Miracle A Universe:

A Miracle, a Universe Lawrence Weschler, 2013-01-02 In recent years as countries around the globe have begun to move from dictatorial to more democratic systems of governance no more traumatic or dramatic ethical problem has arisen than what to do with the previous regime's torturers. In most cases the security and military apparatuses responsible for the overwhelming majority of human rights abuses still retain tremendous power and will not abide any settling of accounts. Now New Yorker staff reporter Lawrence Weschler tells the extraordinary story of how against tremendous odds torture victims and human rights activists in two Latin American countries, Brazil and Uruguay, tried to bring their torturers to justice and to rehabilitate their whole societies from harrowing periods of silence and repression. In this first of his two accounts he tells how a tiny group of torture victims, clerics and human rights activists in Brazil launched an extremely risky nonviolent plot to get even with the former torturers by publishing an indisputable account of their savage system of repression indisputable because it is drawn from the regime's own files. In the second set in Uruguay he tells how a more broadly based movement attempted to bring to light the dark history of a military regime engaged in more political incarceration per capita than any other on earth at that time. In this illuminating and beautifully written book portions of which appeared in five issues of The New Yorker, Weschler examines what a small number of individuals can do to retrieve history and truth from the hands of torturers.

On Desire William Braxton Irvine, 2006 Irvine looks at what modern science can tell about desire: what happens in the brain when one desires something and how animals evolved particular desires. He suggests that people who can convince themselves to want what they already have dramatically enhance their happiness.

Understanding Religion and Science Michael Horace Barnes, 2010-05-25 Fully comprehensive textbook covering the issues, methods and relations between religion and science throughout history and up to the modern day.

On Desire William B. Irvine, 2005-11-01 A married person falls deeply in love with someone else. A man of average income feels he cannot be truly happy unless he owns an expensive luxury car. A dieter has an irresistible craving for ice cream. Desires often come to us unbidden and unwanted, and they can have a dramatic impact, sometimes changing the course of our lives. In On Desire, William B. Irvine takes us on a wide-ranging tour of our impulses, wants and needs, showing us where these feelings come from and how we can try to rein them in. Spicing his account with engaging observations by writers like Seneca, Tolstoy and Freud, Irvine considers the teachings of Buddhists, Hindus, the Amish, Shakers and Catholic saints as well as those of ancient Greek and Roman and modern European philosophers Irvine also looks at what modern science can tell us about desire such as what happens in the brain when we desire something and how animals evolved particular desires and he advances a new theory about how desire itself evolved Irvine also suggests that at the same time that we gained the ability to desire we were programmed to find some things more desirable than others Irvine concludes that the best way to attain lasting happiness is not to change the world around us or our place in it but to change ourselves If we can convince ourselves to want what we already have we can dramatically enhance our happiness Brimming with wisdom and practical advice On Desire offers a thoughtful approach to controlling unwanted passions and attaining a more meaningful life

The Spiritual Technology of Ancient Egypt Edward F. Malkowski, 2007-10-03 How ancient Egyptians understood quantum theory Investigates the history of how modern religion and the Age of Science were inspired by the sacred science of the ancients Examines how quantum theory explains that the cosmos arises from consciousness Reveals the unanimity between Schwaller de Lubicz's sacred science and the science of a cosmos governed by quantum mechanics Since the dawn of the Age of Science humankind has been engaged in a methodical quest to understand the cosmos With the development of quantum mechanics the notion that everything is solid matter is being replaced with the idea that information or thought may be the true source of physical reality Such scientific inquiry has led to a growing interest in the brain's unique and mysterious ability to create perception possibly through quantum interactions Consciousness is now being considered as much a fundamental part of reality as the three dimensions we are so familiar with Although this direction in scientific thought is seen as a new approach the secret wisdom of the ancients presented just such a view thousands of years ago Building on Ren A Schwaller de Lubicz's systematic study of Luxor's Temple of Amun Mut Khonsu during the 1940s and 50s Edward Malkowski shows that the ancient Egyptians worldview was not based on superstition or the invention of myth but was the result of direct observation using critical faculties attuned to the quantum manifestation of the universe This understanding of reality as a product of human consciousness provided the inspiration for the sacred science of the ancients precisely the philosophy modern science is embracing today In the philosophical tradition of Schwaller de Lubicz The Spiritual Technology of Ancient Egypt investigates the technical and religious legacy of ancient Egypt to reveal its congruence with today's New Science
