The Merchant of Venice

Act 1, Scene 2

Close Reading Exercise

PORTIA

By my troth, Nerissa, my little body is aware of this great world.

NERISSA

You would be, sweet madam, if your miseries were in the same abundance as your good fortunes are; and yet, for aught I see, they are as sick that surfeit with too much as they that starve with nothing. It is no mean happiness therefore, to be seated in the mean: superfluity comes sooner by white hairs, but competency lives longer.

PORTIA

10 Good sentences and well pronounced.

NERISSA

They would be better, if well followed.

PORTIA

If to do were as easy as to know what were good to do, chapels had been churches and poor men's cottages princes' palaces. It is a good divine that follows his own instructions: I can easier teach twenty what were good to be done, than be one of the twenty to follow mine own teaching. The brain may devise laws for the blood, but a hot temper leaps o'er a cold decree: such a hare is madness the youth, to skip o'er the meshes of good counsel the cripple. But this reasoning is not in the fashion to choose me a husband. O me, the word "choose!" I may neither choose whom I would nor refuse whom I dislike; so is the will of a living daughter curbed by the will of a dead father. Is it not hard, Nerissa, that I cannot choose one nor refuse none?

NERISSA

Your father was ever virtuous; and holy men at their death have good inspirations: therefore the lottery, that he hath devised in these three chests of gold, silver and lead, whereof who chooses his meaning chooses you, will, no doubt, never be chosen by any rightly but one who shall rightly love. But what warmth is there in your affection towards any of these princely suitors that are already come?

1. Compare and contrast Portia and Antonio. In other words, in what ways are Portia and Antonio similar and different? Cite specific textual evidence in support of claims. Refer to the first scene of Act 1, if needed.

2. According to Portia and Nerissa, what creates satisfaction in life?

3. What is a dominant external conflict Portia experiences in this scene? Explain.

4. In lines 19 and 20, Portia says, "Such a hare is madness the youth." In the context of the passage, what is the best interpretation of comparing a hare to a young person?

- A. Like an animal, young people do not understand the consequences of their actions.
- B. Like an animal, young people are too uneducated to make good decisions.
- C. Like an animal, young people act on impulse and are difficult to reason with.
- D. Like an animal, young people instinctively know when danger lurks nearby.

5. Refer to the highlighted portion of lines 22 through 26. Explain the irony of Portia's situation.
