powers of love from ancient Greece to the present day Richard Gilman Opalsky argues that what is called love by the best thinkers who have approached the subject is in fact the beating heart of communism understood as a way of living not as a form of government Along the way he reveals with clarity that the capitalist way of assigning value to things is incapable of appreciating what humans value most Capitalism cannot value the experiences and relationships that make our lives worth living and can only destroy love by turning it into a commodity The Communism of Love follows the struggles of love in different contexts of race class gender and sexuality and shows how the aspiration for love is as close as we may get to a universal communist aspiration *A Life's Journey of Heartache, Anger, and Pain.
