Anthropology, Public Policy, and Native Peoples in Canada Noel Dyck, James B. Waldram, 1993-03-02 The essays in Anthropology Public Policy and Native Peoples in Canada provide a comprehensive evaluation of past present and future forms of anthropological involvement in public policy issues that affect Native peoples in Canada The contributing authors who include social scientists and politicians from both Native and non Native backgrounds use their experience to assess the theory and practice of anthropological participation in and observation of relations between aboriginal peoples and governments in Canada They trace the strengths and weaknesses of traditional forms of anthropological fieldwork and writing as well as offering innovative solutions to some of the challenges confronting anthropologists working in this domain In addition to Noel Dyck and James Waldram the contributing authors are Peggy Martin Brizinski Julie Cruikshank Peter Douglas Elias Julia D Harrison Ron Ignace Joseph M Kaufert Patricia Leyland Kaufert William W Koolage John O Neil Joe Sawchuk Colin H Scott Derek G Smith George Speck Renee Taylor Peter J Usher and Sally M Weaver

reach a definition beyond that implied in the title of the UN Declaration on the Rights of Persons belonging to National or Ethnic Religious and Linguistic Minorities adopted in December 1992 Minority Rights Group focuses its work on non dominant ethnic religious and linguistic communities whether or not they are numerical minorities The concept thus relates to any self identified community that is marginalized without power unable to take decisions over its destiny and often experiencing high levels of illiteracy under education and overt or covert discrimination The basic rights of such communities need protection and promotion There is however a danger of generalizing about minorities and forgetting the complexity of their social composition including the rural poor urban migrants older people women and children These groups may be considered as doubly vulnerable What makes their situation particularly problematic is that there is often a deliberate political policy on the part of majorities and states not to give due regard to the legitimate interests of minorities while members of minorities see their identity as central to their social and economic situation They are often excluded from political power and decision making in the development process without equal opportunities to secure a better quality of life One further danger may lie in regarding ethnicities as fixed rather than as the potentially fluid phenomena that they often are Situational ethnicity does occur and individuals and groups do modify their self identifications depending on circumstances Please note that the terminology in the fields of minority rights and indigenous peoples rights has changed over time MRG strives to reflect these changes as well as respect the right to self identification on the part of minorities and indigenous peoples At the same time after over 50 years work we know that our archive is of considerable interest to activists and researchers Therefore we make available as much of our back catalogue as possible while being aware that the language used may not reflect current thinking on these issues traditional knowledge and spirituality But while the effects of this attrition can be devastating minority and indigenous cultures have also been critical in strengthening communities and providing activists with a platform to fight for their rights As this volume illustrates ensuring that the cultural freedoms of minorities and indigenous peoples are protected is essential if their other rights are also to be respected Native Peoples in Canada James S.
