Mini Bus Ride Dr. Patricia Anderson,1987 The Power Of Sentiment Lisa Douglass,1992-06-11 Yet the kinship practices of the family elite do not merely serve to maintain their position or promote their interests as some critics have suggested The elite marry according to enduring cultural dispositions about the proper ordering of color gender and class relations following their sense of what feels right In their view they marry not out of self interest but for love The Power of Sentiment breaks new ground in ethnographic studies of kinship Lisa Douglass examines the upper class a group previously neglected in research on the Caribbean family despite its integral role in the kinship system She provides fresh insights into what earlier studies termed the color class hierarchy by considering how gender both affects what these categories represent and is itself a distinct dimension of the social order The author also makes a significant contribution to theories of ideology and practice CARICOM Perspective ,1991 □□□□□□□□ ,1990 Bibliographic Guide to Latin American Studies Benson Latin American Collection,1981 Bibliographic Guide to Business and Economics New York Public Library.
