Knowledge Networks and Craft Traditions in the Ancient World Katharina Rebay-Salisbury,Ann Brysbaert,Lin Foxhall,2014-08-07 This edited volume investigates knowledge networks based on materials and associated technologies in Prehistoric Europe and the Classical Mediterranean It emphasises the significance of material objects to the construction maintenance and collapse of networks of various forms which are central to explanations of cultural contact and change Focusing on the materiality of objects and on the way in which materials are used adds a multidimensional quality to networks The properties functions and styles of different materials are intrinsically linked to the way in which knowledge flows and technologies are transmitted Transmission of technologies from one craft to another is one of the main drivers of innovation whilst sharing knowledge is enabled and limited by the extent of associated social networks in place Archaeological research has often been limited to studying objects made of one particular material in depth be it lithic materials ceramics textiles glass metal wood or others The knowledge flow and transfer between crafts that deal with different materials have often been overlooked This book takes a fresh approach to the reconstruction of knowledge networks by integrating two or more craft traditions in each of its chapters The authors well known experts and early career researchers provide concise case studies that cover a wide range of materials The scope of the book extends from networks of craft traditions to implications for society in a wider sense materials objects and the technologies used to make and distribute them are interwoven with social meaning People make objects but objects make people the materiality of objects shapes our understanding of the world and our place within it In this book objects are treated as clues to social networks of different sorts that can be contrasted and compared both spatially and diachronically

Purpureae Vestes I. Textiles y tintes del Mediterráneo en época romana Carmen Alfaro Giner,2011-11-28 Purpureae vestes estudia un element fonamental en la vida de qualsevol societat antiga com s el vestit i els colors utilitzats per a la seua ornamentaci especialment la p rpura El luxe en el vestir implicava l s de materials com l or per a la confecci de certs complements Amb uns antecedents clarament orientals de recerca de la magnificència externa de reis i d'altres dignataris el simbolisme del color en l'ornamentació personal va constituir a les ciutats riberenques de la Mediterrània un factor important de distinció social. B fossen de procedència vegetal, mineral o animal, els tints van donar sempre l'ènim als tèxtils. Per això el poder imperial romà en alguns períodes de la seua història va controlar amb normes legals de major o menor duresa l'ús de determinats colors obtinguts a partir de gasteròpodes marins. L'obra tracta extensament els aspectes econòmics i tècnics relacionats amb l'elaboració i comercialització de vestits i teles per a altres usos: veles, adorns de la llar, etc. A partir de diversos punts de vista, entre els quals s'inclouen les dades arqueològiques o les referències etnogràfiques comparatives, s'hi incideix en les etapes de preparació de les fibres tèxtils en les formes d'elaboració dels teixits més complexos a través de la reconstrucció experimental en el treball dels pescadors i manufacturers que elaboraven en tallers costaners el tint més valorat, la porpora, o en els qui treballaven en els tallers de la ciutat, així com en l'anàlisi i descripció detallada dels resultats extrets de les restes tèxtils aparegudes en jaciments de l'Egipte romà, sobretot que ens mostren encara avui la riquesa i viure dels seus colors.

From Mine to Microscope Ian Freestone, Thilo Rehren, 2009-04-09 These twenty papers dedicated to Mike Tite focus upon the interpretation of ancient artefacts and technologies particularly through the application of materials analysis. Instruments from the human eye to mass spectrometry provide insights into a range of technologies ranging from classical alum extraction to Bronze Age wall painting and cover materials as diverse as niello, flint, bronze, glass and ceramic. Ranging chronologically from the Neolithic through to the medieval period and geographically from Britain to China, these case studies provide a rare overview which will be of value to students, teachers and researchers with an interest in early material culture.

A Companion to the Archaeology of Early Greece and the Mediterranean, 2 Volume Set Irene S.

Lemos, Antonis Kotsonas, 2020-01-09 A Companion that examines together two pivotal periods of Greek archaeology and offers a rich analysis of early Greek culture. A Companion to the Archaeology of Early Greece and the Mediterranean offers an original and inclusive review of two key periods of Greek archaeology which are typically treated separately: the Late Bronze Age and the Early Iron Age. It presents an in-depth exploration of the society and material culture of Greece and the Mediterranean from the 14th to the early 7th centuries BC. The two volume companion sets Aegean developments within their broader geographic and cultural context and presents the wide-ranging interactions with the Mediterranean. The companion bridges the gap that typically exists between Prehistoric and Classical Archaeology and examines material culture and social practice across Greece and the Mediterranean. A number of specialists examine the environment and demography and analyze a range of textual and archaeological evidence to shed light on socio-political and cultural developments. The companion also emphasizes regionalism in the archaeology of early Greece and examines the responses of different regions to major phenomena such as state formation, literacy, migration and colonization. Comprehensive in scope, this important companion outlines major developments in the two key phases of early Greece: the Late Bronze Age and the Early Iron Age.

Includes studies of the geography chronology and demography of early Greece Explores the development of early Greek state and society and examines economy religion art and material culture Sets Aegean developments within their Mediterranean context Written for students and scholars interested in the material culture of the era A Companion to the Archaeology of Early Greece and the Mediterranean offers a comprehensive and authoritative guide that bridges the gap between the Late Bronze Age and the Early Iron Age 2020 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title Winner Digital Cultural Heritage Horst Kremers, 2019-06-21 This book provides an overview of various application spheres and supports further innovations needed in information management and in the processes of knowledge generation The professions organizations and scientific associations involved are unusually challenged by the complexity of the data situation Cartography has always been the central field of application for georeferencing digital cultural heritage DCH objects It is particularly important in enabling spatial relation analysis between any number of DCH objects or of their granular details In addition to the pure geometric aspects the cognitive relations that lead to knowledge representation and derivation of innovative use processes are also of increasing importance Further there is a societal demand for spatial reference and analytics e g the extensive use of cognitive concepts of map and atlas for a variety of social topics in the media There is a huge geometrical logical cognitive potential for complex multimedia digital cultural heritage databases and stakeholders expect handling transmission and processing operations with guaranteed long term availability for all other stakeholders In the future whole areas of digital multimedia databases will need to be processed to further our understanding of historical and cultural contexts This is an important concern for the information society and presents significant challenges for cartography in all these domains This book collects innovative technical and scientific work on the entire process of object digitization including detail extraction archiving and interoperability of multimedia DCH data Economy and Politics in the Mycenaean Palace States Sofia Voutsaki, John Killen, 2020-08-30 This volume gathers fourteen papers on the Mycenaean palace states of the late Bronze Age Coverage ranges across Mycena Pylos Knossos and the Near East with topics including administration agriculture ceramic production and Linear B Final Neolithic Crete and the Southeast Aegean Krzysztof Nowicki, 2014-08-19 This book presents an archaeological study of Crete in transition from the Neolithic to the Early Bronze Age c 4000 to 3000 BC within the broader South Aegean context The study based on the author's own fieldwork contains a gazetteer of over 170 sites The material from these sites will prompt archaeologists in Greece Turkey and the Middle East to reconsider their understanding of the foundation of Bronze Age civilization in the Aegean New Approaches to Old Stones Yorke M. Rowan, Jennie R. Ebeling, 2016-04-08 Ground stone artefacts were widely used in food production in prehistory However the archaeological community has widely neglected the dataset of ground stone artefacts until now New Approaches to Old Stones offers a theoretical and methodological analysis of the archaeological data pertaining to ground stone tools The essays draw on a range of case studies from the Levant Egypt Crete Anatolia Mexico and North America to examine ground stone technologies

From medieval Islamic stone cooking vessels and late Minoan stone vases to the use of stone in ritual and as a symbol of luxury New Approaches to Old Stones offers a radical reassessment of the impact of ground stone artefacts on technological change production and exchange

Disease and Healing in the Indus Civilisation Robert Arnott, 2024-04-25 This book provides insights into health disease and healing in the Indus Civilisation during the third to early second millennia BCE Based on original research it examines skeletal remains material culture and environmental factors The book sheds light on diseases healing practices and public health in this ancient civilization Studies in Mediterranean Archaeology, 1962

Stone Vessels and Values in the Bronze Age Mediterranean Andrew Bevan, 2007-08-13 The societies that developed in the eastern Mediterranean during the Bronze Age produced the most prolific and diverse range of stone vessel traditions known at any time or anywhere in the world Stone vessels are therefore a key class of artefact in the early history of this region As a form of archaeological evidence they offer important analytical advantages over other artefact types virtual indestructibility a wide range of functions and values huge variety in manufacturing traditions as well as the subtractive character of stone and its rich potential for geological provenancing In this 2007 book Andrew Bevan considers individual stone vessel industries in great detail He also offers a highly comparative and value led perspective on production consumption and exchange logics throughout the eastern Mediterranean over a period of two millennia during the Bronze Age ca 3000 1200 BC

Copper in Ancient Egypt Martin Odler, 2023-04-03 The first comprehensive and up to date overview of what we know about the use of copper by the ancient Egyptians and Nubians from the Predynastic through the Early Dynastic until the end of the Second Intermediate Period c 4000 1600 BC The monograph presents a story based on the analysis of available evidence a synchronic and diachronic reconstruction of the development and changes of the chaîne opératoire of copper and copper alloy artefacts The book argues that Egypt was not isolated from the rest of the ancient world and that popular notions of its primitive technology are not based on facts

Crafting Minoanisation Joanne Elizabeth Cutler, 2021-10-31 The mid second millennium BC material record of the southern Aegean shows evidence of strong Cretan influence This phenomenon has traditionally been seen in terms of Minoanisation but the nature and degree of Cretan influence and the process processes by which it was spread and adopted have been widely debated This new study addresses the question of Minoanisation through a study of the adoption of Cretan technologies in the wider southern Aegean principally weaving technology By the early Late Bronze Age Cretan style discoid loom weights had appeared at a number of settlements across the southern Aegean In most cases this represents not only the adoption of a particular type of loom weight but also the introduction of a new weaving technology the use of the warp weighted loom The evidence for and the implications of the adoption of this new technology is examined Drawing upon recent advances in textile experimental archaeology the types of textiles that are likely to have been produced at a range of sites both on Crete itself and in the wider southern Aegean are discussed and the likely nature and scale of textile production at the various settlements is assessed A consideration of the evidence for the timing and extent of the adoption of Cretan weaving technology in the light of additional evidence for the adoption of other Cretan technologies is used to gain insight into the potential social and economic strategies engaged in by various groups across the southern Aegean as well as the motivations that may have driven the adoption and adaptation of Cretan cultural traits and accompanying behaviors By examining how technological skills and techniques are learned and considering possible mechanisms for the transmission of such technical knowledge and know how new perspectives can be proposed concerning the processes through which Cretan techniques were taken up and imitated abroad
