Nations can do about the problems of weak and failed states
