

Essentials Missing

You took the laughing sun along
The day you went away;
And, tho I hide my tears in song.
The skies are always gray
You took a portion of my heart
and left an awful nick.
Now, like a clock that lacks a part,
The darned thing just won't tick.
So hurry back, and please release
The sun, for brighter weather.
and don't forget the missing piece
That holds my heart together.

Love Letters From A War:

Love Letters of the Great War Mandy Kirkby, 2014-01-16 From the private papers of a young Winston Churchill to the tender notes of an unknown Tommy in the trenches Love Letters of the Great War is a collection of profound intimate and heartfelt letters written during World War One Many of the letters collected here are eloquent declarations of love and longing others contain wrenching accounts of fear jealousy and betrayal and a number share sweet dreams of home But in all the correspondence whether from British American French German Russian Australian and Canadian troops in the height of battle or from the heartbroken wives and sweethearts left behind there lies a truly human portrait of love and war A century on from the First World War these letters offer an intimate glimpse into the hearts of men and women separated by conflict and show how love can transcend even the bleakest and most devastating of realities Edited and introduced by Mandy Kirkby with a foreword from Women's Prize winner Helen Dunmore Herbert Read Reassessed David Goodway, 1998-01-01

Herbert Read 1893-1968 acquired in his lifetime a considerable international reputation in all the major areas of his diverse activities as poet as educationalist as anarchist as philosopher of aesthetics as art critic as historian of and above all as propagandist for modern art and design The papers assembled in Herbert Read Reassessed offer a comprehensive and authoritative coverage of Read's life work that is designed to stimulate debate An impressive volume it manages to present a unified but not totalizing portrait of one of England's most distinguished twentieth century critics English Historical Review

War and Displacement in the Twentieth Century Sandra Barkhof, Angela K. Smith, 2014-03-14 Human displacement has always been a consequence of war written into the myths and histories of centuries of warfare However the global conflicts of the twentieth century brought displacement to civilizations on an unprecedented scale as the two World Wars shifted participants around the globe Although driven by political disputes between European powers the consequences of Empire ensured that Europe could not contain them Soldiers traversed continents and civilians often followed them or found themselves living in territories ruled by unexpected invaders Both wars saw fighting in Europe Africa the Middle East and the Far East and few nations remained neutral Both wars saw the mass upheaval of civilian populations as a consequence of the fighting Displacements were geographical cultural and psychological they were based on nationality sex gender or age They produced an astonishing range of human experience recorded by the participants in different ways This book brings together a collection of inter disciplinary works by scholars who are currently producing some of the most innovative and influential work on the subject of displacement in war in order to share their knowledge and interpretations of historical and literary sources The collection unites historians and literary scholars in addressing the issues of war and displacement from
