Miracle Foods:

Wonder Foods Lisa Haushofer, 2022-12-27 Between 1850 and 1950 experts and entrepreneurs in Britain and the United States forged new connections between the nutrition sciences and the commercial realm through their enthusiasm for new edible consumables. The resulting food products promised wondrous solutions for what seemed to be both individual and social ills. By examining creations such as Gail Borden's meat biscuit, Benger's Food, Kellogg's health foods, and Fleischmann's yeast, Wonder Foods shows how new products dazzled with visions of modernity, efficiency, and scientific progress, even as they perpetuated exclusionary views about who deserved to eat, thrive, and live. Drawing on extensive archival research, historian Lisa Haushofer reveals that the story of modern food and nutrition was not about innocuous technological advances or superior scientific insights but rather about the powerful logic of exploitation and economization that undergirded colonial and industrial food projects. In the process, these wonder foods shaped both modern food regimes and how we think about food.

Miracle Food Cures from the Bible Reese Dubin, 1999-04-01 An ever-growing body of scientific research demonstrates the importance of holistic treatments that focus on the mind-body connection for good health. In this regard, the folk remedies of the ancient peoples often prove astonishingly effective. This practical guide helps readers apply the remarkable healing power of many of the foods and herbs described in the Old and New Testaments to common ailments. From the use of red wine to cure bacteria and viruses to the arthritis-easing and wrinkle-removing properties of olive oil, this treasury of practical and inspirational healing secrets includes the sacred medicinal drink that prevents blood clots, relieves pain, and melts fat off artery walls. Real-life examples that demonstrate the curative power of plant oils, figs, grapes, red wine, and the amazing health-giving power of a blessed grain. Information on how doctors and patients have treated canker sores, high blood pressure, tuberculosis, cancer, and heart disease.

The Miracle Foods Cookbook Margaret Jane Smith, 1995 Here each recipe is naturally high in antioxidants, vitamins C and E, and beta-carotene and phytochemicals, which are proven to help slow the aging process, deter cancer, heart disease, stroke, and a long list of other diseases, as well as enhance your immune system and help you lose weight. Each of the mouth-watering recipes takes under 30 minutes to prepare and uses low-cost ingredients found in just about any grocery store.

Sprouts, the Miracle Food Steve Meyerowitz, 1999 Step by step, learn how to grow delicious indoor greens and baby vegetables in just one week from seed to salad. Includes extensive nutrition charts, seed resources, and questions and answers with Sproutman.

Food, Inc. Peter Pringle, 2010-05-11 For most people, the global war over genetically modified foods is a distant and confusing one. The battles are conducted in the mystifying language of genetics. A handful of corporate life science giants, such as Monsanto, are pitted against a worldwide network of anticorporate ecowarriors like Greenpeace. And yet the possible benefits of biotech agriculture to our food supply are too vital to be left to either partisan. The companies claim to be leading a new agricultural revolution that will save the world with crops modified to survive frost, drought, pests, and plague. The greens warn that playing God with plant genes is dangerous. It could create new allergies upset ecosystems destroy biodiversity and produce uncontrollable mutations Worst of all the anti-biotech forces say a single food conglomerate could end up telling us what to eat In Food Inc acclaimed journalist Peter Pringle shows how both sides in this overheated conflict have made false promises engaged in propaganda science and indulged in fear mongering In this urgent dispatch he suggests that a fertile partnership between consumers corporations scientists and farmers could still allow the biotech harvest to reach its full potential in helping to overcome the problem of world hunger providing nutritious food and keeping the environment healthy
