Population In The Global Arena:

Population in the Global Arena Parker G. Marden, 1982 Population in the Global Arena Parker G. Marden, 1981-06-01 Population in the Global Arena Parker G. Marden, 1982 A World of Populations Heinrich Hartmann, Corinna R. Unger, 2014-09-01

Demographic study and the idea of a population was developed and modified over the course of the twentieth century mirroring the political social and cultural situations and aspirations of different societies. This growing field adapted itself to specific policy concerns and was therefore never apolitical despite the protestations of practitioners that demography was natural. Demographics were transformed into public policies that shaped family planning, population growth, medical practice and environmental conservation. While covering a variety of regions and time periods, the essays in this book share an interest in the transnational dynamics of emerging demographic discourses and practices. Together they present a global picture of the history of demographic knowledge.

International Political Economy in Context Andrew C. Sobel, 2013

Although many international political economy texts offer good descriptions of what events have occurred in global economic and political relations, they make little attempt to develop explicit theoretical frameworks explaining why. Andrew Sobel's International Political Economy in Context: Individual Choices, Global Effects takes a micro approach to international political economy that considers the fact that individuals, not nations, make choices. Grounding policy choices in the competitive environs of domestic politics and decision making processes, Sobel illustrates how policymakers choose among alternatives, settling on those that are most in sync with their self interest. The book is structured to build students' skills for a sophisticated understanding of how and why events unfold in the international political economy. Students become versed in the primary assumptions and structural macro conditions of economic and political geography in the global arena. An examination of micro level conditions and mechanisms introduces the factors that influence political and economic outcomes. Students are then able to use those primary assumptions and micro level arrangements to make sense of past and present changes in the global political economy. Those familiar with Sobel's first volume, Political Economy and Global Affairs, will easily find their way through this new book. Anyone looking for a compelling, accessible and fully integrated rational choice perspective on international political economy will find it here.

Participation, Representation and Global Civil Society Jane W. Muthumbi, 2010-03-18

This book focuses on religious fundamentalists' mobilization efforts against abortion in three United Nations Conferences. Using U.S. Christian and Egyptian Islamic fundamentalist groups as empirical cases, this account highlights these groups' efforts against the adoption of abortion in the 1984 Mexico Conference on Population, the 1994 Cairo conference on Population, and the 1995 Beijing Conference on Women. The account, which examines Northern U.S. Christian and Southern Egyptian Islamists' anti-abortion networks, participation and representation within these forums, provides a unique glimpse into their engagement within international institutions. It also explores whether Northern and Southern groups' growing involvement in decision making processes has lessened the inequality that historically characterized North South relations in the international arena and compares the strategies and tactics used by these groups as they attempted to influence the debate on reproductive rights within the conferences PrepComs regional forums NGO Forums and the state dominated plenary sessions It also assesses the extent to which these entities were effective in influencing outcomes in these arenas and comments on North South relations in a contemporary context Information on these groups was obtained from interviews with leaders of the U S Christian and Egyptian Islamic fundamentalist groups as well as secondary sources and official U N documents Population and Resources in a Changing World Kingsley Davis, Mikhail S. Bernstam, Helen M. Sellers, 1989 Global Studies Tuo Cai, Zhenye Liu, 2020-06-07 Since the 1950s globalization has been an increasingly irresistible trend and one that has exerted a tremendous impact on the political economic military environmental and social fortunes of mankind and yet the existing theories in humanities and social sciences have been fundamentally built upon the traditional nation state model These two volumes a pioneering work on global studies to be published out of China aims at creating a new theoretical framework against the backdrop of globalization This volume introduces core concepts and critical issues deploying globalization as a theoretical framework and redefining the interrelationship between politics economics law and globality The two volumes are an essential reference for scholars and students in politics economics international relations and law Global Migrants, Global Refugees Aristide R. Zolberg, Peter M. Benda, 2001-06-01 In recent years several influential commentators have stated or strongly implied that the advanced industrial democracies are today being overwhelmed by a host of problems including rapid population growth the breakup of multi ethnic states environmental degradation and increasing economic differentials between the developing and developed worlds for which no effective solutions are at hand The migration inducing potential of these post Cold War developments has been a particular source of concern This volume provides a counter catastrophic view of developments and a more sober and balanced assessment of the challenges the United States and other industrial democracies face in the sphere of international migration than that offered in recent years The first part is devoted to a diagnosis of the problem revaluation of the notion of a migration crisis by examining the likely consequences of population growth environmental degradation and political conflict in the developing and post communist worlds Special attention is also given to the manifestations of these forces in the western hemisphere where they may have direct consequences for immigration to the United States In the second part the implications for U S policy are considered ranging from promotion of democracy and development of strategies for minimizing international migrations and refugee flows to the intricacies of humanitarian relief and intervention when preventive measures prove ineffective Cultural Competency Training in a Global Society Richard H. Dana, James Allen, 2008-11-13 Cultural competence is more than an admirable goal it is an essential skill set for mental health professionals working in a diverse global society marked by crisis and trauma It is essential for clinicians to understand the intricate mix of history and self concept identity and tradition that are central not only for ameliorating psychological problems but to foster psychological health and well being As the definition of culture takes on broader meanings at once embracing multiple identities and increasing globalization Cultural Competency Training in a Global Society brings a vital perspective and practical understanding to clinical counseling and school psychologists as well as to graduate students entering these fields By describing a comprehensive training model for professional education and practice in the United States with ethnic minority groups indigenous populations immigrants and refugees this book has relevance for other multicultural societies because the implications are multidisciplinary in focus and potentially international in scope The existing and emergent global multicultural populations described in this book represent the neglected human faces of economic globalization Among the topics covered Requirements for professional training in cultural competency Research basis for cultural competency training International resources and their usage in training and practice Multicultural assessment in the service of intervention Evaluating cultural competency training

Thomas, 1999 The contributors contrast this world polity perspective to other approaches to understanding globalization including realist and neo realist analyses in the field of international relations and world system theory and interstate competition theory in sociology European Populations Van der Kaa, 2012-12-06 The changing demographic landscape which Europe is facing today and in the next decades reflects the past These changes constitute important challenges to European populations and societies Shifts in fertility and family formation in health morbidity and mortality in internal and international migration as well as changes in age structures in households in labour forces and in population growth and decline will influence the living conditions and well being of Europe's population directly or indirectly The demographic challenge also concerns the environment local regional and national developments education production and consumption patterns economic competitiveness social security housing employment and transport and health and social care provisions These issues their mechanisms determinants and consequences also challenge the scientific study of population As a major forum and market place for scientific demographic debate the 1999 European Population Conference EPC99 was organized to take up this challenge On the threshold of the third millennium European populations are united in diversity and face major demographic issues

International Migration and the Future of Populations and Labour in Europe Marek Kupiszewski, 2013-02-11 The changes of populations are determined by fertility mortality and migration On the national level international migration is a factor of increasing demographic economic social and political importance This book addresses the debate on the impact of international migration and economic activity on population and labour force resources in future It presents a study conducted for 27 European countries looking 50 years ahead 2002 2052 An extended discussion of theories and factors underlying the assumed evolution of the components of change and economic activity is included as well as a detailed analysis of the historical trends These theoretical and empirical considerations lead to defining scenarios of future mortality fertility economic activity and international migration which have been fed into a projection model producing various future population dynamics and labour force trajectories In addition simulations have been made to estimate the size of replacement migration needed to maintain selected demographic and labour market parameters in the countries of Europe The results presented in this book allow researchers governments and policy makers to evaluate to what extent various migration and labour market policies may be instrumental in achieving the desired population and labour size and structures The secondary purpose of this volume is to reveal the methodology and argumentation lying behind a complex population forecasting and simulation exercise which is not done frequently but is critical for the assessment of the forecasts and also valuable from a purely didactic point of view

Coastal Waters of the World Don Hinrichsen, 2013-03-19 Nearly 60% of the world's population lives and works within 100 miles of a coast and even those who don't are connected to the world's oceans through an intricate drainage of rivers and streams Ultimately the whole of humankind is coastal Coastal Waters of the World is a comprehensive reference source on the state of the world's coastal areas It focuses on the tremendous pressures facing coastal areas and the management systems and strategies needed to cope with them Don Hinrichsen explores the origins and implications of three related issues the overwhelming threats to our coastal resources and seas from population and pollution the destruction of critical resources through unsustainable economic activity and the inability of governments to craft and implement rational coastal management plans Introductory chapters present a concise summary of our coastal problems including coastal habitat degradation and the fisheries crisis along with a discussion of better management options Three case studies of successful coastal governance focus on some of the problems and bring to life potential solutions Following that are regional profiles that provide detailed information on the main population resource and management challenges facing each of the world's thirteen major coastal waters and seas The profiles are presented in a standard format to allow for ease of comparison between regions and accessibility of information The book ends with a realistic and practical agenda for action that can be implemented immediately Safeguarding these complex interlinked ecosystems is humanity's most challenging management job Coastal Waters of the World will help raise our awareness of coastal area concerns and provide a constructive contribution to the ongoing debate over how to manage these ever-changing areas both for ourselves and for future generations It will serve as a valuable reference tool and an up to date resource for policymakers management specialists and students interested in sustainable coastal governance The

United Nations Madrid International Plan of Action on Ageing Marvin Formosa, Mala Kapur Shankardass, 2023-02-23 The United Nations Madrid International Plan of Action on Ageing MIPAA offers a bold new agenda for handling the issue of ageing in the 21st century It focuses on three priority areas older persons and development advancing health and well being into old age and ensuring enabling and supportive environments This book brings together global perspectives on the MIPAA and focusses on and assesses the success and failures of governments to implement its recommendations Despite its pivotal importance in international ageing policy the MIPAA has been relatively neglected by academics in their writings and studies This book mitigates this analytical and empirical cavity Each chapter focuses on one specific geographical region and addresses five key themes national ageing situation twenty years of MIPAA ensuring ageing with dignity healthy and active ageing in a sustainable world and priorities for the future It presents an overall summary of the findings future challenges and opportunities related to ageing recommendations for future actions to be taken and policy adjustments needed The authors also present lessons that were learnt from managing the impact of COVID 19 on older people together with an outlook on the most immediate priorities for the future so that the recommendations in the MIPAA are achieved in post COVID 19 and sustainable ethical scenarios An important contribution towards the advancement of ageing policy the book will be indispensable to students and researchers of gerontology ageing and health It will also be of interest to policy makers geriatricians dementia care specialists social policy makers responsible for ensuring active and healthy ageing and all public sector departments which have specific responsibilities towards improving the quality of life of older adults

Alleviating World Suffering Ronald E. Anderson, 2017-03-01 This is the first volume on the subject of the alleviation of world suffering At the same time it is also the first book framing the fields of global socio economic development world health human rights peace studies sustainability and poverty within the challenge of alleviating suffering and improving quality of life Both international studies and global development have become specialized and fragmented whereas this work assembles all of these development fragments together in order to determine whether common ground exists to make headway in reducing global suffering Leading experts in these various fields of development and suffering have been recruited worldwide to give scholarly assessments of the major human problems and how they can be successfully tackled

Inequalities of the World Göran Therborn, 2006 A groundbreaking exploration of contemporary global inequality by leading scholars from across the world

Challenged Earth: An Overview Of Humanity's Stewardship Of Earth Stephen F Lincoln, 2006-01-11 This timely book provides a comprehensive insight into the challenges facing humanity and Earth in the 21st century It opens with a discussion of the domination of all the continents and oceans by a growing human population This is followed by an appraisal of the extent to which water and food supplies will be able to accommodate this population which may reach eleven billion by 2100 The rapidly increasing ability to change biology and evolution through genomics is considered next and complements a discussion of disease which is viewed largely as an evolutionary struggle between humanity and pathogens A seemingly insatiable demand for energy future energy supplies and the impact of their use on climate and attempts to ameliorate these effects are next examined The book concludes with a discussion of the partial destruction of the ozone layer and the international effort to repair the damage a
