Mirrors A Novel Studies In Middle Eastern Literatures:

Mirrors Naguib Mahfouz, 1999, ١٩٩٩ ميموريال Mirrors is one of Nobel laureate Naguib Mahfouz's more unusual works. First published in serialized form in the Egyptian television magazine, it consists of a series of vignettes of characters from a writer's life, a writer very like Mahfouz himself. Accompanying each vignette is a portrait of the character by a friend of the author, the renowned Alexandrian artist Seif Wanli. Through each vignette, whether of a lifelong friend, a sometime adversary, or a childhood sweetheart, not only is that one character described, but much light is thrown on other characters already familiar or yet to be encountered, as well as on the narrator himself, who we come to know well through the mirrors of his world of acquaintances. At the same time, Mirrors also reflects the recent history of Egypt: its political movements, its leaders, its wars, and its peace, all of which affect the lives of friends and enemies and of the narrator himself. As the translator writes in his Introduction, the narrator's acquaintances from childhood, schooldays, and civil service career take him from the lofty heights of intellectual salons to the seamy squalor of brothels and drug dens, from the dreams of youth and nationalistic ideals to the sobering realities of post-revolutionary society and clashing economic and political values. The apparently simple but penetrating portraits by Seif Wanli add an extra distinctive dimension to this already intriguing book. They originally appeared with the serialized texts in the television magazine but were omitted when the book was first published in 1972 and were also omitted when the English translation first appeared in 1977. Now in this special edition, the pictures and the complete text appear together for the first time.

Reflecting Mirrors, East and West: Transcultural Comparisons of Advice

Literature for Rulers (8th - 13th century) Enrico Boccaccini, 2021-11-15 In Reflecting Mirrors East and West, Enrico Boccaccini sheds new light on Mirrors for Princes, the pre-modern genre of advice literature for rulers. A popular genre in the societies that emerged from the Late Antique oecumene, Mirrors for Princes are considered here for the first time as a transcultural phenomenon that challenges the dichotomy of the Orient and the Occident. Traditionally, the historiographic tradition has viewed European and Middle Eastern Mirrors as distinct and incommensurable. Analyzing the contents and discourses in four Mirrors ostensibly separated by space, time, and language, Enrico Boccaccini convincingly draws out the surprising continuities between these texts while also showing how they are embedded in their own historical literary and political context.

Literaturgeschichte verschaffen möchten Studies in the Short Fiction of Mahfouz and Idris Mona Mikhail, 1992-05 In this comparative approach to the works of two major contemporary Egyptian writers Mona Mikhail identifies existentialism as a major force in their work Her close examination of the images and metaphors that recur in the short fiction of those two writers shows strong affinities with the works of Ernest Hemingway and Albert Camus concentrating on a central preoccupation with the theme of death as a constant in the works of all four writers Mikhail shows how Mahfouz and Idris not only successfully incorporate myth and folklore but also draw upon the rich heritage of classical Arabic Literature as a source for their work Selected Studies on Genre in Middle Eastern Literatures Hülya Çelik, Petr Kučera, 2023-07-07 The examination of literary genres in the Middle East opens the possibility of gaining new insights into the intellectual universe of Middle Eastern societies the question of production of meaning what literature meant in different historical periods and the underlying epistemology of producing knowledge and how this epistemology has changed over time This book comprises 12 case studies from the three major Middle Eastern languages Arabic Persian and Turkish written by experts in the field It brings together a wide range of approaches from the study of epics to an analysis of travelogues and from classical poetry to novels Instead of focusing on one period or juxtaposing the classical genres and the West induced development of modern genres the studies in their totality apply a broad diachronic and synchronic perspective with the potential to create a comparative framework for the study of the sociocultural and narratological dimensions of genre in the Middle East A Critical Companion to the 'Mirrors for Princes' Literature, 2022-12-05 Why devote a Companion to the mirrors for princes whose very existence is debated These texts offer key insights into political thoughts of the past Their ambiguous problematic status further enhances their interest And although recent research has fundamentally challenged established views of these texts until now there has been no critical introduction to the genre This volume therefore fills this important gap while promoting a global historical perspective of different mirrors for princes traditions from antiquity to humanism via Byzantium Persia Islam and the medieval West This Companion also proposes new avenues of reflection on the anchoring of these texts in their historical realities Contributors are Makram Abbas Denise Aigle Olivier Biaggini Hugo Bizzarri Charles F Briggs Sylv ne Edouard Jean Philippe Genet John R Lenz Louise Marlow Cary J Nederman Corinne Peneau St phane P quignot No lle Laetitia Perret G nter Prinzing Volker Reinhardt Hans Joachim Schmidt Tom Stevenson Karl Ubl and Steven J Williams

East Meets West in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Times Albrecht Classen, 2013-09-03 This new volume explores the surprisingly intense and complex relationships between East and West during the Middle Ages and the early modern world combining a large number of critical studies representing such diverse fields as literary German French Italian English Spanish and Arabic and other subdisciplines of history religion anthropology and linguistics The differences between Islam and Christianity erected strong barriers separating two global cultures but as this volume indicates despite many attempts to Other the opposing side the premodern world experienced an astonishing degree of contacts meetings exchanges and influences Scientists travelers authors medical researchers chroniclers diplomats and merchants criss crossed the East and the West or studied the sources produced by the other culture for many different reasons As much as the theoretical concept of Orientalism has been useful in sensitizing us to the fundamental tensions and conflicts separating both worlds at least since the eighteenth century the premodern world did not quite yet operate in such an ideological framework Even though the Crusades had violently pitted Christians against Muslims there were countless contacts and a palpable curiosity on both sides both before during and after those religious warfares

Mirror for the Muslim Prince Mehrzad Boroujerdi, 2013-05-01 In this volume a group of distinguished scholars reinterpret concepts and canons of Islamic thought in Arab Persian South Asian and Turkish traditions They demonstrate that there is no unitary Islamic position on important issues of statecraft and governance They recognize that Islam is a discursive site marked by silences agreements and animated controversies Rigorous debates and profound disagreements among Muslim theologians philosophers and literati have taken place over such questions as What is an Islamic state Was the state ever viewed as an independent political institution in the Islamic tradition of political thought Is it possible that a religion that places an inordinate emphasis upon the importance of good deeds does not indeed have a vigorous notion of public interest or a systematic theory of government Does Islam provide an edifice a common idiom and an ideological mooring for premodern and modern Muslim rulers alike The nuanced reading of the Islamic traditions provided in this book will help future generations of Muslims contemplate a more humane style of statecraft

The Beloved in Middle Eastern Literatures Alireza Korangy, Hanadi Al-Samman, Michael Beard, 2017-05-30 In the long literary history of the Middle East the notion of the beloved has been a central trope in both the poetry and prose of the region This book explores the concept of the beloved in a cross cultural and interdisciplinary manner revealing how shared ideas on the subject supersede geographical and temporal boundaries and ideas of nationhood The book considers the beloved in its classical modern and postmodern manifestations taking into account the different sexual orientations and forms of desire expressed From the pre Islamic Udhri romantic unrequited love to the erotic same sex love in thirteenth century poetry and prose the divine Sufi reflections on the topic and post revolutionary love encounters in Iran Egypt and Saudi Arabia The Beloved in Middle Eastern Literatures connects the affective and cultural with the political and the obscene In focusing on the diverse manifestations of love and tropes of the lover beloved binary this book is unique in foregrounding what is often regarded as a taboo subject in the region The multi faceted outlook reveals the variety of philological philosophical poetic and literary forms that treat this significant motif
