Love Must Wait:

Love Must Wait Patricia Robins, 2015-01-01 Gina longed to share her life with the man she loved but Charles told her love must wait. Gina must learn sophistication, devote herself to becoming a suitable wife for a fashionable author. Charles's apparent indifference saddened and frightened Gina for she was horrified by the new Charles who she couldn't understand. In bewilderment she turned to Peter for help and by doing so resolved her problems and found the love for which she had waited.

My Love Must Wait Ernestine Hill, 2002 Talks about the life and love of Matthew Flinders and the woman he had to leave behind. Flinders is in search of high adventure, abandoning his wife for uncharted seas, exotic tropic islands and the loneliness and living hell of six years captivity on a French island. This is a story about romance and adventure. My Love Must Wait Ernestine Hill, 1950 My Love Must Wait, the Story of Matthew Flinders, by Ernestine Hill Ernestine Hill, 1955

My Love Must Wait Ernestine Hill, 2013-03-01 Romance, passion, lusty adventure: the story of Matthew Flinders, navigator, explorer and lover. When Matthew Flinders, the first man to chart and circumnavigate Australia, set sail from England in July 1801, he left behind the intrigues of his homeland but also his young bride of only a few weeks, Ann Chappell. He didn't see her again for more than nine years. During that time he carried out incredible feats of seamanship and navigation, made the first charts of much of the coastline of Australia and was shipwrecked and later held prisoner by the French on Mauritius. Meticulously researched and written with great insight and sensitivity, My Love Must Wait is both a tender portrayal of faithful devotion and a stirring re-creation of the courage and endurance of one of history's greatest seamen.

Love's Mysteries Rachel Mann, 2020-09-30 Love's Mysteries reflects powerfully on our fundamental limitations as creatures of flesh and bone and what our experiences of grief, loss and fragility tell us about God. Rachel Mann explores what happens when our bodies are under pressure, suggesting that the precariousness of life might be where we most authentically encounter God.

Atlantic Monthly ,1858 The Atlantic Monthly ,1858 Relationality and the Concept of God Henry Jansen, 2025-02-10 Classical theism the dominant tradition in Christian theology has stressed the metaphysical concept of God i e God s ontological transcendence and independence from the world In this century however this concept of God has increasingly met with criticism On the basis of the Bible and new philosophical considerations it is argued that a relational concept of God better answers the fundamental concerns of the Christian faith In this book the author investigates the questions of whether one can conceive of God apart from the metaphysical attributes and whether reflection on the biblical depiction of God leads necessarily to a relational concept of God The author explores the questions by examining the relational concepts of God found in two contemporary German theologians Jürgen Moltmann and Wolfhart Pannenberg and uses the divine attribute of immutability as a focus for the discussion He argues that the relational concept of God presupposes another metaphysical conception of God which raises problems as serious as those in classical theism and that the Bible itself because of its nature as a narrative text is ambiguous in many respects as far as God is concerned A truly Christian doctrine of God must take both the metaphysical and relational aspects of God into account The Image of God in an Image Driven Age Beth Felker Jones, Jeffrey W. Barbeau, 2016-03-08 Humans are created in the image of God yet by choosing to rebel against God we become unfaithful bearers of his image But Jesus who is the image of God restores the divine image in us At the intersection of theology and culture these essays offer a unified vision of what it means to be truly human and created in the divine image in the world today Credit and Faith Philip Goodchild, 2019-11-12

In line with the development of political theology and economic theology in contemporary European thought Credit and Faith offers a critical account of the faith structures within economic life and institutions Goodchild's ground breaking work provides a philosophical appropriation of the economic dimension of the New Testament and fresh theological philosophical and economic perspectives on the present Covering the theological roots of the way economic life was and is articulated the philosophical roots of value and debt and the economic roots of credit and creation this book charts the emergence of early theories of capital and banking through a consideration of credit It draws on some neglected historical figures as well as Jules Lagneau Simone Weil the Kantian problem of freedom and necessity and a critical reading of the early Marx and of Nietzsche's genealogy through this Goodchild explains how the Financial Revolution was able to conceal the credit economy which was its foundation and foster the pursuit of self interest instead of the common good This innovative interweaving of theology philosophy and economics constructs a new metaphysical framework for a critical account of the faith structures within economic life and institutions and returns to the practice of philosophy as a way of life a practical engaged worldly discipline
