McCallister,2022-03-28 In A Pedagogical Design for Human Flourishing Transforming Schools with the McCallister Model Cynthia McCallister presents a revolutionary paradigm for education that is practical conceptually convincing and grounded in contemporary behavioral science theory Beginning with the assertion that equality of educational opportunity depends on access to experiences that are sufficiently appropriate and rich to enable the achievement of diverse human potentials she provides a comprehensive school design for intervention that demonstrates how to achieve it Grounded in recent advances in learning science McCallister asserts three necessary conditions for learning the need for learners to have access to diverse rich environmental experiences the need for them to enjoy fundamental freedom and autonomy to direct their own learning and access to full and free forms of association In her model these conditions provide what is necessary for learners to coordinate their minds with others to develop their identities personalities and talents These conditions are animated in concrete procedures that can be adapted to a wide variety of populations in formal informal and remote educational settings The procedures take the form of rules that learners comply with in the exercise of their freedom When they are followed the rules provide a grammar for the social norms that govern the moral worlds of learners and compel them to flourish Tested over two decades in her work as a teacher scholar and school reformer in more than 20 NYC public schools the McCallister Method has delivered an innovative and disruptive approach to schooling that has proven successful in finally transforming low performing industrial schools into 21st century learning organizations Online support material includes assessments records surveys and more to be used in school design and classroom settings ENC Focus ,2000 Situating

Portfolios Kathleen Yancey,1997-02 Situating Portfolios is both reflective and forward looking practice oriented but well grounded in theory Kathleen Yancey and Irwin Weiser bring together thirty one writing teachers from diverse levels of instruction institutional settings and regions to create an inviting volume on current practice in portfolio writing assessment The contributors here reflect on the explosion in portfolio practice over the last decade why it happened what comes next discuss portfolios in hypertext the web and other electronic spaces report on current and new contexts from emergent literacy to faculty development in which portfolios now appear and consider emerging trends and issues that are involving portfolios in teacher assessment faculty development and graduate student experience An energetic volume Situating Portfolios gathers a wide range of experience and thinking into one stimulating discussion It s a book that will be of interest to writing teachers and teacher educators at all levels The Assessment Debate Valerie J. Janesick,2001-11-14 An authoritative reference on one of education's hottest topics describing how the latest testing and assessment tools can be used to help improve student performance In this comprehensive review of the wealth of techniques by which students can be assessed Valerie J Janesick points out that the politics of schooling often gets in the way of student progress High stakes standardized testing is frequently based on poorly constructed unfair tests that encourage teaching to the test which actually impedes educational goals Authentic testing relies more on essays and writing samples performances demonstrations and role plays Although it is fairer and provides a measure of student growth and progress it requires more effort by teachers who also require extra training Besides discussing authentic assessment in detail The Assessment Debate includes a chronology an annotated directory of organizations supporting performance assessment a list of state coordinators for testing reform and state by state report cards

Grading Student Achievement in Higher Education Mantz Yorke, 2007-09-12 A lot hangs on the summative grades that students are given A good degree opens doors which otherwise might remain closed Yet as higher education is now a mass rather than an elite system what is expected of its graduates is different from the expectations of previous generations Students are expected not only to be able to demonstrate high standards of academic achievement but also a variety of capabilities that have at different times been given labels such as generic skills and transferable skills These abilities are difficult to grade for a variety of reasons and some graduates may be losing out because their particular strengths are given insufficient acknowledgement in current summative assessment practices Using the UK honours degree classifications as a case study this book appraises the way in which summative assessment in higher education is approached and shows that the foundations of current practices in the UK and elsewhere are of questionable robustness It argues that there is a need to widen the assessment frame if the breadth of valued student achievements is to be recognised adequately
