Readings In Medieval Texts:

Readings in Medieval Texts David Frame Johnson, Elaine M. Treharne, 2005 Readings in Medieval Texts offers a thorough and accessible introduction to the interpretation and criticism of a broad range of Old and Middle English canonical texts from the ninth to the fifteenth centuries. The volume brings together 24 newly commissioned chapters by a leading international team of medieval scholars. An introductory chapter highlights the overarching trends in the composition of English Literature in the Medieval periods and provides an overview of the textual continuities and innovations. Individual chapters give detailed information about context, authorship, date, and critical views on texts, before providing fascinating and thought-provoking examinations of crucial excerpts and themes. This book will be invaluable for undergraduate and graduate students on all courses in Medieval Studies, particularly those focusing on understanding literature and its role in society.

Reading Old English Texts Katherine O'Brien O'Keeffe, 1997-08-28 Reading Old English Texts first published in 1997 focuses on the critical methods being used and developed for reading and analysing writings in Old English. The collection is timely given the explosion of interest in the theory, method, and practice of critical reading. Each chapter engages with work on Old English texts from a particular methodological stance. The authors are all experts in the field but are also concerned to explain their method and its application to a broad undergraduate and graduate readership. The chapters include a brief historical background to the approach, a definition of the field or method under consideration, a discussion of some exemplary criticism with a balance of prose and verse passages, an illustration of the ways in which texts are read through this approach, and some suggestions for future work.

Feminist Readings in Middle English Literature Dr Ruth Evans, Ruth Evans, Leslie Johnson, 2005-08-04 This volume, designed with the student reader in mind, is an indispensable blend of key essays in the field with specially commissioned new material by feminist scholars from the UK and the US. It includes a diversity of texts and feminist approaches, a substantial and very illuminating introduction by the editors, and an annotated list of Further Reading offering preliminary guidance to the reader approaching the topic of gender and medieval literature for the first time. Works and writers covered include Chaucer, Margery Kempe, Christine de Pisan, The Katherine group, Saints' Lives, Langland's Piers Plowman, Medieval cycle drama. Students of both medieval and feminist literature will find this an essential work for study and reference.

Archetypal Readings of Medieval Literature Charlotte Spivack, Christine Herold, 2003

Materializing Englishness in Early Medieval Texts Jacqueline Fay, 2022 Provides a new way of understanding how people became English during the Anglo-Saxon period by tracing the links between Englishness and the body in the texts and culture of this time.

Medievalism and the Academy II David Metzger, 2000 The second part of Medievalism and the Academy identifies the four specific questions that have come to focus recent scholarship in medievalism: What is difference? What is theory? Woman/God? The impact of cultural studies on contemporary medieval studies is investigated in this latest volume of Studies in Medievalism, which also offers an account of the developing interest of contemporary cultural theorists.

in the medieval period Rather than dismissing the connection between medieval studies and cultural criticism as an expression of academic self interest the essays identify specific questions which engage both such as race history women religion and literature Topics include the use of Augustine by postcolonial theorists the influence of studies in medieval mysticism on the development of women's studies programs and the influence of Foucault and New Historicism on the study of medieval history Contributors ELLIE RAGLAND TIMOTHY RICHARDSON MICHAEL BERNARD DONALD CLAY KINSNER LINDA SEXSON REBECCA DOUGLASS LOUISE SYLVESTER RICHARD GLEJZER CHARLES WILSON ANDREW J DELL OLIO
