Romantic Science The Literary Forms Of Natural History:

Romantic Science Noah Heringman, 2003-07-02 Uncovers the vital role that new scientific discoveries played in Romantic literary culture

Romantic Science Noah Heringman, 2012-02-01 Although romantic science may sound like a paradox much of the romance surrounding modern science the mad scientist the intuitive genius the utopian transformation of nature originated in the Romantic period Romantic Science traces the literary and cultural politics surrounding the formation of the modern scientific disciplines emerging from eighteenth century natural history Revealing how scientific concerns were literary concerns in the Romantic period the contributors uncover the vital role that new discoveries in earth plant and animal sciences played in the period s literary culture As Thomas Pennant put it in 1772 Natural History is at present the favourite science over all Europe and the progress which has been made in it will distinguish and characterise the eighteenth century in the annals of literature As they examine the social and literary ramifications of a particular branch or object of natural history the contributors to this volume historicize our present intellectual landscape by reimagining and redrawing the disciplinary boundaries between literature and science Contributors include Alan Bewell Rachel Crawford Noah Heringman Theresa M Kelley Amy Mae King Lydia H Liu Anne K Mellor Stuart Peterfreund and Catherine E Ross

Autobiography and Natural Science in the Age of Romanticism Bernhard Kuhn, 2016-04-15 Set against the backdrop of a rapidly fissuring disciplinary landscape where poetry and science are increasingly viewed as irreconcilable and unrelated Bernhard Kuhn s study uncovers a previously ignored fundamental connection between autobiography and the natural sciences Examining the autobiographies and scientific writings of Rousseau Goethe and Thoreau as representative of their ages Kuhn challenges the now entrenched thesis of the two cultures Rather these three writers are exemplary in that their autobiographical and scientific writings may be read not as separate or even antithetical but as mutually constitutive projects that challenge the newly emerging boundaries between scientific and humanistic thought during the Romantic period Reading each writer s life stories and nature works side by side as they were written Kuhn reveals the scientific character of autobiographical writing while demonstrating the autobiographical nature of natural science He considers all three writers in the context of scientific developments in their own times as well as ours showing how each one marks a distinctive stage in the growing estrangement of the arts and sciences from the self assured epistemic unity of Rousseau s time to the splintering of disciplines into competing ways of knowing under the pressures of specialization and professionalization during the late Romantic age of Thoreau His book thus traces an unfolding drama in which these writers and their contemporaries each situated in an intellectual landscape more fragmented than the last seek to keep together what modern culture is determined to break apart

Handbook of British Romanticism Ralf Haekel, 2017-09-11 The Handbook of British Romanticism is a state of the art investigation of Romantic literature and theory a field that probably changed more quickly and more fundamentally than any other traditional era in literary studies Since the early 1980s

Romantic studies has widened its scope significantly The canon has been expanded hitherto ignored genres have been investigated and new topics of research explored After these profound changes intensified by the general crisis of literary theory since the turn of the millennium traditional concepts such as subjectivity imagination and the creative genius have lost their status as paradigms defining Romanticism The handbook will feature discussions of key concepts such as history class gender science and the use of media as well as a thorough account of the most central literary genres around the turn of the 19th century The focus of the book however will lie on a discussion of key literary texts in the light of the most recent theoretical developments Thus the Handbook of British Romanticism will provide students with an introduction to Romantic literature in general and literary scholars with a discussion of innovative and groundbreaking theoretical developments

Romantic Naturalists, Early Environmentalists Dewey W. Hall, 2016-04-08 In his study of Romantic naturalists and early environmentalists Dewey W Hall asserts that William Wordsworth and Ralph Waldo Emerson were transatlantic literary figures who were both influenced by the English naturalist Gilbert White In Part 1 Hall examines evidence that as Romantic naturalists interested in meteorology Wordsworth and Emerson engaged in proto environmental activity that drew attention to the potential consequences of the locomotive s incursion into Windermere and Concord In Part 2 Hall suggests that Wordsworth and Emerson shaped the early environmental movement through their work as poets turned naturalists arguing that Wordsworth influenced Octavia Hill s contribution to the founding of the United Kingdom s National Trust in 1895 while Emerson inspired John Muir to spearhead the United States National Parks movement in 1890 Hall s book traces the connection from White as a naturalist turned poet to Muir as the quintessential early environmental activist who camped in Yosemite with President Theodore Roosevelt Throughout Hall raises concerns about the growth of industrialization to make a persuasive case for literature s importance to the rise of environmentalism Creating Romanticism S.

Ruston, 2013-05-29 This book argues that the term Romanticism should be more culturally inclusive recognizing the importance of scientific and medical ideas that helped shape some of the key concepts of the period such as natural rights the creative imagination and the sublime Worm Work Janelle A. Schwartz, 2012 Worms Natural history is riddled with them Literature is crawling with them From antiquity to today the ubiquitous and multiform worm provokes an immediate discomfort and unconscious distancing it remains us against them in anthropocentric anxiety So there is always something muddled or dirty or even offensive when talking about worms Rehabilitating the lowly worm into a powerful aesthetic trope Janelle A Schwartz proposes a new framework for understanding such a strangely animate nature Worms she declares are the very matter with which the Romantics rethought the relationship between a material world in constant flux and the human mind working to understand it Worm Work studies the lesser known natural historical records of Abraham Trembley and his contemporaries and the familiar works of Erasmus Darwin Charles Darwin William Blake Mary Shelley and John Keats to expose the worm as an organism that is not only reviled as a taxonomic terror but revered as a sign of great order in nature as well as narrative This book traces a pattern of cultural production a vermiculture that is as transformative of matter as it is of mind It distinguishes decay or division as positive processes in Romantic era writings compounded by generation or renewal and used to represent the biocentric complex structuring of organicism Offering the worm as an archetypal figure through which to recast the evolution of a literary order alongside questions of taxonomy from 1740 to 1820 and on Schwartz unearths Romanticism as a rich humus of natural historical investigation and literary creation The Thing about Museums Sandra Dudley,Amy Jane Barnes,Jennifer Binnie,Julia Petrov,Jennifer Walklate,2011-08-26 The Things about Museums constitutes a unique highly diverse collection of essays discussing how objects are constructed in museums the ways in which visitors may directly experience those objects how objects are utilised within particular representational strategies and forms and the challenges and opportunities presented by using objects to communicate difficult and contested matters The Divine in the Commonplace Amy M. King,2019-07-18 Explores how natural theology features in both early Victorian natural histories and English provincial realist novels of the same period The Cambridge Companion to the Romantic Sublime Cian Duffy,2023-07-20 An accessible and wide ranging introduction to one of the most important aspects of the cultural history of the Romantic period The Routledge Companion to Literature and Science Bruce Clarke,Manuela Rossini,2010-09-13 With forty four newly commissioned articles from an international cast of leading scholars The Routledge Companion to Literature and Science traces the network of connections among literature science technology mathematics and medicine Divided into three main sections this volume links diverse literatures to scientific disciplines from Artificial Intelligence to Thermodynamics surveys current theoretical and disciplinary approaches from Animal Studies to Semiotics traces the history and culture of literature and science from Greece and Rome to Postmodernism Ranging from classical origins and modern revolutions to current developments in cultural science studies and the posthumanities this indispensable volume offers a comprehensive resource for undergraduates postgraduates and researchers With authoritative accessible and succinct treatments of the sciences in their literary dimensions and cultural frameworks here is the essential guide to this vibrant area of study Marking Time Joel Faflak,2017-01-01 Marking Time edited by Joel Faflak analyses prevailing notions of evolution by tracing its origins to the literary scientific and philosophical discourses of the long nineteenth century Uncommon Contexts: Encounters between Science and Literature, 1800-1914 Ben Marsden,Hazel Hutchinson,Ralph O'Connor,2016-09-12 Britain in the long nineteenth century developed an increasing interest in science of all kinds Whilst poets and novelists took inspiration from technical and scientific innovations those directly engaged in these new disciplines relied on literary techniques to communicate their discoveries to a wider audience The essays in this collection uncover this symbiotic relationship between literature and science at the same time bridging the disciplinary gulf between the history of science and literary studies Specific case studies include the engineering language used by Isambard Kingdom Brunel the role of physiology in the development of the sensation novel and how mass communication made people lonely

Regenerating Romanticism Melissa Bailes, 2023-04-27 Within key texts of Romantic era aesthetics William Wordsworth S T Coleridge and other writers and theorists pointed to the poet naturalist and physician Erasmus Darwin as exemplifying a lack of originality and sensibility in the period s scientific literature the very qualities that such literature had actually sought to achieve The success of this strawman tactic in establishing Romantic era principles resulted in the historical devaluation of numerous other especially female imaginative authors creating misunderstandings about the aesthetic intentions of the period s scientific literature that continue to hinder and mislead scholars even today Regenerating Romanticism demonstrates that such strategies enabled some literary critics and arbiters of Romantic era aesthetics to portray literature and science as locked in competition with one another while also establishing standards for the literary canon that mirrored developing ideas of scientific or biological sexism and racism With this groundbreaking study Melissa Bailes renovates understandings of sensibility and its importance to the late eighteenth and early nineteenth century movement of scientific literature within genres such as poetry novels travel writing children s literature and literary criticism that obviously and technically engage with the natural sciences

The Routledge Research Companion to Nineteenth-Century British Literature and Science John Holmes, Sharon Ruston, 2017-05-18 Tracing the continuities and trends in the complex relationship between literature and science in the long nineteenth century this companion provides scholars with a comprehensive authoritative and up to date foundation for research in this field In intellectual material and social terms the transformation undergone by Western culture over the period was unprecedented Many of these changes were grounded in the growth of science Yet science was not a cultural monolith then any more than it is now and its development was shaped by competing world views To cover the full range of literary engagements with science in the nineteenth century this companion consists of twenty seven chapters by experts in the field which explore crucial social and intellectual contexts for the interactions between literature and science how science affected different genres of writing and the importance of individual scientific disciplines and concepts within literary culture Each chapter has its own extensive bibliography The volume as a whole is rounded out with a synoptic introduction by the editors and an afterword by the eminent historian of nineteenth century science Bernard Lightman

Far Off Metal River Emilie Cameron, 2015-06-01 Far Off Metal River examines how explorer Samuel Hearne s account of the alleged 1771 Bloody Falls massacre in the Central Arctic has shaped ongoing colonization and economic exploitation of the North As Emilie Cameron demonstrates the Arctic has for centuries been treated like a blank page onto which a long line of explorers missionaries anthropologists resource companies and politicians have inscribed stories that serve their own interests These stories have played a central role in shaping the region including efforts to open the North to industrial resource extraction Consequently Qablunaat non Inuit non Indigenous people have a responsibility to question their relationships with the North and northerners first by placing these stories within their proper historical geographical and social context and then by developing new understandings and new relationships that reflect the actual political cultural economic environmental and social landscapes of the contemporary Arctic landscapes of the contemporary Arctic

Dark Romanticism Silvia Riccardi, 2025-07-10 This book explores the dark regions of Romantic imagination in late eighteenth and early nineteenth century literature and art It uncovers the palpable and pleasing anxiety about the human body in the works of Henry Fuseli William Blake and Mary Shelley focusing on the negotiations of pleasure and pain life and death beauty and monstrosity Each of the works examined revolves in some manner around the breakdown of an idealized body in order to illuminate the transition from organic to fragmented form This approach involves reorienting conventional accounts of Romanticism around the emergence of a visual paradigm Engaging with cultures of print aesthetic discourse anatomical art as well as natural historical knowledge circulating in England at the turn of the century Dark Romanticism cultivates visual literacy and argues that literary and pictorial elements are inseparable when imagination is at work

British Women and the Intellectual World in the Long Eighteenth Century Dr Teresa Barnard, 2015-07-28 Highlighting the remarkable women who found ways around the constraints placed on their intellectual growth this collection shows that long eighteenth century writers usurped subjects perceived as masculine to contribute to scientific political philosophical and theological debate and progress This multifaceted volume goes beyond traditional readings of women's creativity to add fresh at times controversial insights into the female view of the intellectual world

English Literature in Context Paul Poplawski, 2017-05-18 From Anglo Saxon runes to postcolonial rap this undergraduate textbook covers the social and historical contexts of the whole of the English literature
