100 Ideas for Primary Teachers: Engaging Parents Janet Goodall, Kathryn Weston, 2018-11-29 No matter what you teach there is a 100 Ideas title for you The 100 Ideas series offers teachers practical easy to implement strategies and activities for the classroom Each author is an expert in their field and is passionate about sharing best practice with their peers Each title includes at least ten additional extra creative Bonus Ideas that won't fail to inspire and engage all learners Parental engagement with children's learning is the best lever we have to raise achievement in schools However there is a gap between what is known from the research and actual practice at the chalkface in schools

Parents are still often seen as helping the school rather than having a direct role in their children's learning. Bringing together one of the main researchers in the field and an educational consultant, this book utilises their experience to present 100 evidence-based ideas to help primary teachers engage parents in their children's learning. 100 Ideas for Primary Teachers Engaging Parents presents ideas for supporting the most effective forms of parental engagement which are grounded in both the literature in the field and practical experience of working with schools and families. This book offers a clear, concise and easy-to-use format that takes into account how busy schools and teachers truly are. Raising an Active Reader Samantha Cleaver, 2020-05-18. This book will prove a valuable resource for parents, teachers and librarians on the vital topic of reading aloud. Library Journal Starred Review. Parents and teachers know that reading aloud to children is important and many parents of infants and toddlers read aloud to them daily. However, when children start to read on their own, parents often stop reading aloud. But these early elementary school years are actually a perfect time to build vocabulary and comprehension skills through reading aloud and Active Reading. Raising an Active Reader makes clear the process of learning to read, how Active Reading fits into raising strong readers and what adults can do to encourage strong language comprehension and vocabulary in children in grades K-3. This book extends on the ABCs of Active Reading: Ask Questions, Build Vocabulary and make Connections as they apply to older children for picture books, chapter books and novels. It provides parents and teachers with examples, clear explanations and ideas for making one-on-one or small group read-aloud sessions a powerful way to build children's early literacy and language skills all while creating a lifelong love of reading.

Christian parenting is not easy. Any parenting is not easy, especially when big business interferes with the education of your child. Author Sylvia McCrory and collaborator Melissa Wingfield have researched the perils of rearing children in today's climate and in An Inside Look at Education they present facts every parent should know about twenty-first century education in America and how it could be better for all children. McCrory and Wingfield, who have a host of knowledge and skills in the education field, understand Christian parents want to lead their children on a path to God. But how do you do this when temptation is everywhere? Our children spend so much time away from us. How do we help them? This guide offers a wealth of information about the trials of parenthood in current times, offering solid facts to assist you in making informed decisions about your children's development. With study guides included, An Inside Look at Education helps parents gain a deeper, fuller love for God and find Christian roots and foundations to establish within your family to rear your children as Christians.

Collaborating for Real Literacy Sharon M. Pitcher, Bonnie Mackey, 2013-03-21. Advances in literacy require collaboration between all of a school's stakeholders. This book harnesses the latest research and takes into consideration CCSS to show how to make that collaboration a reality Authentic literacy practice is crucial to preparing all students to be successful both in the workplace and college in the 21st century Insisting that this literacy achievement will only happen when librarians teachers literacy coaches and administrators work together in their schools Collaborating for Real Literacy addresses the role of each instructional leader individually and examines the importance of the group collectively in bolstering the literacy of all students Practical ways to support the teaching of the Common Core State Standards CCSS are infused throughout every chapter In this second edition of the book core chapters on scaffolding literacy centers family literacy English language learners comprehension assessment writing and discussion have been updated based on current research and CCSS Each of these chapters now offers suggestions for literacy coaches Also new are recommendations for grades K 5 and 6 12 demonstrating specific ways to apply instructional ideas to different age levels and providing materials that can be used for the instruction Additionally three new chapters have been added with real literacy instructional ideas for content area reading and Response to Intervention support for struggling readers
