locus of a categorical and inimitable difference This book analyses the debate between renewal and utopia in Western attitudes to Constantinople as it evolved through the twelfth and thirteenth centuries in a series of vernacular Old French Occitan and Franco Italian texts including the Pèlerinage de Charlemagne Girart de Roussillon Partonopeus de Blois the poetry of Rutebeuf and the chronicles by Geoffroy de Villehardouin and Robert de Clari both known as the Conquête de Constantinople It establishes how the texts representation of the West s relationship with Constantinople enacts this debate between renewal and utopia demonstrates that analysis of this relationship can contribute to a discussion on the generic status of the texts themselves and shows that the texts both react to the socio cultural context in which they were produced and fulfil a role within that context P 4 of cover Poètes et romanciers du moyen âge, 1950 HISTOIRE DU ROMAN ET DE SES RAPPORTS AVEC ALEXIS CHASSANG, 1862 The Medieval Tradition of Thebes Dominique Battles, 2004-06 First Published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Roman de Brut Wace, 2024-01-11 This volume provides an accessible English prose translation of Wace s Roman de Brut in which Arthur appears for the first time as king of the Britons Shifts and Transpositions in Medieval Narrative Karen Pratt, 1994 Studies of the relationship between tradition and innovation in a number of medieval romances The Forest of Medieval Romance Corinne J. Sainte-Maure's Roman de Troie Maud Burnett McInerney, 2021 An exciting new approach to one of the most important texts of medieval Europe The story of the Trojan War has been told and retold across the ages from Homer's Iliad and Virgil's Aeneid to recent film and television adaptations The peoples of medieval Europe were especially enthralled with the tale of the siege of the great city by the Greeks and by the fourteenth century virtually every royal house in Europe traced its ancestry to some long ago Trojan warrior The medieval West however had no access to Homer and though Virgil was certainly read the most influential version of the Troy story for centuries was that recounted in the Roman de Troie by Benoît de Sainte Maure This massive poem in Old French claimed to be a translation of two eyewitness accounts of the War both actually late antique forgeries but it is in reality a largely original tapestry of chivalric exploits elaborate descriptions and marvellous creatures such as centaurs and Amazons The love story of Troilus and Briseida was invented in its pages later inspiring Boccaccio Chaucer and Shakespeare The huge popularity of the Roman de Troie allowed medieval dynasties to create new kinds of political authority by extending their pedigrees back into days of legend and was an essential element in the inauguration of a new genre romance This book uses approaches from theories of translation and temporality to develop its analysis of the Roman de Troie and its context It reads the text against Geoffrey of Monmouth's History of the Kings of Britain to argue that Benoît is a participant in the Anglo Norman invention of a new kind of history It develops readings grounded in both gender studies and queer theory to demonstrate the ways in which the Roman de Troie participates in the invention of romance time even as it uses its queer characters to cast doubt upon the optimistic genealogical fantasies of romance Finally it argues that the great series of ekphrastic passages so characteristic of the Roman de Troie operate as lieux de mémoire epitomizing the potential of poetry to stop time at least in the moment The author also provides an overview of the complex manuscript tradition of the Roman de Troie in support of the contention that the text deserves to be central to any study of medieval literature Routledge Revivals: Medieval France (1995) William W. Kibler, Grover A. Zinn, 2017-07-05 First published in 1995 Medieval France An Encyclopedia is the first single volume reference work on the history and culture of medieval France It covers the political intellectual literary and musical history of the country from the early fifth to the late fifteenth century The shorter entries offer succinct summaries of the lives of individuals events works cities monuments and other important subjects followed by essential bibliographies Longer essay length articles provide interpretive comments about significant institutions and important periods or events The Encyclopedia is thoroughly cross referenced and includes a generous selection of illustrations maps charts and genealogies It is especially strong in its coverage of economic issues women music religion and literature This comprehensive work of over 2 400 entries will be of key interest to students and scholars as well as general readers The Journal of Medieval and Renaissance Studies, 1994 Cosmopolis, 1898 The Theme of Love in the Romans D'antiquité Rosemarie Jones, 1972 Poetes et romanciers du moyen age Albert Pauphilet, 1967 The Idea of the Castle in Medieval England Abigail Wheatley, 2004

Medieval castles have traditionally been explained as feats of military engineering and tools of feudal control but Abigail Wheatley takes a different approach looking at a range of sources usually neglected in castle studies Evidence from contemporary literature and art reveals the castle s place at the heart of medieval culture as an architecture of ideas every bit as sophisticated as the church architecture of the period This study offers a genuinely fresh perspective Most castle scholars confine themselves to historical documents but Wheatley examines literary and artistic evidence for its influence on and response to contemporary castle architecture Sermons seals and ivory caskets local legends and Roman ruins all have their part to play What emerges is a fascinating web of cultural resonances the castle is implicated in every aspect of medieval consciousness from private religious contemplation to the creation of national mythologies This book makes a compelling case for a new interdisciplinary approach to castle studies ABIGAIL WHEATLEY studied for her PhD at York University s Centre for Medieval Studies
