Readings In Russian Poetics Formalist And Structuralist Views:

Readings in Russian Poetics Ladislav Matejka, Krystyna Pomorska, 1971 A collection of the most important contributions concerning the Formalist school most of them translated for the first time from the Russian or the Czech Readings in Russian Poetics Ladislav Matejka, Krystyna Pomorska, 1978 Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture Realism and 'reality' in Film and Media Anne Jerslev, 2002 The 2002 theme of Northern Lights is dedicated to the representation of reality in film TV and new media a question of new importance in modern film and media where a new wave of realism has dominated cinema and reality TV became a mass phenomena on both TV and the internet Eleven articles by Danish British and American film and media researchers focus on two sub themes Film and Realism deals theoretically with film realism and analyses classic films and modern Danish Dogma films Documentary Forms Reality TV and New Media treats new forms of non fiction film TV and on the internet in a both theoretical and historical perspective Handbook for Biblical Interpretation W. Randolph Tate, 2012-11-01 This handbook provides a comprehensive guide to methods terms and concepts used by biblical interpreters It offers students and non specialists an accessible resource for understanding the complex vocabulary that accompanies serious biblical studies Articles arranged alphabetically explain terminology associated with reading the Bible as literature clarify the various methods Bible scholars use to study biblical texts and illuminate how different interpretive approaches can contribute to our understanding Article references and topical bibliographies point readers to resources for further study This handbook now updated and revised to be even more useful for students was previously published as Interpreting the Bible A Handbook of Terms and Methods It is a suitable complement to any standard hermeneutics textbook The Genre of Acts and Collected Biography Sean A. Adams, 2013-10-17 It is widely accepted by New Testament scholars that the Gospel of Luke and the Acts of the Apostles probably originated as two parts of one work by a single author In spite of this the books have been assigned to very different genres Luke is traditionally viewed as a biography of Jesus and Acts as a history of the early church Comparing in detail the structure and content of Acts with the formal features of history novel epic and biography Sean A Adams challenges this division Applying both ancient and modern genre theory he argues that the best genre parallel for the Acts of the Apostles is in fact collected biography Offering a nuanced and sophisticated understanding of genre theory along with an insightful argument regarding the composition and purpose of Acts this book will be of interest to those studying the New Testament Acts genre theory and ancient literature Rewriting the Thirties

Keith Williams, Steven Matthews, 2014-09-25 Rewriting the Thirties questions the myth of the anti modernist decade Conversely the editors argue it is a symptomatic transitional phase between modern and post modern writing and politics at a time of cultural and technological change The text reconsiders some of the leading writers of the period in the light of recent theoretical developments through essays on the ambivalent assimilation of Modernist influences among proletarian and canonical novelists including James Barke and George Orwell and among poets including Auden MacNeice Swingler and Bunting and in the work of feminist writers Vera Brittain and Winifred Holtby In this substantial remapping the complexity and scope of literary critical debate at the time is discussed in relation to theatrical innovation audience attitudes to the mass medium of modernity cinema the poetics of suburbia consumerism and national ideology as well as the discursive strategies of British and American documentarism

Theatre Theory Reader: Prague School Writings David Drozd, 2017-03-01 This is precisely the book I have been looking out for ever since working at my Das Drama Theorie und Analyse 1977 The Theory and Analysis of Drama 1988 and discovering from a few specimens the incisive usefulness and importance of Prague School theatre semiotics There is everything one could possibly wish for in this monumental Theatre Theory Reader Prague School Writings all the by now canonical texts and many others presented for the first time in English arranged in a systematic order which fully renders the sense of the scope and development of Czech theatre semiotics and all of them in highly competent translations aware of the terminological complexities at stake and supported by helpful annotations With such a rich harvest garnered this anthology of Prague School Writings is bound to become nationally as well as internationally a prime work of reference and give to them a second lease of life in the 21st century Manfred Pfister Modern theatre theory no matter what its orientation can trace its roots back to the structuralist and semiotic explorations of the Prague School in the early twentieth century This comprehensive and informed overview is therefore most welcome in understanding the course and development of that theoretical tradition It is not however of purely historical interest important as that is Whether they use the terminology of the Prague School or evoke the names of its contributors analysts of theatre and performance today still find the strategies and articulations of those pioneers of ongoing relevance This collection thus provides an important double service providing contemporary theatre scholars with a clearer idea of where they have come from and an inspiration for where they may be going Marvin Carlson I think it is a great idea not to group the articles according to the different authors but following a systematic that covers as many aspects of theatre as possible This way it becomes quite clear that the theories of the so called Prague or Czech structuralists and semioticians were able to apply their theories when discussing most diverging questions related to theatre The choice of texts is excellent It makes more than clear that these theories are not outdated do not only have historical value and are interesting with regard to the history of ideas only Rather it becomes evident that they are highly relevant in the context of discussions led today Erika Fischer Lichte The Prague School and the Czech structuralism have had a considerable impact on the development of semiotic studies and theatre studies at large in the 1960s and 70s But this has been quickly forgotten and with the rise of poststructuralism and deconstruction in the 80s and 90s they were not only neglected but also unjustly disregarded or even forgotten This is why the Theatre Theory Reader Prague School Writings is a very welcome book which comes at the right moment when postmodernism poststructuralism and postdramatic theatre seem to have lost their momentum as if the requirements of today's quest for a new way of living and of making business had become so strong that we must go back to the basics Structuralism and a critique of ideology are now back at least as a sign to not give up thinking and theorizing in a world which has become self centred and mad The afterword by Pavel Dr bek Martin Bern tek Andrea Jochmanov and Eva laisov is a sort of book within the book as it neatly puts in perspective all the important names and theories of the Prague School It does this in a very user friendly manner where complex theories are summarized in a clear yet precise introduction This makes the reading of the different chapters easier and immediately connected to our contemporary way of thinking Patrice Pavis A Poetic for Sociology Richard Harvey Brown, 1989-03-07 For too long argues Richard Harvey Brown social scientists have felt forced to choose between imitating science's empirical methodology and impersonating a romantic notion of art the methods of which are seen as primarily a matter of intuition interpretation and opinion Developing the idea of a cognitive aesthetic Brown shows how both science and art as well as the human studies that stand between them depend on metaphoric thinking as their logic of discovery and may be assessed in terms of such aesthetic criteria of adequacy as economy elegance originality scope congruence and form By recognizing this aesthetic common ground between science and art Brown demonstrates that a fusion can be achieved within the human sciences of these two principal ideals of knowledge the scientific or positivist one and the artistic or intuitive one A path then is opened for creating a knowledge of ourselves and society which is at once objective and subjective at once valid scientifically and significantly humane Translation as Systemic Interaction Heidemarie Salevsky, Ina Müller, 2011-01-01 Studying the nature of translation theory and offering the reasons for success or failure of translation this book is for anyone with an academic or professional interest in translation It presents a new approach combining a complex model of reality and a biocybernetic computeraided methodology for the study of translation processes The study is discussing translation as systemic interaction and connecting for the first time Translation Studies with biocybernetics fuzzy logic information theory intercultural communication action theory psychology and various technical disciplines including Russian German and English examples It is a breakthrough in the understanding of irregularities in translation processes in theory and practice as well as in the training of translators and interpreters Dr Heidemarie Salevsky is professor of Translation Studies at Okan University Istanbul and worked as an interpreter translator and lector She was Head of the Translation Studies Department at Humboldt University in Berlin and professor of Translation Studies and Technical Communication in Magdeburg She was a visiting professor at the Universities of New York Binghamton Heidelberg Innsbruck and Vienna Dr Ina M ller works as a research assistant at the Academy of Sciences and Literature in Mainz She worked as a graduate technical translator and lecturer
