The Rope, The Chair, and the Needle James W. Marquart, Sheldon Ekland-Olson, Jonathan R. Sorensen, 2010-01-01 In late summer 1923 legal hangings in Texas came to an end and the electric chair replaced the gallows Of 520 convicted capital offenders sentenced to die between 1923 and 1972 361 were actually executed thus maintaining Texas traditional reputation as a staunch supporter of capital punishment This book is the single most comprehensive examination to date of capital punishment in any one state drawing on data for legal executions from 1819 to 1990 The authors show persuasively how slavery and the racially biased practice of lynching in Texas led to the institutionalization and public approval of executions skewed according to race class and gender and they also track long term changes in public opinion up to the present The stories of the condemned are masterfully interwoven with fact and interpretation to provide compelling reading for scholars of law criminal justice race relations history and sociology as well as partisans on both sides of the debate The Snake and the Rope Elder, 2012-04 While there are many psychological monographs on Hinduism no work has surveyed the history of that tradition in a sustained way Thus The Snake and the Rope A Jungian View of Hinduism breaks new ground both for religious studies and for psychology

Trained on both sides of the argument the author of this work is uniquely qualified to elucidate what for example the Vedic hymns meant to the people who composed them and what they might mean for us today He shows us what karma means for Hindus and what Jung says it can mean for us We learn how Jungians use the term Self that Jung borrowed from the Upanishads and how it is the same and different in its new modern context The reader will witness a red thread of goddess worship from earliest India to Classical Hinduism Jung says the modern equivalent is devotion to the collective unconscious deep within ourselves Having served as a Peace Corps Volunteer in a Thai village in the late 1960 s George R Elder returned to the States to earn a Ph D in Buddhist Studies from Columbia University He subsequently taught Comparative Religions at Hunter College City University of New York and would co chair the Religion Program for several years In 1989 Dr Elder and his family relocated to Florida He trained to become a Jungian analyst and maintains a professional relationship with the C G Jung Study Center of Southern California His works include The Body An Encyclopedia of Archetypal Symbolism in collaboration with ARAS Shambhala 1996 He recently co edited An American Jungian In Honor of Edward F Edinger Inner City 2009
