Mining International Year 1979:

Walter R. Skinner's Mining International Yearbook ,1978 Mining International Year William G. Nightingale,1979

Holding the Line Barbara Kingsolver,2012-11-26 Holding the Line Barbara Kingsolver s first non fiction book is the story of women s lives transformed by an a signal event Set in the small mining towns of Arizona it is part oral history and part social criticism exploring the process of empowerment which occurs when people work together as a community Like Kingsolver s award winning novels Holding the Line is a beautifully written book grounded on the strength of its characters Hundreds of families held the line in the 1983 strike against Phelps Dodge Copper in Arizona After more than a year the strikers lost their union certification but the battle permanently altered the social order in these small predominantly Hispanic mining towns At the time the strike began many women said they couldn t leave the house without their husband s permission Yet when injunctions barred union men from picketing their wives and daughters turned out for the daily picket lines When the strike dragged on and men left to seek jobs elsewhere women continued to picket organize support and defend their rights even when the towns were occupied by the National Guard Nothing can ever be the same as it was before said Diane McCormick of the Morenci Miners Women s Auxiliary Look at us At the beginning of this strike we were just a bunch of ladies

Bureau of Mines,1980 Majority State Ownership of Oil and Mining Sectors in Africa John James Quinn,2024-09-30 Majority State Ownership of Oil and Mining Sectors in Africa The Resource Curse Undermined shows that countries in sub Saharan Africa with majority state ownership of their major oil or mineral export sectors suffered from more severe versions of the natural resource curse than other similar countries Examining natural resource exporting nations in sub Saharan Africa between 1966 to 2000 Quinn shows that on average states with majority state ownership of these sectors featured lower growth lower incomes declining alternative export sectors more debt lower levels of investment lower levels of political and civil rights and more domestic conflict than other similar countries These results remained fairly consistent across both cross country data as well as in paired case studies One surprise finding is that these countries either had depreciating currencies or did not feature high levels of currency appreciation on average which is inconsistent with resource curse literature predictions Rather most countries with majority state ownership had high levels of currency overvaluation which operated in a similar manner as currency appreciation This work should appeal to students and faculty interested in the political economy of development the natural resource curse and African development as well as politicians policy makers and NGO workers working in these areas The strong recommendation of the book is that governments should control 50% or less of these sectors Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States.
