This comprehensive overview of research issues and theories relating to sexual orientation, behavior, and identity by experts in various disciplines is unique in providing both historical perspectives and a synthesis of the recent advances in understanding homosexuality and heterosexuality. Drawing from biological and psychological research, this handbook critically reviews the major theories about sexual orientation and examines each theory on the basis of empirical support. One section summarizes recent developments in genetic and neuroanatomic research. Another section discusses problems with sexual performance among heterosexual, homosexual, and bisexual persons. A third section provides overviews of clinical disorders or sexual deviations. Various chapters clarify the distinction between sexual disorders such as pedophilia and sexual variations such as homosexuality. Chapters also examine important social issues relevant to sexual orientation, such as disability, prejudice, aging, and gender roles. Experts address the continuing controversy over the feasibility of altering sexual orientation. New developments in treating different types of problems and changing perspectives today. This handbook is designed for the use of educators, students, and researchers in the social and behavioral sciences.

Intimate Partner Violence in LGBTQ Lives Janice L. Ristock, 2011-04-26. Queer lives remain at the margins of most academic inquiry into domestic violence. When same-sex violence is considered, it is most commonly as an added-on without close attention to the specificity and meaning of violence within the lives of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, Two-Spirit, and queer people. LGBTQ. This edited volume seeks to change this discourse by bringing together the most innovative research about intimate partner violence that is specific to the lives of LGBTQ people. Including contributions based on research conducted in the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, and Australia, the volume is framed around central themes: conceptualizing violence, exploring differing spaces and lived experiences of violence, and the ethical challenges of responding to violence. The contributors also consider issues of race, class, gender, sexuality, and other social differences, moving beyond a simple gender lens to one involving a framework of intersectionality.
