Reading Roddy Doyle Irish Studies Hardcover:

Reading the Contemporary Irish Novel 1987 - 2007 Liam Harte, 2013-11-07 Reading the Contemporary Irish Novel 1987 2007 is the authoritative guide to some of the most inventive and challenging fiction to emerge from Ireland in the last 25 years. Meticulously researched, it presents detailed interpretations of novels by some of Ireland's most eminent writers. This is the first text focused critical survey of the Irish novel from 1987 to 2007, providing detailed readings of 11 seminal Irish novels. A timely and much needed text in a largely uncharted critical field. Provides detailed interpretations of individual novels by some of the country's most critically celebrated writers including Sebastian Barry, Roddy Doyle, Anne Enright, Patrick McCabe, John McGahern, Edna O'Brien, and Colm Tóibín. Investigates the ways in which Irish novels have sought to deal with and reflect a changing Ireland. The fruit of many years reading, teaching, and research on the subject by a leading and highly respected academic in the field. The Canadian Journal of Irish Studies, 2004 Irish Literature Mary Ketsin, 2004. Irish literature's roots have been traced to the 7th-9th century. This is a rich and hardy literature starting with descriptions of the brave deeds of kings, saints, and other heroes. These were followed by generous veins of religious, historical, genealogical, scientific, and other works. The development of prose, poetry, and drama raced along with the times. Modern well-known Irish writers include William Yeats, James Joyce, Sean Casey, George Bernard Shaw, Oscar Wilde, John Synge, and Samuel Beckett. Irish University Review, 2001. A journal of Irish studies. Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2001-06. Books Ireland, 2004. Irish Economic and Social History, 2007. Kliatt Young Adult Paperback Book Guide, 2000. Irish America, 2001. John Banville Dr. John Kenny, 2009. John Banville is an accessible yet detailed study that brings to the surface many of the hidden depths of one of the major writers of contemporary Irish and world fiction. It mediates between two existing kinds of critical work on Banville: novel by novel introductions and specialised academic analyses. While it approaches some of Banville's works individually, its discussions are arranged thematically, thus demonstrating the overall patterns in his oeuvre and in his literary thinking. With a close eye on chronology, the book begins by establishing the intellectual and cultural contexts of the oeuvre and its reception, then provides readings of Banville's Irish themes, his crucial theories of the Imagination, his thematic preoccupation with morality and immorality, his idiosyncratic devotion to a self-reflexive art. Work of all Banville's periods is covered, from his first book Long Lankin (1970) to his Man Booker winning novel The Sea (2005) and his recent popular fiction written under a pseudonym. Rather than incorporating the frameworks of the existing Banville criticism, one of this book's major benefits is that it allows the author to speak for himself at all stages, by referring to all his principal statements on his art and worldview. The discussions here are all attentive to those who may be in the early stages of familiarity with Banville, so that the general application of ideas and arguments can be understood without firsthand or detailed knowledge of the works under discussion. Those who are well acquainted with the Banville oeuvre will also find new aspects of emphasis and suggestion. A number of important items from Banville's career as a literary essayist and reviewer are used in the chapters and the book is thus a good starting point for readers wishing to further develop their interest
