Portraits In The Collection Of The American Antiquarian Society:

Portraits in the Collection of the American Antiquarian Society American Antiquarian Society, Lauren B. Hewes, Linda Jones Docherty, 2004 Portraits in the Collection of the American Antiquarian Society updates the documentation of the Society's portrait collection reflecting its growth since 1946 when Frederick L. Weis prepared a checklist. This work was undertaken by Lauren B. Hewes. The collection is an eclectic one that represents many aspects of the history of the Society: the interests of benefactors who gave their collections to the Society and the impulse to commemorate the Society's leadership. A number of portraits came into the collection with or because of related manuscript or book collections or were commissioned by the Society and for these there is extraordinary information about the circumstances of their production.

Garrett, 1970 Portraits and Furniture at the American Antiquarian Society, 1970 American Portrait Miniatures in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Carrie Rebora Barratt, Lori Zabar, 2010 American Portraits, 1620-1825 Historical Records Survey (Mass.), 1939 Lessons in Likeness Estill Curtis Pennington, 2011. Between 1802 when the young Kentucky artist William Edward West began to paint portraits while on a downriver journey and 1920 when the last of Frank Duveneck's students worked in Louisville a large number of notable portrait artists were active in Kentucky.

and the Ohio River Valley In Lessons in Likeness Portrait Painters in Kentucky and the Ohio River Valley 1802 1920 Estill Curtis Pennington charts the course of those artists as they painted a variety of sitters drawn from both urban and rural society The work is illustrated when possible from The Filson Historical Society collection of some four hundred portraits representing one of the most extensive holdings available for study in the region Portraiture involves artists and subjects known as sitters and is an art that combines elements of biography aesthetics and cultural history Private portraits often attract an oral history that enlivens the more colorful aspects of local tradition and culture Public portraits of towering figures such as George Washington Henry Clay and Abraham Lincoln were often reproduced in printed format to satisfy popular demand and subsequently attained an iconic timeless status Lessons in Likeness is organized in two parts Part One the cultural chronology serves as a backdrop to the biographies of the portrait artists This section identifies stylistic sources and significant historical moments that influenced the artists and their milieus Rather than working in isolation portrait artists were connected to the world around them and influenced by prevailing trends in their trade Early in the nineteenth century for instance Matthew Jouett journeyed to Boston for study with Gilbert Stuart and upon his return to Kentucky painted in a style that subsequently influenced an entire generation Later artists notably Oliver Frazer and William Edward West studied the lessons of Thomas Sully in Philadelphia Sully popularized the lush warmly colored and highly flattering style of portraiture practiced by many of the itinerant artists whose careers were facilitated by the introduction of steam and rail travel The Civil War provoked a dramatic shift in the cultural terrain further augmented by the rise of photography and the emergence of academic art centers Painters who had previously worked with a master painter or learned on their own were now able to study at established schools especially in Cincinnati which became one of the leading centers for the teaching of art in late nineteenth century America Several of the teachers there Frank Duveneck and Thomas Satterwhite Noble in particular had firsthand experience with avant garde European styles notably the realism and naturalism practiced in Munich and Paris in the last quarter of the nineteenth century and then taught in the art schools of New York and Philadelphia Part Two profiles the artists from this area and period who have appeared in previous art historical literature and have an identifiable body of work represented in public and private collections Individual biographies provide details of the artists lives sources for further study and locations of works in public collections

Transactions and Collections of the American Antiquarian Society American Antiquarian Society, 1901 American Portraits, 1620-1825 Historical Records Survey (Mass.), 1939 Studies in Ephemera Kevin Murphy, Sally O'Driscoll, 2013-01-30 Studies in Ephemera Text and Image in Eighteenth Century Print bring together established and emerging scholars of early modern print culture to explore the dynamic relationships between words and illustrations in a wide variety of popular cheap print from the seventeenth to the early nineteenth century While ephemera was ubiquitous in the period it is scarcely visible to us now because only a handful of the thousands of examples once in existence have been preserved Nonetheless single sheet printed works as well as pamphlets and chapbooks constituted a central part of visual and literary culture and were eagerly consumed by rich and poor alike in Great Britain North America and on the Continent Displayed in homes posted in taverns and other public spaces or visible in shop windows on city streets ephemeral works used sensational means to address themes of great topicality The English broadside ballad of central concern in this volume grew out of oral culture the genre addressed issues of nationality history gender and sexuality economics and more Richly illustrated and well researched Studies in Ephemera offers interdisciplinary perspectives into how ephemeral works reached their audiences through visual and textual means It also includes essays that describe how collections of ephemera are categorized in digital and conventional archives and how our understanding of these works is shaped by their organization into collections This timely and fascinating book will appeal to archivists and students and scholars in many fields including art history comparative literature social and economic history and English literature Contributors Georgia Barnhill Theodore Barrow Tara Burk Adam Fox Alexandra Franklin Patricia Fumerton Paula McDowell Kevin D Murphy Sally O Driscoll Ruth Perry
