Encyclopedia of Beat Literature Kurt Hemmer, 2010-05-12 Discusses the literary works and great authors of the Beat Generation Breaking the Rule of Cool Nancy McCampbell Grace, Ronna C. Johnson, 2012 BIOGRAPHY LITERARY CRITICISM The Beat movement nurtured many female dissidents and artists who contributed to Beat culture and connected the Beats with the second wave of the women's movement Although they have often been eclipsed by the men of the Beat Generation the women's contributions to Beat literature are considerable Covering writers from the beginning of the movement in the 1950s and extending to the present this book features interviews with nine of the best known women Beat writers including Diane di Prima Ruth Weiss Joyce Johnson Hettie Jones Joanne Kyger Brenda Frazer Bonnie Bremser Janine Pommy Vega Anne Waldman and the critic Ann Charters Each is presented by a biographical essay that details her literary or scholarly accomplishments In these recent interviews the nine writers recall their lives in Beat bohemia and discuss their artistic practices Nancy M Grace outlines the goals and revelations of the interviews and introduces the community of female Beat writers created in their conversations with the authors Although they have not received attention equal to the men women Beat writers rebelled against mainstream roles for young women and were exuberant participants in creating the Beat scene Mapping their unique identities in the Beat movement Ronna C Johnson shows how their poetry fiction and memoirs broke the male rule that defined Beat women as silent bohemian chicks rather than artistic peers Breaking the Rule of Cool combines the interviews with literary criticism and biography to illustrate the vivacity and intensity of women Beat writers and argues that American literature was revitalized as much by the women's work as by that of their male counterparts Nancy M Grace a professor of English at the College of Wooster is the author of The Feminized Male Character in Twentieth Century Literature Her work has appeared in Contemporary Literature the Beat Scene and the Artful Dodge Ronna C Johnson a lecturer in English and American Studies at Tufts University has been published in College Literature the Review of Contemporary Fiction and the Poetry Project Newsletter Johnson and Grace are the editors of and contributors to Girls Who Wore Black Women Writing the Beat Generation City Imaging: Regeneration, Renewal and Decay Tara Brabazon, 2013-09-26 This book examines the paradoxes challenges potential and problems of urban living It understands cities as they are rather than as they may be marketed or branded All cities have much in common yet the differences are important They form the basis of both imaginative policy development and productive experiences of urban life The phrase city imaging is often used in public discourse but rarely defined It refers to the ways that particular cities are branded and marketed It is based on the assumption that urban representations can be transformed to develop tourism and attract businesses and in demand workers to one city in preference to another However such a strategy is imprecise History subjectivity bias and prejudice are difficult to temper to the needs of either economic development or social justice The taste smell sounds and architecture of a place all combine to construct the image of a city For researchers policy makers activists and citizens the challenge is to use or transform this image The objective of this book is to help the reader define understand and apply this process After a war on terror a credit crunch and a recession cities still do matter Even as the de territorialization of the worldwide web enables the free flow of money music and ideas across national borders cities remain important City Imaging Regeneration Renewal Decay surveys the iconography of urbanity and explores what happens when branding is emphasized over living
