Minotaur Poetry And The Nation State:

Minotaur Tom Paulin, 1992 One of the most powerful poets of his generation consolidates his reputation as an exceptionally forthright and astringent critic in this book that analyzes the relationship between English language literature especially poetry and nineteenth and twentieth century politics Tom Paulin's criticism stays on track always responsive to a work's characteristic genius and sensitive to its social setting Each of these essays on poets ranging from Robert Southey and Christina Rossetti to Philip Larkin from John Clare to Elizabeth Bishop and Ted Hughes with a few excursions into the poetry of Eastern Europe for contrast is informed by a love for poetry and a lively attention to detail At every turn Paulin demonstrates the intricate connection between the private imagination and society at large simultaneously illuminating the kinship between the literature of the past and of the present He also relates the poetry to themes of nationhood and to ideas about orality speech rhythms and vernacular background Minotaur exemplifies the sort of general accessible criticism of the arts that will interest a wide range of readers

Minotaur Tom Paulin, 1992-01 In this collection of essays Tom Paulin looks at the work of a selection of poets ranging from Robert Southey to Ted Hughes defining the originality of their subject matter He also relates the poets to themes of nationhood and to ideas about ways of speaking which run throughout the book

Official Voices: Poets and the Irish State Karl O'Hanlon, 2025-03-21 Official Voices Poets and the Irish State examines the poet politicians and bureaucrats who shaped the twenty six county Irish state from its pre history in the revolutionary period through its foundation in 1922 and complicated modernisation in the 1960s to the outbreak of the Troubles Poet officials juggled writing the state and navigating the force field between poetry and politics with poetic form registering the aftershocks of this collusive antagonism Combining political history cultural history and literary criticism the book grapples with major issues in the state's history revolution state violence insurgency against the state patriarchy partition modernisation as well as socialist and feminist alternatives to conservative nationalism Poets examined in the book include W B Yeats Ezra Pound Desmond Fitzgerald Denis Devlin Joseph Campbell Valentin Iremonger Eithne Strong Míre Mhac an tSaoi and Thomas Kinsella It draws on new archival work in state archives and literary collections and situates the Irish state and Irish poetry within a transnational frame Taking up the relationship of poetry to politics and poet officials to state governance it tackles a perennial question what did poetry make happen and not happen in the twenty six counties This book is about acknowledged legislators poetry's formal vigilance and how poets apprehended consciously and unconsciously the recalcitrant workings of power

Minos and the Moderns Theodore Ziolkowski, 2008-07-17 Minos and the Moderns considers three mythological complexes that enjoyed a unique surge of interest in early twentieth century European art and literature Europa and the bull the minotaur and the labyrinth and Daedalus and Icarus All three are situated on the island of Crete and are linked by the figure of King Minos Drawing examples from fiction poetry drama painting sculpture opera and ballet Minos and the Moderns is the first book of its kind to treat the role of the Cretan myths in the modern imagination

Beginning with the resurgence of Crete in the modern consciousness in 1900 following the excavations of Sir Arthur Evans Theodore Ziolkowski shows how the tale of Europa in poetry drama and art but also in cartoons advertising and currency was initially seized upon as a story of sexual awakening then as a vehicle for social and political satire and finally as a symbol of European unity In contrast the minotaur provided artists ranging from Picasso to Drennatt with an image of the artist's sense of alienation while the labyrinth suggested to many writers the threatening sociopolitical world of the twentieth century Ziolkowski also considers the roles of such modern figures as Marx Nietzsche and Freud of travelers to Greece and Crete from Isadora Duncan to Henry Miller and of the theorists and writers including T S Eliot and Thomas Mann who hailed the use of myth in modern literature Minos and the Moderns concludes with a summary of the manners in which the economic aesthetic psychological and anthropological revisions enabled precisely these myths to be taken up as a mirror of modern consciousness The book will appeal to all readers interested in the classical tradition and its continuing relevance and especially to scholars of Classics and modern literatures

Misreading England Raphaël Ingelbien, 2021-11-01 In Misreading England Poetry and Nationhood Since the Second World War Raphaël Ingelbien examines how issues of nationhood have affected the works and the reception of several English and Irish poets Philip Larkin Ted Hughes Geoffrey Hill and Seamus Heaney This study explores the interactions between post war English poets and the ways in which they transformed or misread earlier poetic visions of England Romantic Georgian Modernist It also traces often neglected but crucial links between their troubled poetics of Englishness and Seamus Heaney's poetry of Irish nationhood This radically intertextual approach takes issue with influential accounts of post war poetry that have drawn on postcolonialism Instead of being made to reflect contemporary agendas the poetics of nationhood are here considered in all their textual and ideological complexity and restored to the historical intellectual and literary contexts which postcolonial emphases on identity often play down or simplify Whereas critics in post devolution Britain increasingly use texts to debunk or promote specific versions of national identity this study interrogates the very terms in which the debate has been conducted Its metacritical analyses expose the contradictions of identity politics and its intertextual readings help re draw the map of post war poetry in Britain and Ireland

Contemporary British and Irish Literature provides essential reading for students as well as academics seeking to learn more about the history and future direction of contemporary British and Irish Literature Reader's Guide to Literature in English Mark Hawkins-Dady, 2012-12-06 Reader's Guide to Literature in English provides expert guidance to and critical analysis of the vast number of books available within the subject of English literature from Anglo Saxon times to the current American British and Commonwealth scene It is designed to help students teachers and librarians choose the most appropriate books for research and study Handbook of British Literature and Culture of the First World War Ralf Schneider, Jane Potter, 2021-09-20 The First World War has given rise to a multifaceted cultural production like no other historical event This handbook surveys British literature and film about the war from 1914 until today The continuing interest in World War I highlights the interdependence of war experience the imaginative re creation of that experience in writing and individual as well as collective memory In the first part of the handbook the major genres of war writing and film are addressed including of course poetry and the novel but also the short story furthermore it is shown how our conception of the Great War is broadened when looked at from the perspective of gender studies and post colonial criticism The chapters in the second part present close readings of important contributions to the literary and filmic representation of World War I in Great Britain All in all the contributions demonstrate how the opposing forces of focusing and canon formation on the one hand and broadening and revision of the canon on the other have characterised British literature and culture of the First World War Moral Authority in Seamus Heaney and Geoffrey Hill Bridget Vincent, 2022-02-17 How do poems communicate moral ideas Can they express concepts in ways that are unique and impossible to replicate in other forms of writing This book explores these questions by turning to two of the late twentieth century's most important poets Seamus Heaney and Geoffrey Hill Their work shows that a poem can act as an example of a moral concept rather than simply a description or discussion of it Exploring these two poets via their shared preoccupation with poetry's moral exemplarity opens up new perspectives on their work The concept of exemplarity is shown to play an important role in these poets most significant preoccupations from moral complicity to the nature of lyric speech to literary influence to memorialisation responsibility and aesthetic autonomy Through this new analysis of poetry critical prose drama and archival materials this book offers a major new study of ethics in the later period of these two writers including recent underexplored posthumous works In turn the book also makes an important intervention in larger debates about literature and morality and about the field of ethical criticism itself this is the first book length study to expand ethical criticism beyond its customary narrative focus The ethical criticism of fiction is often an exercise in methodological advocacy urging the use of more literary examples in moral philosophy As this book shows including poetry among these examples introduces new lyric inflected caveats about the use of literature as a form of moral example caveats which remain invisible in narrative centred ethical criticism Philip Larkin J. Booth, 2005-08-10 James Booth reads Philip Larkin's mature poetry in terms of his ambiguous self image as lonely anti social outsider plighted to his art and as nine to five librarian sharing the common plight of humanity Booth's focus is on Larkin's artistry with words the verbal devices through which this purest of lyric poets celebrates the experience The beauty Featuring discussion for the first time of two recently discovered poems by Larkin this original and exciting new study will be of interest to all students scholars and enthusiasts of Larkin

The Portrait of an Artist as a Pathographer: On Writing Illnesses and Illnesses in Writing Jayjit Sarkar, Jagannath Basu, 2021-05-09 Focusing on the various intersections between illness and literature across time and space The Portrait of an Artist as a Pathographer seeks to understand how ontological phenomenological and epistemological experiences of illness have been dealt with and represented in literary writings and literary studies In this volume scholars from across the world have come together to understand how the pathological condition of being ill the sufferers as well as the pathologists dealing with the ill the healers and caregivers have shaped literary works The language of medical science with its jargon and the language of the every day with its emphasis on utility prove equally insufficient and futile in capturing the pain and suffering of illness It is this insufficiency and futility that makes us turn towards the canonical works of Joseph Conrad Samuel Beckett William Carlos Williams Virginia Woolf Kazuo Ishiguro Milos Holub as well as the non canonical Ant nio Lobo Antunes Yumemakura Baku Wopko Jensma and Vaslav Nijinsky This volume helps in understanding and capturing the metalanguage of illness while presenting us with the tradition of writing pain In an effort to expand the definition of pathography to include those who are on the other side of pain the essays in this collection aim to portray the above mentioned pathographers as artists turning the anxiety and suffering of illness into an art form Looking deeply into such creative aspects of illness this book also seeks to evoke the possibility of pathography as world literature This book will be of particular interest to undergraduate postgraduate and research students as well as scholars of literature and medical humanities who are interested in the intersections between literary studies and medical science

Begin Afresh Sisir Kumar Chatterjee, 2025-03-12 Begin Afresh The Evolution of Philip Larkin's Poetry offers incisive insightful and yet lucid analyses of all the individual poems contained in the four major collections of Larkin 1922 1985 It also deals with his Juvenile Poems Brunette Coleman poems those in In the Grip of Light and XX Poems as well as his last poems The book also discusses Larkin's novels and drafts It evaluates the critical opinions regarding various aspects of Larkin's poetry especially the issue of its development and shows that it may not follow a clearly identifiable linear chronological line of evolution but it does evolve in a subtle way from one phase of his career to the next The book explores how Larkin discovered his own original inimitable idiosyncratic poetic voice by truly democratising English poetry for the first time by writing accessible and pleasurable poetry and by forging a new poetic out of a philistine aesthetic which stands out as an artistic holotype It shows how Larkin restores the relation between poetry and the reading public a relation which was broken down by Modernist poets It also establishes how his poetic vision is neither optimistic nor pessimistic but realistic in that it preserves the universal human condition without moralising or philosophising The book aims to make a
