Cho, 2021-10-21 Sung Cho addresses the seeming contradiction of Herod the Great's massacre in Matthew 2:16-18 questioning why such a tragedy had to occur why it was included in the good news of Jesus and what connection it has to ancient prophecies In creating a reception history of the Massacre of the Innocents Cho progresses through two millennia worth of interpretation and depiction to highlight key works for discussion Beginning with a close reading of Matthew 2:16-18 Cho moves to analyse depictions of the tragedy in the Early Patristic Tradition from the sixth century to the early modern period and thus to the present day complete with an examination of visual interpretations of the massacre Cho's examination provides a positive step to understanding the depths of human suffering with the help of many diverse perspectives Matthew 1-13, Volume 33A Donald A. Jesus, Contradicted Michael R. Licona, 2024-05-28 The differences and discrepancies in the Gospels constitute the foremost objections to their reliability and the credibility of their message Some have tried to resolve Gospels contradictions with strained harmonization efforts Many others conclude that the Gospels are hopelessly contradictory and therefore historically unreliable accounts of Jesus In Jesus Contradicted New Testament scholar Michael Licona shows how the genre of ancient biography to which the Gospels belong actually allows biographers to be flexible in how they report events construct a narrative and make an argument Licona demonstrates that the intentional changes to the Jesus tradition by the Evangelists reveal that the differences in how the Gospels report events are not grounds for their rejection Instead they are a result of the Gospel writers employing standard literary conventions common in their time for writing ancient biography Licona introduces readers to the genre of ancient biography through Plutarch who wrote 48 of the 90 extant biographies written within 150 years of Jesus giving numerous examples of compositional devices employed by Plutarch and comparing them with instances in the Gospels where the Evangelists appear to use similar techniques Licona also examines Theon's Progymnasmata a first century textbook that provides six techniques for paraphrasing one's sources when writing a narrative In doing so he helps readers understand why the Gospels report many events differently Finally Licona concludes by addressing the thorny question of whether the editorial moves commonplace in ancient biography are compatible with the doctrines of the divine inspiration and the inerrancy of Scripture Rather than trying to resolve discrepancies by bending the Gospel narrative which risks making them say things they aren't saying Jesus Contradicted situates the Gospels within their proper context and helps readers account for differences in the Gospels in a cohesive and historically cogent way

Matthew's Transfiguration Story and Jewish-Christian Controversy A. D. A. Moses, 1996-01-01 The Gospel accounts of the transfiguration of Jesus continue to puzzle the average reader The purpose of this book is to address some of the perplexing issues surrounding the event and to explain the significance of the transfiguration particularly in Matthew's Gospel It demonstrates that Matthew's account of the event is to be seen in the context of first century controversy between Christians and Jews about Jesus and Moses with the Jews emphasizing Moses greatness and Matthew portraying the transfiguration within Moses Sinai categories and also in terms of the enigmatic Son of Man figure in Daniel 7 Possible influence of the transfiguration event is also seen elsewhere particularly in 2 Corinthians 3 and 4 where the author argues Paul uses his Damascus road experience as a counter to his opponents emphasis on the law and Peter s witness to Jesus transfiguration

What Are the Gospels? Richard A. Burridge,2004-08-09 The publication of Richard Burridge s What Are the Gospels in 1992 inaugurated a transformation in Gospel studies by overturning the previous consensus about Gospel uniqueness Burridge argued convincingly for an understanding of the Gospels as biographies a ubiquitous genre in the Graeco Roman world To establish this claim Burridge compared each of the four canonical Gospels to the many extant Graeco Roman biographies Drawing on insights from literary theory he demonstrated that the previously widespread view of the Gospels as unique compositions was false Burridge went on to discuss what a properly biographical perspective might mean for Gospel interpretation which was amply demonstrated in the revised second edition reflecting on how his view had become the new consensus This third twenty fifth anniversary edition not only celebrates the continuing influence of What Are the Gospels but also features a major new contribution in which Burridge analyzes recent debates and scholarship about the Gospels Burridge both answers his critics and reflects upon the new directions now being taken by those who accept the biographical approach This new edition also features as an appendix a significant article in which he tackles the related problem of the genre of Acts A proven book with lasting staying power What Are the Gospels is not only still as relevant and instructive as it was when first published but will also doubtlessly inspire new research and scholarship in the years ahead Provided by publisher

Back to the Well Frances Taylor Gench,2004-07-19 Exploring six Gospel texts in which women encounter Jesus Frances Taylor Gench encourages us to view these stories anew through the eyes of contemporary biblical scholarship Summarizing and making accessible the work of a diversity of feminist scholars while also engaging many of the more traditional voices of the past she examines each story s language structure and literary and socio cultural context and recounts many traditional and contemporary interpretations In the process she opens up new possibilities for reading these texts Includes helpful questions
