Mirrors of the Divine Emily R. Cain, 2023-01-30 Mirrors of the Divine brings into focus how four influential authors of the late ancient world Tertullian of Carthage Clement of Alexandria Gregory of Nyssa and Augustine of Hippo employ language of vision and of mirrors in their discursive struggles to construct Christian agency identity and epistemology Early Christian authors described the vision of God through the Pauline verse 1 Corinthians 13:12 For now we see in a mirror dimly but then we will see face to face Yet each author interpreted this verse differently based on a diverse set of assumptions about how they understood seeing and mirrors to function does vision occur by something leaving or entering the eye Is one impacted by seeing or by being seen Do mirrors offer trustworthy knowledge Spanning the second through fourth centuries CE in both Eastern and Western Christianity Mirrors of the Divine analyzes these four authors theological writings on vision and knowledge of God to explore how contradictory theories of sight shaped their cosmologies theologies subjectivities genders and discursive worlds As Emily R Cain demonstrates how the authors portray eyes reveals how they envisioned one's relationship to the world while how they portray mirrors reveals how they imagined the unknown Both have dramatic impacts on how one interprets what it means to see God through a mirror dimly She shows that arguments about the phenomenon of visual perception are deeply intertwined with broader debates about identity agency and epistemology and uncovers some of the most self-conscious ways that late ancient Christians thought of themselves their worlds and their God

The Nature of Metaphysical Thinking NA NA, 2015-12-25

Paul and the Creation of a Counter-Cultural Community Sin-pan Daniel Ho, 2015-02-26 This study offers a new interpretation of 1 Corinthians 5:11-13 Taking a social identity approach Ho investigates the inner logic of Paul from the ears of the Corinthian correspondence Ho argues that Paul consistently indoctrinates new values for the audience to uphold which are against the mainstream of social values in the surrounding society It is shown that Paul does not engage in issues of internal schism per se but rather in the question of the distinctive values insiders should uphold so as to be recognisable to outsiders While church is neither a sectarian nor an accommodating community it should maintain constant social contact with outsiders so as to bring the gospel of Christ to them In addition insiders should practice radical values that could challenge the existing shared social values prevalent in the urban city of Corinth These new values are based mainly on Scripture ancient Jewish literature and the new social identity of the church defined by Jesus Christ This fresh interpretation renders the logical flow unitary design and coherence of 1 Cor 5 11 1 more apparent Geo.
