The Silk Road: A Very Short Introduction James A. Millward, 2013-03-15 The phrase silk road evokes vivid scenes of merchants leading camel caravans across vast stretches to trade exotic goods in glittering Oriental bazaars of pilgrims braving bandits and frozen mountain passes to spread their faith across Asia Looking at the reality behind these images this Very Short Introduction illuminates the historical background against which the silk road flourished shedding light on the importance of old world cultural exchange to Eurasian and world history On the one hand historian James A Millward treats the silk road broadly to stand in for the cross cultural communication between peoples across the Eurasian continent since at least the Neolithic era On the other he highlights specific examples of goods and ideas exchanged between the Mediterranean Persia India and China along with the significance of these exchanges While including silks spices and travelers tales of colorful locales the book explains the dynamics of Central Eurasian history that promoted Silk Road interactions especially the role of nomad empires highlighting the importance of the biological technological artistic intellectual and religious interchanges across the continent Millward shows that these exchanges had a profound effect on the old world that was akin to if not on the scale of modern globalization He also disputes the idea that the silk road declined after the collapse of the Mongol empire or the opening of direct sea routes from Europe to Asia showing how silk road phenomena continued through the early modern and modern expansion of the Russian and Chinese states across Central Asia Millward concludes that the idea of the silk road has remained powerful not only as a popular name for boutiques and restaurants but also in modern politics and diplomacy such as U S Secretary of State Hilary Clinton s Silk Road Initiative for India Pakistan and Afghanistan Local Material Culture in Uyghur Manichaean Miniatures Zsuzsanna Gulácsi,1994

Fifteenth-Century Persian Painting B. W. Robinson, 1993-03. In this book, B. W. Robinson traces the development of the different styles of Persian painting during the fifteenth century and considers a number of the problems and issues involved in establishing a methodology and system of classification for Persian painting of that period Robinson begins by way of background with a review of the schools of Herat and Shiraz up to the middle of the century and then proceeds to tackle in order the three main fields of controversy painting under the Turkmans Timurid paintings in Transoxiana and Timurid painting in India The uneasy fusion of contrasting characteristics of Herat and Shiraz that resulted in the emergence of Turkman court painting is traced through the origins development and branching of the Turkman style into a definitive form Then the author reviews a branch of the art almost entirely neglected up to now which he identifies as originating in Transoxiana Finally he provides a new approach to the study of pre Mughal Indian painting in Persian style by dividing the material into five stylistic groups
