Marley, 2012 This book constitutes a very welcome contribution to the public appreciation and scholarly study of Henry Ossawa Tanner a painter of considerable significance in both Europe and America and one whose religious imagery merits careful consideration These well researched essays by an international team of scholars offer substantial reflections on complex issues of race and religion and situate the artist's work and career within the context of his life and times This is a robust framing of Tanner as a cultural phenomenon and one that readers will find quite rewarding David Morgan Professor of Religion at Duke University and author of The Embodied Eye Religious Visual Culture and the Social Life of Feeling Henry Ossawa Tanner has finally been recognized as an important artist in the last twenty years and is now firmly part of the American canon as the first major African American painter to emerge from the academy This book enriches our understanding of Tanner's historic place in American art by considering his work as an early modernist religious artist a status entwined with his race but not defined by it These essays by an impressive collection of scholars are full of

Greene, 2024-08-30 In Grime Glitter and Glass Nikki A. Greene examines how contemporary Black visual artists use sonic elements to refigure the formal and philosophical developments of Black art and culture Focusing on the multimedia art of Ren e Stout Radcliffe Bailey and Mar a Magdalena Campos Pons Greene traces the intersection of the visual's sonic possibilities with the Black body's physical representational and metaphorical use in art She employs her concept of visual aesthetic musicality to interpret Black visual art by examining the musical genres of jazz and rap along with the often overlooked innovations of funk and rumba within art historiography From Bailey's use of multilayered surfaces of glitter mud and recycled materials to meditate on Sun Ra's Afrofuturism to Stout's life sized cast of her own body that recalls funk musician Betty Davis to Campos Pons's performative and sculptural references to sugar that resonate with the legacy of Celia Cruz Greene outlines how these artists use mediums such as molded glass sculptures viscous wet plaster and dazzling manikin heads to enhance the manifestations of Black identity By foregrounding the sonic elements of their work Greene demonstrates that these artists use sound to make themselves legible recognizable and audible Signs and Cities Madhu Dubey, 2007-11-01 Signs and Cities is the first book to consider what it means to speak of a postmodern moment in African American literature Dubey argues that for African American studies postmodernity best names a period beginning in the early 1970s marked by acute disenchantment with the promises of urban modernity and of print literacy Dubey shows how black novelists from the last three decades have reconsidered the modern urban legacy and thus articulated a distinctly African American strain of postmodernism She argues that novelists such as Octavia Butler Samuel Delany Toni Morrison Gloria Naylor Ishmael Reed Sapphire and John Edgar Wideman probe the disillusionment of urban modernity through repeated recourse to tropes of the book and scenes of reading and writing Ultimately she demonstrates that these writers view the book with profound ambivalence construing it as an urban medium that cannot recapture the face to face communities assumed by oral and folk forms of expression A History of the American People Woodrow Wilson, 1902 New York Magazine, 1989-05-01 New York Magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of
