Dickstein,2010-09-06 From Agee to Astaire Steinbeck to Ellington the creative energies of the Depression against a backdrop of poverty and economic disaster In this timely and long awaited cultural history of the 1930s Morris Dickstein whom Norman Mailer called one of our best and most distinguished critics of American literature explores the anxiety and hope the despair and surprising optimism of distressed Americans at a time of dire economic dislocation Bringing together a staggering range of materials from epic Dust Bowl migrations and sharecropper photographs to zany screwball comedies wildly popular swing bands and streamlined Deco designs this eloquent work highlights the pivotal role of culture and government intervention in hard times Exploding the myth that Depression culture was merely escapist it concentrates instead on the dynamic energy and insight the arts could provide and the enormous lift they gave to the nation s morale Dancing in the Dark shows how our worst economic crisis as it eroded American individualism and punctured the American dream produced some of the greatest writing photography and mass entertainment ever seen in this country Asphalt

Nation Jane Holtz Kay,2012-06-20 Asphalt Nation is a major work of urban studies that examines how the automobile has ravaged America s cities and landscape and how we can fight back The automobile was once seen as a boon to American life eradicating the pollution caused by horses and granting citizens new levels of personal freedom and mobility But it was not long before the servant became the master public spaces were designed to accommodate the automobile at the expense of the pedestrian mass transportation was neglected and the poor unable to afford cars saw their access to jobs and amenities worsen Now even drivers themselves suffer as cars choke the highways and pollution and congestion have replaced the fresh air of the open road Today our world revolves around the car as a nation we spend eight billion hours a year stuck in traffic In Asphalt Nation Jane Holtz Kay effectively calls for a revolution to reverse our automobile dependency Citing successful efforts in places from Portland Maine to Portland Oregon Kay shows us that radical change is not impossible by any means She demonstrates that there are economic political architectural and personal solutions that can steer us out of the mess Asphalt Nation is essential reading for everyone interested in the history of our relationship with the car and in the prospect of returning to a world of human mobility Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. DePauw,2017-07-18

Wearable textiles hold their own stories of trade manufacture and regionalism just to name a few they also tell a personal tale of the individuals who created our history When we look at a piece of clothing a coat a dress an undergarment we see an item that is more personal more closely related to the human body than nearly anything else it comes in contact with throughout the day Garments can do far more for exhibitions and interpretation than merely providing a bit of color and beauty Clothing is both artistic and utilitarian and is capable of adding so much to the story of who we are and where we came from The Care and Display of Historic Clothing aims to assist with the full integration of costume collections into the interpretation of the past Often relied on for their ability to add beauty and color to exhibitions these collection items provide a very personal side to any story at a given moment in history The topics explored in this publication range from the care and identification of items in a costume collection to discussions about both physical display and how they can be used to engage audiences The book s focus is on costume collections and discussion topics will include information in regards to costume collection storage display techniques basic identification and ideas on how to incorporate costumes into exhibitions and programming A list of further resources at the back of the book helps provide supplemental in depth information on individual areas The layout of this work will aim to provide information that slowly leads from understanding your costume collection and obtaining physical control to incorporating it in a significant and informative way into the work of the organization Providing all of these resources in one place will make the incorporation of costumes a more obtainable goal for small to mid sized museums and historical societies Everyday Architecture in Context Carmen C.
