Structure and Agency in Young People's Lives Magda Nico, Ana Caetano, 2021-05-12 Structure and Agency in Young People's Lives brings together different takes on the possible combinations of agency and structure in the life course thus rejecting the notion that young individuals are the single masters of their lives but also the view that their social destinies are completely out of their hands How did I get here This is a question young people have always asked themselves and is often asked by youth researchers There is no easy and single answer The lives that are told on one hand and their interpretation on the other may have the underlying idea of own doing or the idea of social determinism or more accurately and frequently a combination of the two This collection constitutes a comprehensive map on how to make sense of youth's biographies and trajectories it questions and reshapes the discussion on the role and responsibility of youth studies in the understanding of how people juggle opportunities and constraints and contributes to escaping what Furlong and Cartmel identified as the epistemological fallacy of late modernity in which young people find themselves responsible for collective failures or inevitabilities It can thus interest students researchers and professors youth workers and all of those who work for and with young people

Poston, 2013-11-11 The completion of this volume would not have been possible without the generous and dedicated help of numerous people The book had its genesis in a conference held at Cornell University in the fall of 1990 that was organized by Dudley Poston Paul Eberts and Michael Hannan all professors at the time at Cornell With the very generous financial assistance of David Call then the dean of Cornell's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences Poston Eberts and Hannan put together a two day conference of lectures and papers by human ecologists from Cornell University and elsewhere The conference focused on sociological human ecology and celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the publication of Amos Hawley's Human Ecology Ronald Press 1950 Professor Hawley was the keynote speaker at the conference Many of the authors of the chapters in this volume presented earlier versions at the Cornell conference in 1990 Cornell's Departments of Rural Sociology and Sociology also contributed financial assistance however without Dean Call's very generous support the conference would not have been possible A few months after the conference Poston and Michael Micklin discussed the possibility of asking the various authors of the Cornell conference papers to revise them for publication in a volume on sociological human ecology Many opted to do so but others did not because of time and other kinds of commitments and constraints
