Cinéma&Cie. International Film Studies Journal Aa. Vv., 2015-08-03 T00:00:00+02:00 Over the last two decades discoveries made in the field of cognitive neuroscience have begun to permeate humanities and social sciences This special issue of Cin ma Cie focuses on major conceptual and epistemological arguments arising from the dialogue between audiovisual studies and neurosciences In the context of this intersection Neurofilmology is an interdisciplinary research program that arises at the encounter between two models of viewer the viewer as mind deriving from a cognitive analytical approach and the viewer as body typical of the phenomenological continental approach Accordingly Neurofilmology focuses on the viewer as organism by investigating with both empirical and speculative epistemological tools the subject of audiovisual experience postulated as embodied embedded enacted extended emerging affective and relational In Praise of Cinematic Bastardy Sébastien Lefait, Philippe Ortolí, 2012-03-15 Cinema may be called a bastard art in both meanings of the word because it is usually defined as a hybrid art form obviously but also and perhaps more importantly because it has been able to become formally as well as generically innovative mostly through adulterous relationships thus making illegitimacy its grounding principle by preferring a blurred lineage to a legible succession Trying to find what film is referred to in a sequence therefore amounts to establishing a clear family tree which takes no account of the illegitimate unions natural children and forgotten ancestors that are nevertheless part and parcel of film history If that quest should still be conducted its object it seems should not be one sole point of reference The aim of this book is to create the opportunity of studying and perhaps of rehabilitating those shadowy corners of cinematographic creation and film memory and to provide film studies but also literature and Arts studies altogether with a newly productive way of using such familiar notions as difference quotation reference blending hybridity miscegenation or crossbreeding André Bazin Dudley
