Studies John P. Lunstrum, Bob L. Taylor, 1978 Teaching Reading in Social Studies Jane K. Doty, Mary Lee Barton, 2003

Explores the challenges of reading in the context of mathematics Teaching Reading in Content Areas Harold L. Herber, 1970

By the time an elementary or secondary school student has finished a course much of what he has learned may already be outdated Clearly learning of facts cannot be the main goal of formal education Students must be prepared to understand key concepts and know how to acquire further knowledge on their own This practical guide book for elementary and secondary school teachers is founded on two basic premises 1 Students need to be taught how to learn and 2 too few teachers know how to guide their students learning to develop content and process at the same time Many practice assumptive teaching giving assignments without adequate guidance and assuming students know how to learn the material assigned Teaching Reading in Content Areas is a guide to teachers of basic school subjects English social studies mathematics science who wish to teach learning skills along with subject matter At the same time it offers ways to modify suggested procedures The book is deliberately designed to give teachers the experiences they are encouraged to give their students to show them how to do what they are asked to do technical vocabulary is explained at beginnings of chapters Study guide materials accompanying chapters are like those to be used in content areas Ample illustrative lesson materials accompany explanations Procedures have been tested in the classroom by experienced teachers and specific guides to each of the basic subject areas English social studies mathematics and science are given A separate bibliography appears at the end of the book Engaging Students in Disciplinary Literacy, K-6 Cynthia H. Brock, Virginia J. Goatley, Taffy E. Raphael, Elisabeth Trost-Shahata, Catherine M. Weber, 2014-03-01

This accessible book will help elementary school teachers improve literacy instruction inside or outside the Common Core environment The authors address teachers instructional needs by introducing key concepts from current trends in literacy education from high level standards to the use of 21st century literacies Readers then follow teachers as they successfully implement the curriculum they developed to promote high level thinking and engagement with disciplinary content The text focuses on three disciplinary literacy units of instruction a science unit in a 2nd grade classroom a social studies history unit in a 4th grade classroom and a mathematics unit in a 6th grade classroom Each unit revolves around a central inquiry question and includes research based strategies for using reading writing and classroom talk as tools to foster disciplinary understandings This unique insider's look at how real teachers build and implement a Common Core aligned curriculum will be an invaluable resource for teachers schools and districts as they move forward to align their own curricula Reading in Secondary Content Areas Zhihui Fang, Mary Schleppegrell, 2008

What does it mean to teach reading in the context of the middle and high school classroom Don't students already know how to read by the time they get to secondary school And how can a busy teacher take time away from the packed curriculum of science history mathematics or language arts to teach reading This book presents a linguistic approach to teaching reading in different subjects an approach that focuses on language itself Central to this approach is a view that knowledge is constructed in and through language and that language changes with changes in knowledge As students move from elementary to secondary schools they encounter specialized knowledge and engage in new contexts of learning in all subjects This means that the language of secondary school learning is quite different from the language of the elementary years While in the elementary years the subject matter of reading materials is often close to students everyday life experiences the curriculum of secondary school deals with knowledge that is removed from students personal lives and everyday contexts The language that constructs this more specialized knowledge thus tends to be more abstract technical information laden and hierarchically organized than the more familiar and friendly language that students typically encounter during the elementary years Students need to develop specialized literacies literacy relevant to each content area as well as a critical literacy they can use across subject areas to engage with reflect on and assess specialized and advanced knowledge This functional language analysis approach is shown using actual secondary social studies science and math textbooks and using a literary text
