sustained their enduring appeal as performers and recording artists The authors argue that both Dylan and Cohen shared early aspirations that mirrored the Beat Generation They sought to achieve the fame of Dylan Thomas who proved a bohemian poet could thrive outside the academy and to live his life of unconditional social irresponsibility While Dylan s and Cohen s fame fluctuated over the decades it was sustained by self consciously adopted personas used to distance themselves from their public selves This separation of self requires an exploration of the artists relation to religion as an avenue to find and preserve inner identity The relationship between their lyrics and poetry is explored in the context of Federico Garc a Lorca s concept of the poetry of inspiration and the emotional depths of duende Such ideas draw upon the dislocation of the mind and the liberation of the senses that so struck Dylan and Cohen when they first read the poetry and letters of Arthur Rimbaud and Lorca The authors show that performance and the poetry are integral and the duende or passion of the delivery is inseparable from the lyric or poetry and common to Dylan Cohen and the Beat Generation Merely Being There Is Not Enough Heike Mlakar,2008 Despite the advent of second wave feminism in the late 1960s it took more than twenty years before feminist literary criticism started to pay attention to the complex role of women Beat writers Merely Being There Is Not Enough theorizes the memoirs of Diane di Prima Joyce Johnson Hettie Jones and Brenda Frazer and analyzes their contributions to the Beat movement Among the writings of female Beat authors the memoir has become the most commonly used literary genre At the height of the Beat movement Frazer published Troia Mexican Memoirs in 1969 the same year that saw the publication of di Prima s Memoirs of a Beatnik Most female Beat voices however remained astonishingly silent until 1983 when Johnson published Minor Characters A Young Woman s Coming of Age in the Beat Generation Johnson s long time friend Jones followed with How I Became Hettie Jones in 1990 The memoirs of Beat women chronicle the Beat 1950s and the intimate relationships with icons of the time Jack Kerouac Allen Ginsberg LeRoi Jones Amiri Baraka and Ray Bremser Being there at a crucial moment in history validates female Beats stories as indispensable social documents of the 1950s To make women Beat writers visible and to categorize their memoirs this work immerses in the almost paradoxical project of defining a category of female Beat writing when it is the nature of Beat literature and its rebellious aesthetics to dismiss any kind of labeling Women Beats unsettle the categories of Beat writing and culture Therefore a revision and re examination of Beat history is inevitable to understand the movement s literary expression Almost Family Roy Hoffman,2018-09-25 The complex friendship between a black housekeeper and her Jewish employer is at the heart of Hoffman s prize winning novel about life in the civil rights era South Nebraska Waters is black Vivian Gold is Jewish In an Alabama kitchen where for nearly thirty years they share cups of coffee fret over their children and watch the civil rights movement unfold out their window and into their homes they are like family almost As Nebraska makes her way day in and out to Vivian s house to cook and help tend the Gold children the almost threatens to widen into a great divide The two women s husbands affect their relationship as do their children Viv Waters and Benjamin Gold born the same year and coming of age in a changing South

The bond between the women both strengthens and frays Winner of the Lillian Smith Book Award and Alabama Library Association Award for fiction Roy Hoffman's Almost Family explores the relationship that begins when one person goes to work for another and their friendship across lines of race income and religion develops degrees of understanding yet growing misunderstanding This edition commemorates the 35th anniversary of the book's publication and features a foreword by the author and includes a discussion guide for readers and book clubs

Historical Dictionary of the Beat Movement Paul Varner, 2012-06-21 The Beat Movement was one of the most radical and innovative literary and arts movements of the 20th century and the history of the Beat Movement is still being written in the early years of the 21st century Unlike other kinds of literary and artistic movements the Beat Movement is self perpetuating After the 1950s generation headlined by Jack Kerouac Allen Ginsberg and William S Burroughs a new generation arose in the 1960s led by writers such as Diane Wakoski Anne Waldman and poets from the East Side Scene In the 1970s and 1980s writers from the Poetry Project at St Mark's Church and contributors to World magazine continued the movement The 1980s and 1990s Language Movement saw itself as an outgrowth and progression of previous Beat aesthetics Today poets and writers in San Francisco still gather at City Lights Bookstore and in Boulder at the Jack Kerouac School of Disembodied Poetics and continue the movement It is now a postmodern movement and probably would be unrecognizable to the earliest Beats It may even be in the process of finally shedding the name Beat But the Movement continues The Historical Dictionary of the Beat Movement covers the movement's history through a chronology an introductory essay and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on significant people themes critical issues and the most significant novels poems and volumes of poetry and prose that have formed the Beat canon This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Beat Movement

The Other Shore Michael Jackson, 2013 In this book ethnographer and poet Michael Jackson addresses the interplay between modes of writing modes of understanding and modes of being in the world Drawing on literary anthropological and autobiographical sources

he explores writing as a technique akin to ritual oral storytelling magic and meditation that enables us to reach beyond the limits of everyday life and forge virtual relationships and imagined communities. Although Maurice Blanchot wrote of the impossibility of writing the passion and paradox of literature lies in its attempt to achieve the impossible a leap of faith that calls to mind the mystic's dark night of the soul unrequited love nostalgic or utopian longing and the ethnographer's attempt to know the world from the standpoint of others to put himself or herself in their place. Every writer whether of ethnography poetry or fiction imagines that his or her own experiences echo the experiences of others and that despite the need for isolation and silence his or her work consummates a relationship with them.

Sex, Drugs, and Rock 'n' Roll Robert C. Cottrell, 2015-03-19 Sex Drugs and Rock n Roll The American Counterculture of the 1960s offers a unique examination of the cultural flowering that enveloped the United States during that early postwar decade. Cottrell delivers something of a collective biography through an exploration of the antics of seminal countercultural figures Allen Ginsberg Jack Kerouac Timothy Leary and Ken Kesey. Cottrell also presents fascinating chapters covering the magic elixir of sex rock n roll the underground press Haight Ashbury the literature that garnered the attention of many in the counterculture Monterey Pop the Summer of Love the Death of Hippie the March on the Pentagon communes Yippies Weatherman Woodstock the Manson family the women's movement and the decade's legacies.

Site Reading David J. Alworth, 2018-11-20 Site Reading offers a new method of literary and cultural interpretation and a new theory of narrative setting by examining five sites supermarkets dumps roads ruins and asylums that have been crucial to American literature and visual art since the mid twentieth century. Against the traditional understanding of setting as a static background for narrative action and character development David Alworth argues that sites figure in novels as social agents. Engaging a wide range of social and cultural theorists especially Bruno Latour and Erving Goffman Site Reading examines how the literary figuration of real material environments reorients our sense of social relations. To read the sites of fiction Alworth demonstrates is to reveal literature as a profound sociological resource one that simultaneously models and theorizes collective life. Each chapter identifies a particular site as a point of contact for writers and artists the supermarket for Don DeLillo and Andy Warhol the dump for William Burroughs and Mierle Laderman Ukeles the road for Jack Kerouac Joan Didion and John Chamberlain the ruin for Thomas Pynchon and Robert Smithson and the asylum for Ralph Ellison Gordon Parks and Jeff Wall and shows how this site mediates complex interactions among humans and nonhumans. The result is an interdisciplinary study of American culture that brings together literature visual art and social theory to develop a new sociology of literature that emphasizes the sociology in literature.

America

and the Pill Elaine Tyler May, 2010-04-27 In 1960 the FDA approved the oral contraceptive that would come to be known as the pill. Within a few years millions of women were using it. At a time when the population was surging, many believed that the drug would help eradicate poverty around the globe, ensure happy and stable marriages, and liberate women. In American Babylon, Elaine Tyler May reveals the ways in which the pill did and did not fulfill these utopian dreams, while also chronicling the stories of the creators, testers, and users who ultimately made the pill their own.
