

1) Settlement of Wage Revision.

Staff side demanded that the pay scale designed earlier by the Joint Wage Revision Committee constituted before VRS, for recommending wage revision for non-executive employees w.e.f. 01.01.2017, were non-negotiable and management should implement them. The management has no power to reduce the minimum or the maximum of the Executive pay scales, already recommended by the 3rd Pay Revision Committee and therefore, pay scales of the Non-Executives should not be reduced.

The Staff Side strongly demanded that the pay scales of the Non-Executives, already finalized in the Wage Negotiating Committee, through consensus between the Management Side and the Staff Side should not be changed now. They further stated that, the Management have already given their commitment on the floor of the Wage Negotiating Committee, for the revised pay scales of the Non-Executives. The Staff Side questioned why the Management Side is trying to dishonor this commitment. The Staff Side also stated that the BSNL Management has no power to cut down the minimum and the maximum of the pay scales of the Executives, already recommended by the 3rd PRC. Then, why in the name of reducing the expenditure on Pension Contribution, the Management wants to cut down the minimum and the maximum of the already finalized pay scales of the Non-Executives. After listening to the views of the Staff Side, the Director (HR) stated that the views of the Staff Side would be communicated to the Management Side members in the Wage Negotiating Committee.

Management side stated that the Joint Committee for recommending wage revision had been reconstituted at the request of the staff side to revisit the negotiations in the post-VRS scenario. Accordingly, new pay scales had been designed that addressed stagnation to large extent even while minimizing pension contribution. Detailed discussions on the issue lay in the purview of the Joint Committee and a meeting will be convened at the earliest to discuss the standpoints.

British Responses to Genocide Amy E. Grubb,Elisabeth Hope Murray,2022-03-03 This book examines British responses to genocide and atrocity in the Ottoman Empire during the aftermath of World War I The authors analyze British humanitarianism and humanitarian intervention through the advice and policies of the Foreign Office and British government in London and the actions of Foreign Officers in the field British understandings of humanitarianism at the time revolved around three key elements good government atrocity and the refugee crises this ideology of humanitarianism however was challenged by disputed policies of post war politics and goals regarding the Near East This resulted in limited intervention methods available to those on the ground but did not necessarily result in the forfeiture of the belief in humanitarianism amongst the local British officials charged with upholding it This study shows that the tension between altruism and political gain weakened British power in the region influencing the continuation of violence and repression long after the date most perceive as the cessation of WWI The book is primarily aimed at scholars and researchers within the field it is a research monograph and will be of greatest interest to scholars of genocide British history and refugee studies as well as for activists and practitioners What Women Represent Erica Rayment,2024-05-07 Political equity advocates and academics often argue that we must elect more women but what difference does it make if we do What Women Represent shows that women can and do influence the issues raised and the decisions made in parliamentary debate and decision making Using a new framework for thinking about what it means for legislators to represent women and drawing on a database that encompasses five decades of debate in the House of Commons Erica Rayment investigates which members of Parliament represent women and what issues they address She then examines the role women parliamentarians played in two instances where governments threatened to curtail previous gender equality gains the Mulroney government s attempted recriminalization of abortion and the Harper government s plans to cut funding and weaken the mandate of Status of Women Canada Rayment s analysis decisively shows that parliamentary presence matters for the representation of women s interests women MPs regardless of party are more likely to act for women and play a critical role when the rights of women are at stake What Women Represent is the first large scale analysis of the substantive representation of women in Canadian politics adding depth and nuance to our understanding of issues of gender in parliamentary institutions The Cold War Begins in Asia Marc S.
