Reading Realism In Stendhal:

Reading Realism in Stendhal Ann Jefferson, Fellow and Tutor in French Ann Jefferson, 1988-03-10 This book poses the question what happens when reading enters the realist process and answers it by way of a critical study of Stendhal's writing Ann Jefferson argues that a recognition of the role of reading in representation is particularly crucial to an understanding of Stendhal's realism and her account includes substantial discussions of De l'Amour Le Rouge et le Noir the Vie de Henry Brulard and La Chartreuse de Parme Her study also draws a number of illuminating parallels between Stendhal and aspects of modern critical theory and uses them in order to reveal the high degree of sophistication and self-consciousness in Stendhal's writing qualities which are attributed here to the intensity of his preoccupation with his readers By focusing on the issue of reading in Stendhal this book not only proposes a reassessment of Stendhal's own work but also opens up lines of enquiry on the critical problem that is realism

Stendhal Roger Pearson, 2014-09-11 Both critic and writer Stendhal has now become established as one of realism's founding fathers Dr Pearson's book maps out for the first time the critical reception of Stendhal's two most widely read novels The Red and the Black and The Charterhouse of Parma since their publication in 1830 and 1839 respectively In part one he provides generous samples of the most important nineteenth century responses to the novels almost all of them translated into English for the first time Part two presents a full range of the most authoritative and influential readings since 1945 which illustrate a wide variety of critical approaches

Empathy and the Strangeness of Fiction Maria C. Scott, 2020-03-02 Explores how and why narrative fiction engages empathy including Theory of Mind Offers a broad overview of current scientific work on the effects of fiction reading on empathy including Theory of Mind Provides an original intervention in the field of literary theory centring on the reflexive properties of the fictional stranger Includes stand alone close readings of three novels by important French authors This book studies recent psychological findings which suggest that reading fiction cultivates empathy encouraging us to be critically reflective suspicious readers as well as participatory naïve readers Scott draws on literary theory and close readings to argue that engagement with fictional stories also teaches us to resist uncritical forms of empathy and reminds us of the limitations of our ability to understand other people The book treats figures of the stranger in Balzac's La Fille aux yeux d'or Stendhal's Le Rouge et le Noir and Sand's Indiana as emblematic of the strangeness of narrative fiction both drawing us in and keeping us at a distance

Stendhal Francesco Manzini, 2019-10-15 This is a book about the life and work of a singular writer an author well known for his biographies and travel writing but most famous for his novels The Red and the Black and The Charterhouse of Parma As a child Stendhal witnessed the unfolding of the French Revolution as a young man he served Napoleon first as a soldier and then as an administrator and as a middle aged man he made it his task not to pursue his career but instead to take as much paid leave as possible in order to be free and to be happy and to write Stendhal's works often take the form of conversations with his readers the Happy Few as he called them about the things that matter most He once claimed that he spent the majority of his life carefully considering five or six main ideas This book makes clear what those main ideas were why they mattered to Stendhal and why they continue to matter to all of us The Facts on File Companion to the French Novel Karen L. Taylor,2006 French novels such as Madame Bovary and The Stranger are staples of high school and college literature courses This work provides coverage of the French novel since its origins in the 16th century with an emphasis on novels most commonly studied in high school and college courses in world literature and in French culture and civilization The Habit of Lying John Vignaux Smyth,2002-03-18 An investigation of deceit and concealment that proposes a new theory of fiction both as a new genre of literature and as a strategy in the social world

Comparative Criticism: Volume 12, Representations of the Self E. S. Shaffer,1990-09-27 This volume explores a theme that has become central in our time as the death of God is widely seen to be succeeded by the death of Man Our contributors set forth its urgency in a variety of contexts Among these Peter Stern gives the paradigmatic history of the bereft damaged and repudiated self in German philosophy and literature from Kleist to Ernst Jilnger In Not I Michael Edwards pursues the theological and psychological consequences of a self without substance Peter France supplies a witty account of the marriage of self and commerce more at home in the eighteenth century tradition of British empiricism and the challenge of Rousseau s refusal of the terms of commerce Raman Selden explores views of the self from the Romantics to the poststructuralists Roger Cardinal probes the secret diary is the genre a contradiction in terms Stephen Bann explores the representations of Narcissus in recent psychoanalytic theory Other contributors include Pierre Dupuy David James Julie Scott Meisami Gregory Blue Mark Ogden and A D Nuttall Stendhal's Parallel Lives Francesco Manzini,2004 This book deals with the important and hitherto neglected relationship between the works of Stendhal and Plutarch s Parallel Lives Stendhal s readings of Plutarch are shown to inform his literary representations of Revolution and Empire Restoration and Orleanism as well as his theorizations of Romanticism In particular the Plutarchan concept of Parallel Lives is used to analyse one of the major themes of Stendhal s writing the self construction of individual identity whether auto biographical or fictional by means of the emulation as distinct from the imitation of heroic exemplars As a consequence the balance between irony and idealism often identified by critics in Stendhal s work is shown rather to be an imbalance weighted in favour of an idealism derived from Plutarchan conceptions of heroism particularly as they are represented in the Lives of Julius Caesar and Marcus Brutus

Stendhal's Less-Loved Heroines Maria C. Scott,2017-12-02 Stendhal s most independent heroines are usually disliked or marginalized by critics However when gender neutral criteria are applied Mina de Vanghel Vanina Vanini Mathilde de La Mole and Lamiel can all be shown to enact extraordinary experiments in freedom These experiments are all the more remarkable in view of the gender of their agents the historical situation of the author 1783 1842 and the conventions of the literary movement that his fiction helped to found realism Simone de Beauvoir s 1949 study of Stendhal s heroines gives preference to the reserved females over his Amazons But existentialism as a philosophy of freedom also enables a reading of the self determining heroines that acknowledges the superiority of their choices their resistance and counter plots their paradoxical authenticity their rejection of seriousness and their assumption of responsibility for the routes they plot The Oxford Handbook of Global Realisms Vaysman,2025-11-04 Realism is an artistic practice that aims to faithfully represent reality Historically it has been practiced across different media from early pictorial art and epic oral narratives through literature and visual arts to film music and digital media However an understanding of what it means to faithfully represent reality is not universal rather it varies from culture to culture The Oxford Handbook of Global Realisms approaches realism as a transnational transhistorical and intermedial global phenomenon It brings the diversity of global realisms to the fore showcasing previously underrepresented and marginalized theories practices forms and media of realist cultural production
