The Construction of the Saxon Shore Forts Andrew Pearson, 1999 Saxon Identities, AD 150-900 Robert Flierman, 2017-07-13 This study is the first up to date comprehensive analysis of Continental Saxon identity in antiquity and the early middle ages Building on recent scholarship on barbarian ethnicity this study emphasises not just the constructed and open ended nature of Saxon identity but also the crucial role played by texts as instruments and resources of identity formation This book traces this process of identity formation over the course of eight centuries from its earliest beginnings in Roman ethnography to its reinvention in the monasteries and bishoprics of ninth century Saxony Though the Saxons were mentioned as early as AD 150 they left no written evidence of their own before c 840 Thus for the first seven centuries we can only look at the Saxons through the eyes of their Roman enemies Merovingian neighbours and Carolingian conquerors Such external perspectives do not yield objective descriptions of a people but rather reflect an ongoing discourse on Saxon identity in which outside authors described who they imagined wanted or feared the Saxons to be dangerous pirates noble savages bestial pagans or faithful subjects Significantly these outside views deeply influenced how ninth century Saxons eventually came to think about themselves using Roman and Frankish texts to reinvent the Saxons as a noble and Christian people The Romans in Britain Brenda Williams, 2004-04 Look out for more Pitkin Guides on the very best of British history heritage and travel specially other titles in the Pitkin History of Britain series Suitable for Key Stages 3 and 4 of the National Curriculum More titles in the History of Britain Series London in the Roman World Dominic Perring, 2022 This original study draws on the results of latest archaeological discoveries to describe London s Roman origins It offers a wealth of new information from one of the world s richest and most intensively studied archaeological sites War and Warfare in Late Antiquity (2 vols.), 2013-08-19 This two volume publication explores the key factors determining the course and outcome of war in Late Antiquity Volume 8 1 includes a detailed review of strategic and tactical issues and eight comprehensive bibliographic essays which provide an overview of the literature In Volume 8 2 thematic papers examine strategy and intelligence fortifications and siege warfare weaponry and equipment literary sources and topography and civil war while papers focused on particular geographic regions home in on war and warfare in the West Roman Empire in the 4th and 5th centuries and the Balkans and the Eastern frontier in the 4th to 7th centuries AD Contributors are Susannah Belcher Neil Christie Ian Colvin John Conyard Jon Coulston Jim Crow Florin Curta Hugh Elton James Howard Johnston Jordi Galbany setting The impetus for this collection was the recently published designs for a new nuclear power station at Bradwell on Sea which if built would have a significant impact on the chapel and its landscape setting St Peter on the Wall highlights the multiple ways in which the chapel and landscape are historically and archaeologically significant while also drawing attention to the modern importance of Bradwell as a place of Christian worship of sanctuary and of cultural production In analysing the significance of the chapel and surrounding landscape over more than a thousand years this collection additionally contributes to wider debates about the relationship between space and place and particularly the interfaces between both medieval and modern cultures and also heritage and the natural environment Journal of the Australian Early Medieval Association
