The Lost Daughter Daralys R. Lyons, 2008 Four year old Annabelle Cain accidentally kills her eleven year old sister Emily The girl's mother Lilly plagued by her own guilt and self pity cannot forgive Annabelle She acts as if she has lost both daughters As a result Annabelle blames herself for all that has gone wrong in their lives The thin threads of the Cain familial tapestry now begin to unravel It is not natural for parents to outlive their children and in the instant of Emily's death her parents' pain physical and emotional becomes almost overwhelming Annabelle's guilt is staggering These feelings continue unabated for some time Unable to adequately process her parents' divorce and her mother's inability to forgive her Annabelle reaches out indiscriminately for love and experiences monumental challenges at a young age Her tragedies multiply as she faces further and greater losses The Lost Daughter powerfully illustrates how lives can irrevocably change in a moment It examines a mother's longing for her lost daughter and explores the ability to heal through love Women steeped in the tragedy of an accidental shooting experience emotional upheavals that lead to strength and redemption This is a story in which sins are accidental but salvation is intentional The Daughter's Way Tanis MacDonald, 2012-09-01 The Daughter's Way investigates negotiations of female subjectivity in twentieth century Canadian women's elegies with a special emphasis on the father's death as a literary and political watershed The book examines the work of Dorothy Livesay P K Page Jay Macpherson Margaret Atwood Kristjana Gunnars Lola Lemire Tostevin Anne Carson and Erin Mour as elegiac daughteronomies literary artifacts of mourning that grow from the poets investigation into the function and limitations of elegiac convention Some poets treat the father as a metaphor for socio political power while others explore more personal iterations of loss but all the poets in The Daughter's Way seek to redefine daughterly duty in a contemporary context by challenging elegiac tradition through questions of genre and gender Beginning with psychoanalytical theories of filiation inheritance and mourning as they are complicated by feminist challenges to theories of kinship and citizenship The Daughter's Way debates the efficacy of the literary work of mourning in twentieth century Canadian poetry By investigating the way a daughter's filial piety performs and sometimes reconfigures such work and situating melancholia as a creative force in women's elegies the book considers how elegies inquire into the rhetoric of mourning as it is complicated by father daughter kinship

Elena Ferrante as World Literature Stiliana Milkova Rousseva, 2021-01-14 A model of academic praxis Public Books Elena Ferrante as World Literature is the first English language monograph on Italian writer Elena Ferrante whose four Neapolitan Novels 2011-2014 became a global phenomenon The book proposes that Ferrante constructs a theory of feminine experience which serves as the scaffolding for her own literary practice Drawing on the writer's entire textual corpus to date Stiliana Milkova examines the linguistic psychical and corporeal spatial realities that constitute the female subjects Ferrante has theorized At stake in Ferrante's theory practice is the articulation of a feminine subjectivity that emerges from the structures of patriarchal oppression and that resists bypasses or subverts these very structures Milkova's inquiry proceeds from Ferrante's theory of frantumaglia and smarginatura to explore mechanisms for controlling and containing the female body and mind forms of female authorship and creativity and corporeal negotiations of urban topography and patriarchal space Elena Ferrante as World Literature sets forth an interdisciplinary framework for understanding Ferrante's texts and offers an account of her literary and cultural significance today Cinema's Missing Children Emma Wilson, 2003 Photographs of missing children are some of the most haunting images of contemporary Western society Wilson contends that the loss of a child is perceived as a limit experience in contemporary cinema where filmmakers attempt to transform their means of representation as a response to acute pain and horror She explores the representation of missing and endangered children in a number of the key films of the last decade including Kieslowski's Three Colours Blue Atom Egoyan's Exotica Todd Solondz's Happiness Jane Campion's The Portrait of a Lady Lars von Trier's The Kingdom and Almodovar's All About My Mother The Lost Daughter Caroline Lee Hentz, 1859 Zero Tolerance and Other Plays Tara Goldstein, 2014-01-09 A wealth of evidence demonstrates that disabled domestic students experience disabling barriers in such areas as funding pedagogy and social life in Higher Education HE Research also indicates that non-disabled international students experience a wide range of cultural and linguistic difficulties throughout their university experience whilst studying in England Nevertheless there is a dearth of research concerning the specific experiences of disabled international students in English universities With the increasing internationalisation of HE in the past two decades this is highly significant Analysing disabled international students accounts in British universities appears to be all the more pertinent due to the current austerity measures which have impacted on the financial situation of Higher Education Institutions Armineh Soorenia comments on the relevance of inclusive educational theories and policies within an increasingly internationalised HE system with reference to disabled international students experiences in England The project is both timely and appropriate as there is an acute shortage of documentation on the application of policies for the inclusion of disabled students and disabled international students specifically in English universities The findings identify key barriers in the four broad categories of 1 Information Access and Funding 2 Disability Services 3 Learning and Teaching and 4 Non Disability Support Services such as accommodation and social life The study provides an up to date snapshot of disabled international students accounts and the multiple disadvantages they experience in their universities based on their identities as disabled international and sometimes mature students The author also draws on a number of insights which could contribute towards a more inclusive HE system The implication of concentrating on disabled international students experiences have direct ramifications not only for this specific group but also a wide range of students from diverse minority backgrounds who could gain from inclusive practices in education Global Crusoe Ann Marie Fallon, 2016-04-22 Global Crusoe travels across the twentieth century globe from a Native American reservation to a Botswanan village to explore the huge variety of contemporary incarnations of Daniel Defoe's intrepid character In her study of the novels poems short stories and films that adapt the Crusoe myth Ann Marie Fallon argues that the twentieth century Crusoe is not a lone struggling survivor but a cosmopolitan figure who serves as a warning against the dangers of individual isolation and colonial oppression Fallon uses feminist and postcolonial theory to reexamine Defoe's original novel and several contemporary texts showing how writers take up the traumatic narratives of Crusoe in response to the intensifying transnational and postcolonial experiences of the second half of the twentieth century Reading texts by authors such as Nadine Gordimer Bessie Head Derek Walcott Elizabeth Bishop and J M Coetzee within their social historical and political contexts Fallon shows how contemporary revisions of the novel reveal the tensions inherent in the transnational project as people and ideas move across borders with frequency if not necessarily with ease In the novel Robinson Crusoe Crusoe's discovery of Friday's footprint fills him with such anxiety that he feels the print like an animal and burrows into his shelter Likewise modern readers and writers continue to experience a deep anxiety when confronting the narrative issues at the center of Crusoe's story
