Mirror Of Souls:

The Mirror of Simple Souls Marguerite Porete,1993 We know very little about Marguerite Porete only that she was a beguine from Hainaut who was burned at the stake as a relapsed heretic in 1310 She might have been a solitary itinerant beguine who expounded her teachings to interested listeners The Mirror of Simple Souls Margaret Porette,1999-05-15 When Dr Romana Guarnieri in a letter to Osservatore Romano 16 June 1946 announced her discovery that Margaret Porette d 1 June 1310 was the author of The Mirror of Simple Souls certainly a major French document of pre Reformation spirituality a sensation was created in the academic world Although The Mirror is one of the few heretical documents to have survived the Middle Ages in its entirety both its title and its authorship were among the most persistent and troublesome problems of scholarly research in the field of medieval vernacular languages The Mirror in its original French survives only in the fifteenth century manuscript which the great Cond Louis II de Bourbon had acquired for his palace at Chantilly And so far as can be known all that remains with which to compare the readings of this manuscript text are those translations of The Mirror which also in manuscript are to be found in Latin Italian and Middle English This edition of The Mirror of Simple Souls is a translation from the French original with interpretive essays by Edmund Colledge O S A Judith Grant and J C Marler and a foreword by Kent Emery Jr The translators of this Modern English version rely primarily on the French yet take other medieval translations into account As a result this edition offers a reading of The Mirror which solves a number of difficulties found in the French and the introductions contributed by the translators narrate the archival history of the book for which Margaret Porette was burned alive in Paris in 1310 Mirror of Souls Wayne Thomas Batson,2021-08-06 In a reckless attempt to reclaim his stolen kingdom Lochlan and his renegade army attack Morlan at his weakest The young king s perilous gambit may win the day but at what cost Abbagael Coldhollow s desperate journey forces her to cross the shrouded borders of the Witchlands There the question that has haunted her soul will be answered once and for all Returning from the Forsaken Continent Telwyn finds Myriad in bloody chaos What can one man do against the tide of tragedy and war A dark excursion to find the Mirrors of Manticore may hold the answer WITNESS THE TERROR OF THE MIRROR The Goddesses' Mirror David R. Kinsley,1989-01-01 Discusses the cultural background and meaning of ten goddesses including Aphrodite Isis Athena Durga Laksmi and Sita The Greatest Mirror Andrei A. Orlov,2017-09-19 The idea of a heavenly double an angelic twin of an earthbound human can be found in Christian Manichaeism Islamic and Kabbalistic traditions Scholars have long traced the lineage of these ideas to Greco Roman and Iranian sources In The Greatest Mirror Andrei A Orlov shows that heavenly twin imagery drew in large part from early Jewish writings The Jewish pseudepigrapha books from the Second Temple period that were attributed to biblical figures but excluded from the Hebrew Bible contain accounts of heavenly twins in the form of spirits images faces children mirrors and angels of the Presence Orlov provides a comprehensive analysis of these traditions in their full historical and interpretive complexity He focuses on heavenly alter

Medieval Crossover Barbara Newman, 2013-05-15 The sacred and the secular in medieval literature have too often been perceived as opposites or else relegated to separate but unequal spheres In Medieval Crossover Reading the Secular against the Sacred Barbara Newman offers a new approach to the many ways that sacred and secular interact in medieval literature arguing that in contrast to our own cultural situation the sacred was the normative unmarked default category against which the secular always had to define itself and establish its niche Newman refers to this dialectical relationship as crossover which is not a genre in itself but a mode of interaction an openness to the meeting or even merger of sacred and secular in a wide variety of forms Newman sketches a few of the principles that shape their interaction the hermeneutics of both and the principle of double judgment the confluence of pagan material and Christian meaning in Arthurian romance the rule of convergent idealism in hagiographic romance and the double edged sword in parody Medieval Crossover explores a wealth of case studies in French English and Latin texts that concentrate on instances of paradox collision and convergence Newman convincingly and with great clarity demonstrates the widespread applicability of the crossover concept as an analytical tool examining some very disparate works These include French and English romances about Lancelot and the Grail the mystical writing of Marguerite Porete placed in the context of lay spirituality lyric traditions and the Romance of the Rose multiple examples of parody sexually obscene shockingly anti Semitic or cleverly litigious and Ren of Anjou s two allegorical dream visions Some of these texts are scarcely known to medievalists others are rarely studied together Newman s originality in her choice of these primary works will inspire new questions and set in motion new fields of exploration for medievalists working in a large variety of disciplines including literature religious studies history and cultural studies bullets left to shoot at the enemy and nowhere do you go from here Intimate Reading Jessica Barr, 2020-04-20 Intimate Reading Textual Encounters in Medieval Women's Visions and Vitae explores the ways that women mystics sought to make their books into vehicles for the reader's spiritual transformation Jessica Barr argues that the cognitive work of reading these texts was meant to stimulate intensely personal responses and that the very materiality of the book can produce an intimate encounter with God She thus explores the differences between mystics' biographies and their self-presentation analyzing as well the complex rhetorical moves that medieval women writers employ to render their accounts more effective This new volume is structured around five case studies Chapters consider the biographies of 13th century holy women from Liège the writings of Margery Kempe Gertrude of Helfta Mechthild of Magdeburg Marguerite Porete and Julian of Norwich At the heart of Intimate Reading is the question of how reading works what it means to enter imaginatively and intellectually into the words of another The volume showcases the complexity of medieval understandings of the work of reading deepening our perception of the written word's capacity to signify something that lies even beyond rational comprehension The Mirror of Oxford Charles B.
