Deconstructing Eurocentric Tourism and Heritage Narratives in Mexican American Communities Frank G. Perez, Carlos F. Ortega, 2019-09-24 This book attempts to dismantle the unfounded Eurocentric view of US born and immigrant Mexican peoples that groups together the identities of Latinx Chicanx and other indigenous peoples of the Southwest into Hispanics whose contributions to the cultural historical and social development of the Southwest are marginalized or made non existent The narrative and performative legacies that tourism and fantasy heritage produce are promulgated and consumed by both Latinx and non Latinx peoples and cultures This book endeavors to expose these productions through analysis of on the ground resistance in the service and spirit of intercultural dialogue and change This book will offer a precise set of recommendations for breaking away from these practices and thus forming new veritable identities With a strongly heritage oriented discourse this book on deconstructing Eurocentric representation of Mexican people and their culture will appeal to academics and scholars of heritage tourism Chicano studies Southwest studies and Native American studies courses

Santa Fe Elizabeth West, 2012 This question and answer book contains 400 reminders of what is known and what is sometimes forgotten or misunderstood about a city that was founded more than 400 years ago Not a traditional history book this group of questions is presented in an apparently random order and the answers occasionally meander off topic as if part of a casual conversation Regional Cultures and Mortality in America Stephen J. Kunitz, 2015 Examines how state government policies and their historic beginnings have present day effects on their residents political lives and on population health especially for marginalized groups Theatre and Cartographies of Power Analola Santana, Jimmy A.

Noriega, 2018-02-13 From the colonial period to independence and into the twenty first century Latin American culture has been mapped as a subordinate other to Europe and the United States This collection reconsiders geographical space and power and the ways in which theatrical and performance histories have been constructed throughout the Americas Essays bridge political racial gender class and national divides that have traditionally restricted and distorted our understanding of Latin American theatre and performance Contributors scholars and artists from throughout the Americas including well known playwrights directors and performers imagine how to reposition the Latina o Americas in ways that offer agency to its multiple peoples cultures and histories In addition they explore the ways artists can create new maps and methods for their creative visions Building on hemispheric and transnational models this book demonstrates the capacity of theatre studies to challenge the up down North South approach that dominates scholarship in the United States and presents a strong case for a repositioning of the Latina o Americas in theatrical histories and practices Santa Fe Light Richard Leviton,2009-04-24

Latinos in the state and the cultural contributions Latinos have made to communities in that state Taken together a more complete picture of Latinos emerges The information allows understanding of the current status where the Latino presence is now what types of work they are doing and how they are faring in places with only a small Latino presence All 50 states and the District of Columbia are covered in individual chapters A chronology starts the chapter giving the main dates of Latino presence and important events and population figures The historical overview is the core of the chapter The cast of Latino presence and how they have made their livelihood along with relations with non Latinos are discussed A Notable Latinos section then provides a number of short biographical profiles Cultural contributions are showcased in the final section followed by a bibliography A selected bibliography and photos complement the chapters
