Readings in Welfare Economics; a Selection of Papers From the Review of Economic Studies, Edited by M.J. Farrell Michael James Farrell (Comp),1973 Readings in welfare economics. A selection of papers from the review of economic studies M.J. Farrell,1973 Readings in Welfare Economics; a Selection of Papers From the Review of Economic Studies, Edited by M. J. Farrell Michael James Farrell (Comp),1973 Issues in Contemporary Economics George R. Feiwel,1985-06-18 The United Nations and the Rationale for Collective Intelligence Bassey Ekpe,2009 Taking as its central argument the question of whether an intelligence system is both desirable and feasible within the UN structure this study explores the complex and sometimes irreconcilable issues of strategic intelligence in a sharing context This study further identifies and develops both conceptual and empirical framework for a viable intelligence capability in multi agency institutions exploring and suggesting for the first time necessary and acceptable conditions for collective intelligence in an environment characterised by conflicting objectives among international actors It takes as its main premise the view that the United Nations and the world of intelligence are two separate and contradicting entities that conflict in both principles and operating doctrines From this point of view the author explores the many theoretical imperatives which set the two institutions apart and stand in the way of understanding the concepts He also goes further to examine the contexts in which the contradictions could be harmonised This book is one of a handful of studies it is highly original in that it focuses on the relationship between intelligence and the United Nations While previous efforts to examine the subject have approached it from a strictly practical point of view this work is clearly focused on the linkages between theory and practice The methodology is thoughtful and broad in scope and the work is theoretically well informed and sophisticated in its analysis of the subject matter The discussion of aspects of the theory of international relations specifically those relevant to the role of international governance and the examination of the working of the UN and several case studies of the UN in action are further characteristics of the rigor and clarity in which the author approaches the study in an intelligent and illuminating manner While the book s many contributions can be found at various levels of originality its thorough assessment of the linkage between theory and policy stands out perhaps as the most important and primary contribution to the areas of collective intelligence and international relations Other important contributions include the case study analyses and specification of criteria for evaluating collective security intelligence mechanisms In essence a lack of scholarly efforts to ground the notion of collective intelligence within a rigorous intellectual framework is a significant vacuum in the study of intelligence which the present study has filled Scholars working within the international relations discipline and more specifically issues of global governance and security will find this study invaluable The book should also appeal to many categories of readers working in information and policy environment as well as governmental and non governmental organisations Democracy and Welfare Economics Hans van den Doel,Ben van Velthoven,1993-07-22 This book is a fully revised and updated version of Hans van den Doel's Democracy and Welfare Economics. It presents the economic theory of political decision making otherwise known as new political economy or public choice providing students with an accessible and clear introduction to this important subject. The authors identify four different methods of decision making by which the political process transforms the demands of individual citizens into government policy and these are analyzed in turn with reference to economic theory. Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1976 Index of Economic Articles Mark Perlman, 1978 Documents on and from the History of Economic Thought and Methodology Warren J. Samuels, Jeff E. Biddle, Ross B. Emmett, 2008-06-16 Contains five sets of lectures taken by Glenn Johnson as a doctoral student in economics at the University of Chicago during 1946-7. This volume also includes notes by Mark Ladenson at Northwestern and from a faculty seminar at MSU on comparative method. Economic justice; selected readings, 1973
